Postmodern LIBERALISM

(An Obsessive Epidemic)

Synopsis:

Postmodern LIBERALISM is a narrative of our political reality and the worst attack on Western Civilization by a weird political/religious alliance: Liberals+Democratic Party + Hollywood Elite +LGBTQ+Mainstream Media-+The Left +Washington Establishment, all renamed by the Author as “Postmodern LIBERALISM”

But the Islamist,? Do they fit?

J. Pelegrin gives us a thrilling vision of the perils involved in such alliance, a vivid comparison with the old Scriptures and the absolute need to re-think future strategies to make our World a better place to live and develop a civilized modern Moral Society.

The extremes are always to be avoided, and this is our people's opportunity to re-think which way to go, to achieve a successful heritage for the generations to come.

A serious book. ...A must read.

FOREWORD:

Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson, appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, wrote in the foreword of the book "Law in the Middle East" (1955): "Islamic Law offers the American lawyer a study in dramatic contrasts. Even casual acquaintance and superficial knowledge reveal that its striking features relative to our law are not likenesses but inconsistencies, not similarities but contrarities. In its source, its scope, and its sanctions, the law of the Middle East is the direct opposite of Western law."

-----oOo-----

The 'Free Exercise Clause' of our Constitution states that Congress cannot "prohibit the free exercise" of religious practices. The Supreme Court of the United States has consistently held, however, that the right to free exercise of religion is not absolute.

For example, in the 19th century, some of the members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints traditionally practiced polygamy, yet in Reynolds v. United States (1879), the Supreme Court upheld the criminal conviction of one of these members under a federal law banning polygamy. The Court reasoned that to do otherwise would set a precedent for a full range of religious beliefs including those as extreme as human sacrifice.

The court stated that "laws are made for the government of actions, and while they cannot interfere with mere religious belief and opinions, they may do it with practices." for example, if one were part of a religion that believed in vampirism, the first amendment would protect one's belief in vampirism, but not the practice.

-----oOo-----

However, in my mind hangs the idea of why, in 1801, the Muslim, who are Islamists, engaged in a war with the United States and it was contested by two Presidents, why now, our Judges are defending a consuetudinary foe that continues to decimate our people and attempting to defy our Constitution and Lifestyle?

I am no Constitutional Lawyer, but it makes common sense that we have to revise our Constitutional Laws and to be more Patriots, rather than continue to defend others in detriment of our people.

Religious freedom, the essence of the First Amendment is great, but the Koran is not only opposed to our Constitution but also aggressive to it. Their primary goal is destroying our Republican values, our Democracy and our Bill of Rights.

Why then, we continue to observe and grant the Islam a privilege, when the Koran is definitively a threat to our lifestyle and what our Constitution stands for?

Postmodern LIBERALISM

By J. Pelegrin

Prologue.

My intention in writing this book.

The Postmodern Liberal Epidemic.

We have a big problem in the United States, which affects not only us, but the whole World. A Postmodern Liberal Epidemic.

In America, it can be identified as Liberalism, although I took the liberty to rename it, accordingly with the present developments as Postmodern Liberalism, an entirely new version of the old world's understanding. I will get into details why, in the following chapters.

The alliance between several different groups, some of them strongly opposed to the others are not new, although the names have evolved thru the times, in various fashions accordingly with the regions in the Planet. The old phrase: "My enemies enemy is my friend." it is still valid.

Right now there is a common enemy to the Left, who commands the overall efforts, and whoever is against Conservatives, they are ganging up together.

Since the beginning of the nineteen century, the founders of the Quantum Mechanics: Nobel Prize winner, Laureate Niels Bohr (1885-1962) and Erwin Schrödinger (1887-1961), and later Werner Heisenberg (1901-1976), stated that "Quantum theory will not look ridiculous to people who have read 'Vedanta.'" (The conclusion of Vedic thought.)

But Schrodinger went a little further writing in his biographical work: "Vedanta teaches that consciousness is singular, all happenings are played out in one universal consciousness, and there is no multiplicity of selves."

Also, the greatest mind of our times: Albert Einstein, acknowledged his regular reading of the Vedic knowledge, recognizing the absoluteness of Krishna, the Supreme Being.

Robert Oppenheimer (1904 – 1967), stated: "The Vedas are the greatest privilege of this century."

Strangely, the Vedic philosophy has remained apart from the main discussion. I ignore the reason.

However, because I have acquired a vast knowledge of the Vedic philosophy, I insist we must include it in the evaluation of the present discussion. It is too valuable to dismiss it.

I must agree that the Vedic knowledge is not easy to understand.

The Vedic intricate, elaborate language, the citations, personalities, demi-Gods, fantastic places and a significant portion of metaphoric language makes Vedic understanding quite difficult, although once you recognize the writing style, it becomes passionately addicting and immensely educating.

I was lucky enough to be introduced to Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupada, and most important, his philosophical work, wisdom, and kindness. Prabhupada is a Worldwide recognized authority in Vedic knowledge.

After engaging in servicing the Supreme Personality of God, Lord Krishna, he accepted me as his disciple, and that changed my life entirely and forever.

So, the introduction to consciousness was the key that allowed me to enter another dimension: The Spiritual World.

However, nowadays a particular phenomenon is dominating our society: the greatest sociopolitical division ever is driving our lives crazy, and causing a disrupting feeling, as never occurred before.

The antagonism between the mutating Liberal ideologies, which I call now the Postmodern Liberalism, is dangerously increasing an enmity toward the Conservative Movement at present times, reaching the hatred zone.

So, my thoughts can't get away from the current times, which significantly dominate the scene and keeps me focused on what is happening now. I hope I don't become repetitive in excess, although repetition of the issues helps the understanding.

The drug culture is the favorite weapons the enemies of the Western Culture use trying to destroy it, and the sexual liberation completes the scene to a real chaos.

They know the weakness that prosperity brings and the Western society is falling into the trap.

The providers are well identified on the political Left, the Islam, the totalitarian right wing, and the mafia runs the distribution ring.

The successful fools and the losers are their clients.

The LGBTQ does the rest.

Western civilization women, caught up by their economic success are restricting the newborn, avoiding to divide the cake into smaller pieces, while in the Islamic faith, baby's production is at full speed ahead. Their motto: "At the end, the Islam will prevail because our women bear more children than any other group."

However, the Western Civilization's people, by restricting the newborns are undermining the defenses against the enemies.

Besides, the Postmodern Liberals insist to making the modern world a genderless society. Something materialistically impossible, although they only care about the "feelings," an apparent illusion.

While this is happening, the allies are frantically working to take advantage of the system's weakening.

But, who are the opponents to Western Civilization? A coalition has been formed by the Liberals (including the LGBTQ), the Democratic Party, Communists, Socialists, Anarchists, Fascists, Nazis and the odd addition of the Islamist.

I call the group, the Postmodern Liberalism. They are led by the LGBTQ, as always looking for social recognition. It is no longer enough the social tolerance to their inconvenient behavior.

Now, people, especially conservatives are required to change their minds and applaud their disruptive public lifestyle and the shift into an impulsive liberality that is degrading society, as we know.

It seems the goal might be a kind of "Sodom and Gomorrah" nowadays.

Remembering my youth in South America, I could recall many clashes with the prior generations. Fortunately, my dear parents were the kind of individuals that always took the cultural changes in a natural way, understanding or trying to understand the young people's need for those changes.

South-American youngsters, with practically a lack of factual information, tried to copy the changes generated by another entirely different culture, coming from the USA and Europe. Unfortunately, the Vedic knowledge was absent from our region.

South-American countries never suffered the horrors of wars like the US or Europe, except at the time of the America's Conquest.

The only information received at the time of the World Wars, Korean War and others, was only acquired watching the newsreels showed as previews before the feature film at the theaters.

The information was reduced to a couple of minutes and always sided with the US Government.

Hollywood was pro-Government at that time, although in the 1930's a weird closeness to the Nazis was detected. (The Hollywood connection.) I will get into some details in a later chapter.

The radio shows, gave a more detailed information about the World's developments, and books delivered the results of those experiences and changes in a more comprehensive and sophisticated way, but of course with a certain time delay because of the physical nature of the news distribution.

Since my youth, I always had a sincere eagerness to know more about life, the Universes, the human presence on Earth.

While my cravings to know about the spiritual life came later in my existence, mainly because at the time, thinking outside the box presented some fear to enter an uncertain mind status.

Religion had a part of this concern. I always thought that Christianity (Catholicism at that time) had great control over the creation issues while the reading of the Bible was not encouraged. I remember asking some of the priests why we wouldn't read the Bible more often and the answers were indicating that the leadership (La Curia) was concerned that the filigrees would misunderstand the Bible writings or it could open a can of worms by generating unwanted questions, difficult to be evacuated.

Besides, there was almost no information about the Vedas or the Indian culture and much less about the Islam, which later in my life I had the opportunity to study in detail, mainly related to the Vedas.

However, the students interested in history, especially the Barbary Wars around the end of the 17th Century and beginning of the 18th Century, when the Muslim had a common practice to kidnapping US ships, keeping passengers and crews for ransom, and selling them as slaves.

These barbaric practices and the taxes imposed to the US ships drained the US economy on a 10% of the Gross National Product for some time.

Those years were undoubtedly a dark period, at least in South America.

For some reason, the teachers, philosophers and other educators felt that people were coming from dark ages and unable to understand the reality at sight.

I must confess, that except for certain elites in Europe and the US, the knowledge was slowly starting to be available to the average folks.

Of course, a few avid readers seeking information of all kinds, were able to form a nucleus or an elite of intellectuals, that for some reasons, were secretive and gathered on exclusive joints, as Coffee shops, Jazz clubs, or reading groups, quite difficult to access without an insider's introduction.

Somehow, thru my musician's activity, the attempts to enter the theater crowd and in general, by hanging out with elder people, my intellect kept an increasing expansion of my knowledge.

The Music has always been a mind opener. The math's in it, which I discovered later in life, especially when the digital era uncovered the equations contained in the musical phrases and even in the sound vibrations, opened an incredible parallel World, that earlier in my youth I couldn't clearly detect. I could only feel it.

The vast ocean of the sounds is something that, although defined as Harmony, Melody, and Rhythm in some cases, contains an endless wave of alternatives that make it a science, including physics, mathematics, and geometry but also other aspects of Science and Philosophy.

Discovering the mathematics in the music, already established by Pythagoras and revealed to some privileged musicians at the time, was little by little uncovered and made available to others, thru different means. The latest one, the developing digital music, based on what the Genius of Pythagoras masterfully designed centuries ago.

That was made available thru the timed development of science, which today our scientists manage to make it public, after years of intense work.

When one thinks of those incredible minds, only recognizes that they were advanced souls responsible for the education to the future. If anybody doubts of God existence, before these facts, they must surrender to the idea of the creation.

However, I don't mean "religion," but science, the science of God's creation. Something very different from religion as it is commonly known.

We could go back and pay attention to the thinkers, poets, sadhus and philosophers that helped to write the Vedic Scriptures on the East and the Greek documents as The New Testament, the Septuagint, the Greek Old Testament and the Torah translation in the West.

It is hard to imagine those days, where human life had a small value, regarded as disposable. When ignorance dominated the scene, and knowledge was a privilege enjoyed by a few, born in wealthy families or protected by patrons or sponsors of the arts and sciences.

Gaius Cilnius Maecenas, a wealthy poet, patron of the artists in the Roman Empire, started a trend, followed by many other rich people, art lovers, sponsoring and protecting many developing new artistic talents.

But the particular knowledge that some prophets, thinkers, philosophers, and poets made available thru the ancient scriptures is a major treasure that today we can continue to enjoy, enlightening our lives.

Modern scientists are beginning to acknowledge those individuals that enlightened by the Creator, poured their vast knowledge into those documents.

We must lament, however, the loss of a significant part of that legacy, destroyed by barbarians and war incidents or the loss of almost the entire life of Nicola Tesla, a genius who was vilified and ignored because he wanted people being the recipient of his inventions for free. Tesla did not want the military to use his knowledge to jeopardize the Planet, and others, who enjoyed the credit without deserving it, later pilfered many of his inventions.

Also unfortunate, is the absence of data about Pythagoras, whose life was a source of fantastic knowledge in music, sciences, and philosophy.

It was difficult for me, starting writing this book for a few reasons.

The most important is, the fact that writing about my experiences could trigger a dangerous collision between the ego and humbleness. But, after consulting with many of my friends, practically all of them counseled me to go ahead and do it. As they said, you have acquired a vast experience in life, and you must tell it, just because numerous people would like to read about it. It humbled me.

I believe people are inclined to read about real issues.

I am no fan of explaining myself and overall to apologize for my statements. So please take this paragraphs as lightly as you can, because, in the end, I am a little shy, although I must overcome that feeling to entertain you and inform you about some interesting issues.

I promise not to do it again! I won't apologize again. Hmm.

But I intend to entertain you, at least and keep you informed about the facts, as I know them.

So, be prepared to read some opinionated ideas, especially regarding politics. These times are heavily politically charged and remaining impartial is almost impossible, especially when one is somehow a Liberal-Conservative. Nevertheless, I tried to keep separate the material life from my spiritual self.

I decided that although I have a conservative base, I am pro-changes, which makes me a hybrid kind of Liberal-Conservative, a different breed.

Looking at the word Liberal in the Oxford Dictionary: "Willing to respect or accept behavior or opinions different from one's own; open to new ideas." I could resume it on "Being open minded to changes."

However, the "Postmodern Liberal Movement in America today," is like a bulldozer that advances attempting to destroy every trace of traditional behavior, trying to replace it with controversial thoughts and practices, ignoring at large, many natural laws and scientific facts, favoring feelings over realities. They are blurring the lines.

Due to the Society status nowadays, it is quite difficult to avoid current issues while having an opinion about them.

So, I hope the reader will find my writing style interesting and will be able to see the point thru the clouds.

That's why I advise you to be prepared to a controversial mix between past, present, and future, with a personal opinion, that you might love or hate, but I hope you will never find dull.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement is already causing damages, and a Civil War is plausible.

The current times are among the most important since the creation of our Nation. The external political forces, not all Republican and Democratic, are attempting to operate a change which I am sure the majority do not desire, although many ignore the possible consequences.

The United States has been a mostly conservative bastion thru religious thought. However, a different "religion" is pounding at our doors, menacing our standards, and attempting to dominate us by force. They have been doing it at a distance for 1400 years.

Some difficult times lie ahead, and we need to choose the right path while fighting against the evil forces to keep a necessary balance.

So, I decided to keep comparing the present with my knowledge of the past and a vision of the future. I hope to have made the right choice.

You will judge it.

CHAPTER 1

The Alliance.

The Elections That Changed the World.

Liberals Messing With Education.

The 2016 US Election was not a common electoral act.

The consequences have been shocking, unpredictable and devastating for some people while promising for others.

Beginning with Hillary Clinton, Bill Clinton, Barak Obama and the rest of the Democratic Party but much worse for the Liberal community.

In the big picture, the whole political scenario suffered a change never expected.

Hillary Clinton leaned to the Left more than any Democratic candidate before her. We all know and experienced during the campaign, but a far more important political factor developed that helped to make the changes even greater.

The Liberal Movement which now I call it the Postmodern Liberal Movement, re-named this chunk of the supporters of the Leftist philosophy, adding a Fascist denomination, that they resist admitting, although their behavior confirms it.

Also, the Democratic Party is in a great error, not condemning the Fascist practices of some groups trying to help them.

After the catastrophic Democrat defeat, the Liberals practically took over the Democratic Party and forced its members, Congress people, and other leaders, to a new frontier, "adopting the Postmodern Liberal ideology, although now, with different content."

Every single member of the Party seemed to have ignored the traditional DNC platform and simply dedicated their full-time to oppose the Trump Administration, the GOP and the Conservative Movement.

The word "resist" pronounced by Hillary, immediately after she learned that Donald J. Trump, a Billionaire business men, with no experience in politics, who never held any official Government position, beat her, causing a major embarrassment for her and the DNC.

However, the cry "resist" was also the starting point of the next 2020 election campaign! Such desperation!

However, the shock posed by the election results, goes beyond the usual understanding, affecting people's lives, friendships, social media, even family ties.

Hillary still winning, now thru a recently published book titled "What Happened," attacking and blaming Barak Obama, James Comey, Bernie Sanders, and others but her.

After November 8th, 2016, friends began to cut-off some friends, families, to argue and distance themselves from each other. Neighbors changed their preferences and stopped talking to other old neighbors, and a whole array of distasteful issues began to get in between family, acquaintances, and friendships across the country, and all of it because of political discrepancies.

Moreover, because of political differences, which in the past were showing for a few months during the campaign, but after the Election day, everybody was turning back to normal lives, mostly erasing any quarrels, and accepting the results as valid. Not in this 2016 election. It looks more like we have been entering a Civil War than just after an election where the country changes the Government by the People's vote and the Electoral College decision, under our Constitution's ruling.

The Media owns a big part of the responsibility for this social disruption.

Besides the fact that it seems (in serious doubt due to alleged voter fraud) the popular vote showed Hillary Clinton as ahead of Donald Trump, the Constitution is very clear about the President being elected by the Electoral College.

In the beginning, the Democrats, in a crazy rampage looking for errors in the vote counting, irregularities in the handling of the paperwork, and even the accusations of wrongdoing by the GOP, for months occupied the news and the "talk of the town." Everything turned irrelevant but the discussion and arguments about the recent election.

Social Life, water cooler conversations at work and even on the street level, had people stopping each other to chat about the speculations about the electoral act.

As the months passed by, and the Electoral College pronounced the final results, electing Mr. Trump as the 45th President of the United States and his taking of the power on January 20th, 2017, many of us thought the waters were calming down, and the Country was assuming a normal life.

The Postmodern Liberals, which at that point had already taken over all aspects of the Democratic Party, continued to make even more pressure, going to the left and kept adding other groups support for their already declared "resist" movement.

So, besides the alliance with the leftist's groups as the Socialists, (Sanders is showing his credentials as a "Socialist," not a Democrat) headed by Bernie, who had already joined the wagon even thru the campaign as an independent, the Hollywood elite has also acceded to the rebellion.

The Liberals, obviously lead by former President Barak Obama, Hillary Clinton, Bill Clinton, and Senators as Mark Warner, Bernie Sanders, Nancy Pelosi, Chuck Schumer, and Oprah Winfrey, David Axelrod, Harry Reid, Justice Sonia Sotomayor, former V.P. Joseph Biden and others were rapidly followed by the entire Mainstream Media and other personalities of our political and social life.

Almost immediately, a whole front opposing the newly elected President made its physical presence on the scene, lead by the Fascist group "Antifa."

The whole country then, turned into a battlefield, relegating important issues like the economy, jobs, health care, international relations and other vital aspects of our lives to a second place, concentrating the entire Liberal efforts in solidifying a new movement to oppose and trying to derail Donald J. Trump's presidency.

Not even the bully attempts by North Korean Kim Young Un to start a nuclear war distracted the Democrats from pursuing the revolt against President Trump.

But the alliances did not stop there. The Postmodern Liberal Movement continued in its search for support and soon formed a weird tie with the Islam, the prominent supporters of the Terrorist organizations as Al-Qaida, ISIS, Hezbollah, Al-Nusrah, Hamas and dozens more.

Despite the vast difference in their values and supported issues, because both sides are enemies of the Conservatives, they decided to fight together, although if successful, in the end, the Islam will surely override the Liberals by the numbers and of course by the violent experience of 1400 years fighting for their totalitarian cause.

Armed first with the "Climate Change" issue, an exaggeration view of the catastrophes the World has witnessed for centuries. The issue, which although important, is not the most important for our Country's survival, immediately the Liberals added the infamous "Russia's Collusion," a hoax that after almost one year of being exhaustively investigated, has shown no proof of being real.

The search for clean energy and caring for the environment is a task we must continue, however, making sure other countries will not take advantage of us in regulations affecting our living, we should closely monitor.

Also, thru Special Prosecutor Robert Mueller they keep looking for "a crime," any crime that so far does not exist on the part of the GOP or the Trump's campaign.

So things have turned insane in the Democratic Party and the Postmodern Liberal Movement.

The Mainstream Media intervention has been a major force in the post-election fight. The hatred spilled by the Liberal Journalists, we have never seen before.

President Trump has defined it as a witch-hunt against him, and we have never experienced something like it in the past. Moreover, it is evident; the Media has engaged in a shady campaign to discredit any Presidential action or slight move, twisting and omitting information favorable to Mr. Trump and his Government. They are dedicating practically 97% of their time to deprecate the Government's actions or ideas and especially to tarnish the President's image. It became a personal hatred against Mr. Trump, his family, and supporters. The personal enmity demonstrated by some of the journalists in the Postmodern Liberal Movement is insane, unreal and out of any expectations.

Overall, it is an unfair campaign by the Mainstream Media, which the President has named as "Fake News."

However, what it could be the highest treason, is some of the GOP senators attitudes, the "Never Trump" movement and the most conservative of the Establishment in the Government.

The group, evidently engaged in an unfair, treasonous opposition against every single issue the President is trying to push into laws, as the "Obamacare" repealing and replacing, that for seven years, the whole GOP Senate has been bragging.

The Republican Senators were continuously asking: Give me the House, give me the Senate, give me the White House, and after all three were granted to them, now they are unable to get their minds together and approve the Health Care Act.

The approval to this much-needed Law is fundamental to continue with the Tax reform and other issues the President has on his agenda, to advance the country to a better economy and easy life for its citizens.

For seven years the GOP Legislators were sending wishes to the Executive, but Obama did not have any intentions to even reading the amendments.

Now, the new President is a pen in hand to sign it, but the Senators refuse to have an accord and to vote the Law Project. It seems personal agendas have priority.

No one knows how this mutiny is going to develop and what the end would be when the Mid-Term 2018 elections get closer.

Many Senators are not so sure to be re-elected, and the pressures by the President could well make a mark on the Election, influencing the faithful supporters of Mr. Trump, which seems to be a significant portion of the voters.

The situation is complicated and not easy to see the outcome, so far.

The President has already shown the GOP that he will follow his agenda even in alliance with the Democrats, as he just showed by partnering with Chuck Schumer and Nancy Pelosi on the "Debt ceiling."

In addition, some Conservative personalities have begun a detailed investigation about the other side, the Liberals, and their alleged illegal or treasonous behavior.

Sean Hannity of Fox News Channel, who is among the most experienced investigators, have found an enormous amount of data, which he is daily revealing in his 10 pm TV show and his Radio program.

The data is highly incriminating and what is surprising is why, the GOP Representatives and Senators are not pushing for a thorough investigation of Clinton's allegations, some Obama's questionable actions while he was President against Mr. Trump's campaign members and other irregularities.

After days of uncertainty, the President fired Mr. Comey as the Chief of the FBI. Then, the former FBI Chief leaked classified information to a Columbia University's professor friend.

Comey said before the Congress that he decided to leak information about his meeting with President Trump, to his professor friend, to be handed it to the Washington Post, expecting with this action, to provoke the appointment of an independent investigator.

The curious fact is that Mr. Comey already knew who the independent investigator would be. Mr. Robert Mueller, a former FBI Chief, and his personal friend was selected by Deputy Attorney General Rod Rosenstein, as an independent Counselor in charge of the investigation with exceptional powers and freedom of action. Previously, Mr. Rosenstein had recommended Mr. Comey be fired.

However, the appointment of Bob Mueller as an independent investigator is highly questionable because as soon as he was designated as the head of the investigation, he hired a group of Lawyers, all them Democrats and private donors to the Clinton's Campaign and Barak Obama's fund.

Mueller's team has made the following donations to Democrats:

James Quarles $ 32,850. -, Jeannie Rhee $ 13,950. -, Andrew Weissman $ 4,300. - Elizabeth Prelogar $ 750. - And Brandon Van Grack $ 286. -

These Lawyers made less than 0.1% to Mr. Trump's campaign. The facts lead us to believe that all members of Mr. Mueller's team of investigators are planning a Witch Hunt against the President.

Already, some leaked information is showing that Mr. Mueller has initiated questionable inquiries into the personal business of the Trump's Family. Mr. Trump has warned Mueller that is not part of his job. He must stay on the investigation of the alleged Russian Collusion, avoiding poking into the personal Trump Family business.

As the icing on the cake, the holdover employees left by Obama have engaged into a despicable leaking of classified information. These activities are part of a Deep State conspiracy, probably led by Special Counsel Robert Mueller.

All these happenings have counteracting with the other side of the aisle, making the Postmodern Liberal Movement, pressing the gas pedal into a furious run against Mr. Trump and his team.

The Old Hollywood-Nazi Connexion During The Depression.

Also, as mentioned before, the Hollywood elite has joined the support for the Postmodern Liberal Movement.

It is significant that the Hollywood big producers, during the US Depression times in the 1930's worked tightly with the Nazis to survive the economic crisis.

It is widely known Hitler's addiction to Hollywood films. Some historians say that the Fuhrer never went to sleep without first watching a Hollywood's movie.

At the time, Germany was a most important market for the Hollywood industry. Any film that was welcomed at German's theaters assured its producer's real revenue's return, desperately needed for their survival.

Hitler even had an exclusive Ambassador to Hollywood, named Georg Gysslin, who frequently visited the Studios, overseeing the productions and their contents.

Gyssling was closely inspecting the new productions scripts and even banning some of them from continuing the filming or forcing changes that negatively affected his boss's reputation, Adolph Hitler.

The producers, unable to get money loans from American Bankers, found a significant source of cash from the wealthy German Industries, who saw the film industry as most profitable and they were eager to invest in it.

Despite the heavy Jewish movie's studios ownership, the moguls opted for a convenient separation of business and religion.

This close relationship with the Nazis probably left a legacy on the Hollywood elite, in particular on the practices exerted by the Third Reich fans.

The closeness between Left and Right was at those times, confusing and their practices, sometimes melted at some point. They were both totalitarians.

So, thru the years, the Hollywood community has shown a controversial identity, where the totalitarian ideas show at every step of the way where money is always King.

So, at this time, it is no different, backing up a totalitarian movement like the Postmodern Liberalism, which supports an attempt to go against the Conservatives who want to maintain certain morals and basic principles, which in the past allowed the US to achieve a worldwide reputation, respect, and economic prosperity.

However, it is not clear if the reason is to ruin our Conservative bases or a personal hatred for President Trump. I am inclined to believe that they hate Mr. Trump because he is trying to keep the Country Conservative, against the Postmodern Liberal's intentions to change it into a Sodom and Gomorrah's modern version.

However, I doubt the Hollywood community understands the President's philosophy, which in my opinion, we could synthesize as Liberal-Conservative, meaning Liberal not as Postmodern but as its old etymological meaning: "Open to changes and exploring new ideas." However, observing the advice from the old Scriptures, as a wise counseling to preserve our morals.

The Liberal's agenda has radicalized even more and putting the movement further to the Left, making the issues they are pushing, weirder and outrageous.

Today's Education Fiction.

As history shows us, one of the first measurements the Fascist or Nazis practice, is the appropriation of the education system. It is vital for those totalitarian political forces to own the teachers and educators and manipulating them to indoctrinate the young minds to their agenda properly.

In Postmodern Liberal agenda, indoctrination supersedes education.

The California Chaos.

I was recently in Los Angeles, visiting friends. The State of California, especially the cities of San Francisco and Los Angeles, is known to be the greatest Postmodern Liberal Movement's bastion.

Except for Hollywood and its surroundings, the Pacific coast and other wealthy spots, everybody seems to be on welfare there.

Of course, it is not a crime to seek help from the Government. The welfare system was created to temporarily aid the American Citizens to get back on their feet and redesign their lives, helping their families returning to living a productive life.

However, nowadays, it has created a parallel society, which has settled for "survival" instead of "living the life" creatively and dynamically, being pillars of our community.

The Liberals are decided to design a new division on the American People: a large Government where an enormous bureaucratic mass working for the State will make decisions to a lumpen society of uneducated dependents from the Government social services. A "Communist paradise," unfortunately, proven a disaster.

Capitalism might not be the ideal, but is certainly the best-known system for growing and developing our World in freedom. The United States is a vivid example, or it was at least in the past.

Of course, the undesirable human greed, spoil the great features of Capitalism but that, unless we could change the person's nature and its behavior, all we can do is continuing working on the improvement of our society.

Political Correctness.

The now famous expression: Political Correctness (PC), has been lately a way to keep society segregated, but under a different itemization, where the once dominating groups are made to look guilty and making sure that its members assume the consequent burden, of course, exaggerated by the new directions from the Left.

Let's agree that the Left is an integral part of the Postmodern Liberal Ideology as well as the Fascism, which initiated on the Left by Mussolini.

In the education field, for instance, Conservative teachers are being segregated just because they keep teaching sciences, as usual, observing hundreds or thousands of years of development and progress. They keep rating students in the old fashion way.

While on the Left it is all about indoctrination, but with different standards, now created by the new leadership, known as Postmodern Liberal.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement has, somehow, infiltrated the Democratic Party, added the Leftist philosophy in the Socialist Communist, and Anarchists denominations and Fascist lately. (We must remember that Mussolini, the Fascism creator was a member of the Italian Socialist Party).

They also have made room to adopt the "Islamist way of life," which I resist to call it only a "religion."

The Islam is known to feature at least four facets: 1) Trading Merchants, (used as the exploratory business penetration). 2) Military (following the merchant's settlement, including the old Barbary Pirates, now rebranded as Islamic Radical Terrorists,) 3) Political (after the Military incursions, they dictate laws,) and religious (the final goal and destination of all efforts: religious indoctrination).

They have been doing it for 1400 years without major changes. I will get into details in further chapters.

As we can see, this New Postmodern Liberal Movement is an extensive agglutination of different ways of thinking and acting (some, opposed to the others) whose only common denominator is the opposition or antagonism to the Conservative and "Liberal-Conservative" way of life.

The most notable addition is the absolute demagogic behavior: the enforcement of the "Political Correctness" where the insults and especially the expressions: "racist, homophobic, bigot, misogynist, radical, sexist, anti-immigrant, anti-LGBTQ" and many other pejorative adjectives being exchanged across the aisle, deeply divides our society nowadays.

This polarization often translates into a venomous language, which is making a wise communication almost impossible.

Although this pernicious wave is in effect in the large cities as L.A., Chicago, New York, Baltimore, and others, it has not reached the whole American society yet, but there is an open cultural war that conservative or traditional people are facing and desperately trying to fight back.

The greatness of our country has been built brick by brick throughout more than two hundred and forty-one years, successfully and productively for the American Citizens and the whole world.

The contribution of our Capitalistic Society to the World is an irrefutable proof of our success.

However, in the past decade, it seems to have been dramatically challenged.

The left wing is definitively trying to twist the direction of the US lifestyle. They disregard the experience collected by over a hundred and fifty years since Karl Marx, and Fredrich Engels designed the evil philosophy geared to replace the standards of God's creation, for a Godless system that implanted the Government, lead by mortals as the guidance and north for the future to come.

I will expand on this later on.

For now, the so-called P.C., represented by a twisted understanding of natural human behavior for an un-natural one is trying to take over at the Liberal education centers in the US larger cities.

Parents trust the education in the US, hoping their kids will learn the needed skills to find good jobs.

However, some of those parents have a vast part of the guilt. Not all Conservative parents are examples to be followed. Many of them are pushing for performances to be improved falsely, just for their personal satisfaction or to get better jobs for their kids. Some would encourage them cheating or lying to get better grades and a whole array of tricks, for the sake of their false pride. That is what I call, some human beings negative features.

So, the parents send their children to the High Schools, Colleges, and Universities, pay over sixty thousand dollars a year, and when the kids are back, the only thing they can give them is contempt.

Defining The Postmodernism.

Postmodernism is definitively screwing up the student's life. In general, a slight amount of youngsters go to high school, College or University to be educated.

Politics, at the end of the road, would probably help some of them to improve their lives, as well as the connections they could achieve, especially in education complexes of fame.

Most students know that after graduating, some of their classmates would probably land important executive jobs that will allow them to hire other employees.

Moreover, of course, the selection of these potential workers is going to be picked among the students that shared the same classes, on Universities or Colleges. It is natural. Executives seem to prefer working with alumni colleagues.

So, the public relations are always a safe way to see the future employment, and that is why as a student, it is important to be "somebody," intelligent and smart, famous or maybe just a clever show-off. That is the common approach nowadays.

However, the new progressive fashion is geared to disrupt, to stop conservatives from making their point.

In States like Illinois, and California, the Postmodern Liberals are preventing any attempt to Conservatives exposing their ideas, even by force and violent behavior as we all have seen on TV News lately at Berkeley University and others.

The destruction of private and public property is frequent, trying to stop any conservative speech and the Police have not been able to stop the culprits from doing it and worse, to even punish them to prevent the continuation of such disruptive behavior.

I believe Liberals are trying to create people unable to cope with any difficulty in life, so they will allow bureaucrats to act on their behalf, making all decisions for them. Thinking it is not required for postmodern life. It is scary!

An excess of Liberal Teachers is the greatest problem. Often, professionals, that could not make it in the Business World they take jobs as educators, bringing with them all the frustration caused by their failure to be accepted by a business community, probably too selective and they bring their frustration to the education center that welcomed their Liberal status. Of course, this is not the case in general.

Liberalism used to be a progressive form of ideology (in the proper etymology of the word) promoting new ideas, changing old and fatigued standards. Furthermore, there are many Liberal-Conservatives, and I am one of them, believing in the old teachings and standards but also accepting new forms of thinking and updating the old basics to the contemporary life.

However, like all things in life, if overdone, they become useless or even against the original intention.

That is what had happened with the Liberal movement. It became so freaking liberal, so influenced by the Godless Left that went the other way, creating a clash of cultures, with the aggravation of an added fanaticism, violent and an adverse electoral result that turned things upside down, totally disrupted.

Among other negative issues, it is separating people instead of uniting them, the effect we all should desire.

Just take a look at what happened in Berkeley, CA. in 2017. The city is famous for being a place in Northern California, on the east side of San Francisco Bay and home to the University of California, Berkeley, the birthplace of the 1960's Free Speech Movement.

However, in recent events, the freedom of speech was denied to several speakers, who invited by Conservative Students, pretended to spread their conservative thoughts.

The violent behavior of people from the left, caused millions of dollars worth of damages, destroying public and private property, trying to prevent the presentation of different speakers contrary to their beliefs.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement is attempting to change the course of our incredible success as a Nation and replace it by an authoritarian, anti-democratic system that promotes hatred and bans opposition to their Lefty/Liberal beliefs. Not a positive outcome, we would say.

They are ignoring the experience of the many countries that negatively suffered the Socialist/Communist system governments.

The New Liberal Education Mentality.

In the Universities' World, one of the PC preferred issues is not saying the student's grades out loud. All grades should be confidential to protect a student's esteem and self-worth, they say.

It is my strongest belief that knowing other students grades inspire the debate and the push for improving one's performance, although also provides a filter that would separate the talented from the dull.

Competition is what has made the Western Civilization a preferred system in the World.

I can remember when we were students, that some fellow's performance was an incentive to improve our work.

Watching advanced students passing up front to tell their progressing and new developments on the subjects were for many other students and me, a motivation and a joyful experience. Having talented fellow-students as classmates was an honor and an inspiration to improve our work and learning process.

However these days, things seem to be entirely different, under the new Postmodern Liberal Ideology.

Defending The Student's Feelings.

There is an ongoing story of a girl coming home crying to her mother because another child was purposely belching on her face, poking her with pencils on her hands and head every time she got close to her. The mother complains to the School Counselor, and he tells her to be patient because she would not want to hurt the other child's feelings and asked to think she could have had an inadequate education and "wasn't raised correctly."

So, that is the approach from the educator's leadership today. They defend the aggressor, justifying their actions rather than punish them and try to tell them they are wrong and that they must change their behavior and not to be aggressive with their fellow students. They call it "defending the student's feelings."

The Teacher's Complaints.

Some good teachers complained that they are given a "system average" rating on their performances, which only teach ELA (English Language Arts and Literature). So, if you are an amazing Physics or Mathematics Teacher, you are given the system's average performance, even if this means your evaluation average is downgraded. Teachers are forced, under the Liberal thinking, to share performances grading with underperforming teachers. They all must share a summative evaluation rating, solely on two categories of educators: Sciences and ELA. That is the concept of the new Liberal Education Leadership.

In a way, it is how Marx and Engels used to think and what has created a disaster in all the countries where the "Socialism or Communism" was put in practice.

Those evil characters have based the construction of the Socialism and Communism on replacing the personal capacity given to the individual by creation or even the progress that a person could achieve by his/her effort and consistency for an average, dividing the collective efforts by a denominator whose outcome would be the same figure.

This practice, of course, becomes entirely artificial and demeaning for the most intelligent, and falsely busting the ones with the poorest performance. That is the philosophy the Postmodern Liberals are trying to impose.

The Free Speech No Longer Available.

The changing of the rules, even at the lowest level, indicate the extent of the push by the Left to accuse what they call the "White majority" or "White Supremacy" of segregationist and other crimes.

Thus demonizing it as racist, bigot, anti-immigrant, so their campaign is geared to silence the conservatives that wish to talk about the poor Socialist ideals experience and their failures.

The infiltration by scores of teachers and professors now in the colleges and universities is determined to use their mental power over their students to rally and being violent to get the Postmodern Liberal message across.

The recent events in California and Illinois are showing them exercising their relevant posts at the Campuses to energize what they call the "psychological tender students minds." They claim being usually offended by the slightest opposition to their leftist's ideas, to send a hard message to the conservatives saying that abridging the Freedom of Speech contained in the First Amendment is no longer available.

The recent events say it very loudly and violently that the public lecterns are only for the left to express their radical ideas.

This behavior seems to turn worthless decades fighting evil ideologies like Communism and Nazism.

Today's Leftist Campuses.

University's Campuses have banned, prohibited under penalty of violent riots, destruction of public and State property, speakers like; Charles A. Murray, Ben Shapiro, Nicholas Dirk, Anita Alvarez, Emily Wong, Jason Riley, Milos Yannopoulos, Ann Coulter, David Horowitz and other conservative thinkers.

Conservative teachers think what is happening at present is very scary. It seems the desired fashion for education is that teachers remain inside the cooler while students will educate themselves, giving themselves their grades and ratings.

Under the Liberal ruling, parents and students will be running the schools, and finally, teachers will not be needed. Silly, isn't? However, that is the Postmodern Liberal's culture's attitude.

The Left has taken the Liberals, and they took over the Democratic Party. However, there is still a big question mark. What is the Islam doing in there? We will examine this.

What we can see is an attempt to flatten down the level of education, so there's no competition at the top. Liberal's goal is to have only a mass of mediocre students aspiring a post within the Big Government ranks. It is a dark future for the youth. A totalitarian outcome is mimicking Communism, Nazism, and Fascism.

Meanwhile, offenses are so delicate, that it will be necessary to modify the whole language to avoid any conflict when speaking publicly.

Let's clarify that not all Universities are like that, but at the rate, they are going, what the teachers show and the particular choices exerted by the leadership, it would be a miracle they do not taint the whole education system. Liberal tentacles are spreading at a scary rate. Ignorance is widespread, and the idea of equality is adding fuel to the fire.

There is a comment saying that the terrifying part is that what's happening at some Universities is a "real movement," based on a leftist philosophy, fighting to globalize the World and eliminate all prejudices.

Unfortunately, they have taken reasonable human spiritual transformation and made it into a fascist coercion, a necessary condition in a Godless State, which is their final goal.

Once again, we must draw a line between God's creation and religion, two very different things. The Science of God's creation is different to Religion, a human-made option to assemble to worship God.

The Campuses Safe Spaces.

University campuses "safe spaces," created to provide students with an environment in which they could discuss practical issues, are criticized for stifling freedom of speech.

However, suppressing the freedom of expression is among the goals of the Lefty-Postmodern Liberal movement, of course, aided by the Islamic culture, which is becoming more and more present at the Universities and increasingly dominant.

Meanwhile, the Democratic Party Standards and traditions, are without a real leadership and depending from one "independent Socialist," a DNC chairman, a dislodged, uneducated, vulgar Perez and a nutty "insulting Senator," (Elizabeth Warren) among other rude ephemeral characters.

It is evident the new wave of this developing movement had made alliances that are conflicting with each other's philosophy, although they have a common enemy: Conservatism. And like the say goes, "your enemy's enemies are my friends."

The Resist Movement.

It is sad that Democrats have not been able to recover after the catastrophic results of the 2016 elections and the word "resist," said by Hillary Clinton, has become the obsession for every Democrat. A mantra repeated every day with more emphasis and inciting to violence, which we just witnessed when a volunteer of Bernie Sander's Campaign shot a Republican Senator: Steve Scalise, at a charitable baseball game practice. However, the Mainstream Media signaled the issue as a deranged man, avoiding any connection with Sen. Sanders' rant, a typical leftist and against Conservatives.

The clear fact is that the fierce opposition to the Conservatism is growing, after the 2016 election, where the Liberal movement was severely beaten by a billionaire, new to Washington and traditional Politics, who decided to do things differently, something that the Liberals are determined to stop.

So, the battleground must start in the education grounds, manipulating the youngsters thru fear, lies, fake news, smearing public figures and any other means of putting down the Conservative movement.

However, particularly the ignorance is leading the protest of a crowd that when asked why they are protesting, does not know the answers, only repeating clichés.

The Liberals hate President Donald J. Trump, and they are determined to make him fall.

So the feelings and not the reasoning are leading the way.

It is evident that all the efforts are focused on the 2018 middle-term election, and the goal is to recover the Democratic seats in the Congress and Senate lost in the last decade, with the major aim of obtaining the White House back in 2020.

Of course, feminism extremists are a big part of it. Today, although the major Liberal goal is a classless, genderless, faceless society, the scene has become so sensible, that communication, is creating a false, hypocrite and uncomfortable situation, where one has to watch the language profoundly close, to avoid offenses, which ride in the ridiculous.

It is hypocrisy time!

Words are being suppressed; sensitivity has been potentially busted. Postmodern Liberals are creating an enslaved reality where the words could be encouraged almost to be a weapon of mass destruction.

So many words have been banned from the English Language, so bad that one has to choose expression of their thoughts with tweezers to avoid clashing and offending certain people. However, among the black community, many of that n..... word expression is repeated every other word by Blacks without anybody bothering. Curious?

A Genderless Society?

Wait. A student asked. Liberals do not even acknowledge the existence of two genders? Is that how regressive you guys are now?

Also, you realize that intersex is a thing, right? There are multiple variances of sex chromosomes, gonads, sex hormones and genitalia that do not agree to a binary understanding of sex. That is not even up for dispute. However, procreation is only possible by a male and a female having sex or joining the sperm to the egg into a female's womb. Moreover, the same happens to any other animal specimen. So, it is not clear what the big deal about recognizing the two only genders is.

It may rather be a psychological malfunction what is clouding the understanding of so many people on the Left.

We can turn it around, upside down, sideways, inside out, but the genetic information stamped in every chromosome, won't change.

Until new order, we will have to deal with only two sexes: Male and Female. The rest is a mere modification of the psychological behavior in the human being, which in some cases could be a serious unbalance with unpredictable consequences.

Of course, the handling of these situations must be approached with care and always procuring not to upset or offend the person by inappropriate comments or attitudes, but always having in mind that "one's right end where the other person's right begins." Straightforward and uncomplicated.

However, the Postmodern Liberal Culture prefers to make a big deal, extending the prevention of clashes between both parts, by suppressing words, instead of requesting manners and eventually, accepting rejections that people may naturally have.

The human beings are not perfect, and although we must strive for perfection, we are not near perfect. In which case, manners are handy to improve relationships between people.

Everybody Gets a Medal?

The truth shows that nobody, ever, could have established a society not even near what the Lefty-Postmodern Liberals envision. This new pretentious community tries to implement the “everybody gets a medal” idea, so there are no people left behind, even at the cost of mediocracy, which it seems to be the desired product.

Teachers are not to criticize students who make mistakes because they are “less able in some ways” and God forbid the teacher shout at a student!

Most times, in “Liberal Universities,” teachers are told to apologize to a spoil rotten idiot because she/he got upset after getting punished for being rude. That is our school system nowadays. Well, not all thank God, but if the wrong is not corrected, it will be a general fashion. God forbid!

God bless the souls of my teachers who yelled at me to correct grave errors I had made. I learned though.

Just don’t even occur to anyone mentioning that naturally there are only two genders! The whole Liberal World will fall on your head, and you will be crushed, merciless by the force of the wishfully genderless community!

Postmodern Liberals are instructing parents not to reveal their children’s gender and telling them that they will decide which way they desire to go when they are older, an obvious criminal behavior.

No matter if you believe in God’s Creation or Evolution theories, Gender is a thing of the past for Lefty-Liberals. I remember reading the Lenin Decalogue of 1913, with the instruction on how to take over a country for the Communism.

The article number one says:

1) Corrupt the youth and give them absolute sexual freedom.
It sounds familiar, isn't? (I will publish the whole set of Lenin Decalogue later on.)

So the left promotes that now, with not so simple rules but complicated by wishful gender changes, for them physical and psychological are the same, which at this time it seems to be an illusion. Pure fantasy.

CHAPTER 2

The Strategy.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement In Action:

The Plans To Destroy Western Civilization.

Here is where the Postmodern Liberal Movement is pushing to do the most damage.

As described in Chapter 1, the new Postmodern Liberal's have made an Alliance: They have weaved a net against the Conservatives who defend Western Civilization, the most beneficial influence in our World.

Of course, as any act of this material World, it is not perfect.

However, the balance left by the Western Civilization is highly positive, and among the benefits to our culture, are the greatest advancements in human rights, as the end of slavery, the progress of sciences, the education efforts, and the positive improvements in human relations.

Postmodern Liberals, on their part, are irresponsibly accepting the Islam as an ally, to help in the fight against the Conservative movement.

They are also siding with Communism, Socialism, Anarchism, and the LGBTQ movement, in a clear attempt to disrupt the Conservatives. Lately, they welcomed a Fascist group, paradoxically called "Antifa."

Conservative people, not used to such a bully crowd, are slowly reacting to the onslaughts from the Left, although their peaceful nature is moderately reacting to the attacks, especially after the monumental failure of the Democratic Party to hold the White House, the House of Representatives, the Senate and many Governorships.

The losses have been significant, and they continue to lose election after election in 2017.

The Democratic Party, manipulated by the Postmodern Liberal Movement is displaying a total lack of leadership, an obsessive dedication to derail President Trump, showing a complete absence of ideas to regain the people's favor thru significant issues and especially, an attractive leadership. They are only concerned with destroying President Trump.

The Mainstream Media is also cooperating with the new Liberals, as well as many of the Colleges Directors, the University Professors, and Administrators who are disrupting the Campuses and their practices in favor of the anti-Conservatives.

We must remember the Democratic Party, in the past, has supported or even helped to create movements like the KKK, the Nazis and strongly supported Slavery. However, they do not talk about it at all.

The Democratic Party has been over the years a staunch supporter of the Slave ownership, and the Civil War was evidently fought between the Lincoln supporters to abolish Slavery and the Democratic supporters to maintain the Slave trading among other issues.

History tells us that Democrat General Nathan Bedford Forrest founded the KKK in 1865, and he was the first grand wizard.

The Republican Party was known in the past as the "Black People's Party" while the Democratic Party was labeled as the White People's Party.

Curiously, nowadays, the Democrats are trying to escape that past, which in a way have managed thru different tricks, to revert the trend.

Due to the alliance of J.F. Kennedy with the Black Community, in the figure of Dr. M.L. King, the reversal was possible. Evidently, the American People have a short memory or blatant ignorance?

President J.F. Kennedy, who at the request of Coretta Scott King, sent his brother Robert, to approach a DeKalb County Judge and successfully lobbied for Martin Luther King Jr.'s release, started the reversal of the dreadful Democratic Party's past and tilted the popularity scale to the DNC's side.

Dr. King was the most visible and strongest figure in the history of the Black Community, and that was no small influence.

So, since 1960, the Democratic Party managed to erase the shameful racist past practically and conquered the majority of the Black vote.

The negative influence of Barry Goldwater's extremism helped the shift when the late Senator pronounced against the Civil Liberties Act.

In 1964, the passage of the Civil Rights Act by President Johnson, cemented the change of sides by the Black People that helped Carter, Clinton and later Obama, to win the elections.

However, in reality, the Democratic Party's core has not been able to make Blacks advance in the North of the Country.

The Urban League Director Vernon Jordan expressed his concerns during Carter's presidency: "We have no full employment policy. We have no welfare reform plan. We have no national health system. We have no urban revitalization project. We have no aggressive affirmative action policy. We have no solutions to the grinding problems of poverty and discrimination."

The Republicans, which distracted by the appearance of Barry Goldwater, who practically destroyed the Party's relationship with the Blacks, by denouncing the Civil Right's Act as illegal, confirmed the beginning of the Black voters' migration to the Democratic Party.

Bill Clinton fortified the alliance, and the rise of Barak Obama definitively helped with a racial approval, although he never did anything important to help his own race. He rather helped the Islam, to advance.

The Mainstream Media Obsession Trying To Defeat Trump.

The word faked is incessantly mentioned, and the News is bound to it. It seems that the word "reality," is losing weight and from the daily stated "fake news" we realize they want us to live in a fantasy world.

Although the Media defends itself from the accusations coming from the President and his supporters, there is a strong doubt about their arguments. Mainly because after eight months of charges, accusations, suspicions, and false indications, the "Russian Collusion" with the Trump Campaign are not showing any proof of being real.

In a desperate attempt to daily feeding those accusations, the DNC, aided by the MSM, continue a mad campaign trying to derail the President's performance.

The Mainstream Media has decided to ignore the truth and keep repeating the word liar, attached to anything that regards Mr. Trump. It is like a deaf people's conversation. So, Liar, liar, liar, repeated a million times might become true, as Nazi Joseph Goebbels used to affirm.

The addition of some possible "Obstruction of Justice" recently used to fabricate an eventual Presidential impeachment, has poured fuel on the fire that keeps the Media blabbing about nothing.

In a grave mishandling of the actual news, CNN, MSNBC, CBS, ABC, Univision, and the major newspapers have almost ignored the recent Islamic Radical Terrorist attack in Manchester, UK. Meanwhile, they continue to pound with the illusory elaboration of allegations about the now famous hoax, the "Russian Collusion" with the Trump Campaign.

They are maintaining the same results as before: No proof, nothing substantial and definitively no evidence to add to the subject.

The Media has gone Postmodern Liberal all the way, and it is even obstructing for the people to learn the truth. The Liberal Journalists have embarked in an open war against the President and the White House staff.

This fact is enormously aggravated by several leaks coming from the same White House, of old holdover employees left by the Obama Administration, who have engaged in an unfair and illegal inside espionage and disbursement of classified information to the Media.

Unfortunately, the publication of classified data is not a crime, although obtaining said data it is a punishable crime. So the Media can publish the illegally obtained information, damage the Government plans and in many cases, jeopardizing lives in the Secret Service and other Security Agencies.

The New York Times has repeatedly breached the rules. It seems they are using the so called "undisclosed sources," as an alibi to publish illegally obtained classified information, which becomes legal after washed by the "intermediate" intervention of the unfaithful Obama's holdover bureaucrats. Sad and unpatriotic.

Also, The New York Times, Washington Post, other large newspapers, the Press Agencies and many Internet Blogs, are contributing to the daily making of alternative news, some of them fake, others coming from "undisclosed sources," nowadays a favorite way to hide the veracity of the published information.

All these events are contributing to an increasing loss of faith of the Press and the TV news by the American people.

The known mantra that keeps the Postmodern Liberal movement going is equality or diversity, a questionable assertion as performer Kathy Perry commented after the killing of 22 young children in the Manchester, UK venue by an Islamic Terrorist: 'No Barriers, No Borders, We All Just Need to Co-Exist.' Is this even real? Do the Islamic faith followers think the same? Of course not.

Moreover, the fading performer Madonna, saying publicly: "Many times I thought to place a bomb in the White House." In other countries, people go to jail or get executed for less than that.

Co-Existence But With An Order.

There's no doubt in my mind, we all should co-exist in this Planet, but a borderless World is not yet a viable reality. The People are not all prepared and educated for that.

However, the Media insist in deviating the subject, and instead of spreading the news as they come, they insist on continuing their agenda, mainly consisting in seeing President Trump as a "trial Presidency."

The prestigious Journalist Bob Woodward, of renown for bringing the Nixon's Watergate case to the front pages, had a saying about the subject.

Mr. Woodward, who is also a moderated Liberal just labeled the Journalists as "smug," criticized the US Media for presenting Mr. Trump Presidency in a falsely way. Mr. Woodward also described it as a state of "hyperventilation."

"I think there are so many people treating the Trump presidency as if it is a tryout or as if it is provisional," Woodward said. "Odds are, he is probably going to be president for a full term, four years, maybe even more."

During Trump Administration tenure, the Media has occupied their airtime with a 97% of anti-Trump issues. Their panels are comprised of a 9 to 1 rate of anti-Trump pundits, and the vitriol is abundant on their political shows, as we have not seen ever before.

It is an obsession, a fanatical obsession with a daily increase due to the frustration of not advancing on the allegations or adding any proof to the so-called "Collusion with the Russians."

It could be hilarious if it were not pathetic.

Both, the Mainstream Media and the Postmodern Liberal Movement are trying to impose the notion that a blanket of diversity and equality should cover the whole World, allowing flattening the human race and ignoring the natural values and virtues. In part, the thought of Marx and Engels.

The idea seems to be, having a "lumpen" of people rejoicing in their mediocrity, happy with an absence of competition on the high end.

The Mainstream Media, with its heavyweight, is adding fuel to the fire by dangerously twisting the information they provide to the American People.

However, the major corporations with Liberal leadership undoubtedly employ the cream of the crop, not by equality but by excellence.

I do not question the practice, but I make the point that not everything is about "equality," since competition is a choice at the top.

Take for instance the first international trip of President Trump, an undeniable political success and a boost to America's prestige, unfortunately, lost in part by the Obama Administration.

At home, the Main Street Media is trying to ignore the facts and instead, they continue to insist in the ill-famous "collusion with the Russians" that after eight months has produced no evidence at all of its existence.

Now, some new allegations on the President's son in Law, Jared Kushner, which the Media is suggesting as a person of interest, but purposely, omit to remark that the FBI has no formal accusation on Ivanka's husband.

The news, are concentrating their air-time on 97% dedicated to continuing to accuse the President's Campaign of wrong-doing falsely. However, only a 3% of their airtime is devoted to informing of the President's successful International tour and the message he is delivering, so essential to the World's peace and the recovering of the US old lost prestige.

This attitude is another confirmation that the Political Correctness is far more important to the Media than the President's restoring the USA prestige and the political weight on the International scene. They do not want the President to succeed.

Various World-Leaders as the Arab King, Israeli Prime Minister, Palestinian President and many others, have praised the 'return' of the USA as a World-Leader, a victory that belongs to Donald Trump, but that the US Media, unpatriotically, deliberately ignores.

The consequences that this attitude is providing is of enormous damage to the country's reputation, after eight years of Obama Administration when the USA lost a significant part of its power and influence in the World, particularly in the middle east. Obama, by omission, helped to the mess we can see today in the region.

Here We Are Now:

With the Postmodern Liberals taking hostage the Democratic politicians, exacerbated by an independent Socialist Bernie Sanders negativity, and without a clear Democratic Party's leadership at sight, Postmodern Liberals are demanding that race, gender, ethnicity, and other sensitive social issues be revised and weirdly updated to please an elite of University teachers. The Islamist awkwardly assists the group, of mainly LGBTQ, Communist, Socialist, Anarchist, pro-illegal and non-white aliens.

They have established an all out war against white-male people, which they consider poisonous and oppressive or "White Supremacist" as they like to label them.

In a total craziness, the Postmodern Liberals have taken the political leadership in the Democratic Party, embraced by weak Democratic politicians that, lacking an attractive political platform to push forward, are counting on the grassroots activists from the Left, to campaign against President Trump.

Meanwhile, the President continues to try governing under an incredible negative pressure, even from some members of his own Party, the Washington Establishment.

The Mainstream Media completes the vilification of the President, by hiding his accomplishments, magnifying his acts as questionable, lying, and inventing fake news.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement Chronology.

We must remember the Chronology, attached to the correlative Presidencies and the mutation of the Liberal Ideology thru the years, especially its relationship with the LGBTQ movement.

All began in the 1960's, when a young, handsome and intelligent member of the US royalty, John F. Kennedy was elected President and his Liberal ideas began pushing the Old, Stagnating Conservative partisans to favor the new renovating schemes Kennedy presented.

The sexual liberation was at a peak, just as Vladimir Lenin was counseling for the Left, taking over a Conservative Government in his 1913 Decalogue: "Give the youth a complete sexual freedom." I will publish later, the Lenin Decalogue.

That was, probably, the first incursion of the real Left in the Democratic plans for a future government and the addition of the LGBT community (although the name was not given after the Stonewall Riots in 1969.) Until then, the LGBT movement was only a project, but the Democratic Party always supported the bold move and influential in achieving social progress for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and transsexual people, although keeping a low profile in public.

"I speak tonight for the dignity of man and the destiny of democracy." President Johnson began his 1965 speech to Congress, which led to support the Voting Rights Act, putting a legal end to obstacles preventing people of color from voting. However, President Johnson was not clear about the rights of the LGBT movement in the developing stages. Now they have added the Queer.

The Conservatives were reluctant to accept some practices that were rejected by all religions and socially disregarded by the majority as anti-natural and disgusting.

However, the natural development of the human race, supported by the Democrats, was not about to give up with such an extraordinary act of liberation from the traditions, in particular on the Conservative side.

Sexual intercourse between the same sexes exists since ancient time. Although considered for the Conservatives as an unnatural practice, it is impossible to deny its existence.

Although kept in the dark to the majority, a minority, especially the elites, was always practiced in secret and as an essential part of some folks, in the ruling class, which while not talking about it, made it an integral part of their lifestyle.

Sex has been since time immemorial, a dominant element in the background of any society thru history.

However, never before, had surfaced with such an emphasis and determination, as in the 1960's.

The Democratic Party immediately adopted a positive approach to the LGBT movement, fundamental to the future elections.

Then, in 1976, Jimmy Carter's famous phrasing: "I never knew of any word or action of Jesus Christ that discriminated against anyone," twisting his strong Christian faith, gave a pass to the new movement.

Here was a confirmation that the Democratic Party Liberal philosophy was backing the LGBT.

The Liberal Ideology was, little by little dominating the Democratic Party more than ever before.

In 1984, Ronald Reagan was elected, and his beloved Hollywood community was the first, hit by AIDS when their icon Rod Hudson, died from it.

Reagan, although in a 1985 press conference, mentioned that AIDS was "top priority" and "no question about the seriousness" of the disease and the "need to find an answer" for its cure, only talked publicly about it in a formal speech, in 1987.

Nancy and Ronald Reagan, as long-time members of the Hollywood community, always had Gay friends, even in the White House Years, but the President considered that the AIDS crisis was a punishment coming from God, to the promiscuity of the Gay male people. The public baths' promiscuity was the main source of the AIDS spreading.

We all know that although the homosexual practice is an artistic community prerogative, it is common knowledge as always being the ones to advocating for the Society's acceptance.

However, President Reagan does not have a good record in pushing for the development of the AIDS crisis help.

About five billion dollars were assigned to control and cure of the AIDS disease. Was that number enough? Of course, it was not, but it was an acknowledgment and the beginning of the Government help to fight a devastating illness.

Ronald Reagan was a man of integrity, and as such, his convictions sometimes clashed with his duties as a President.

However, nobody can deny of his kindness and good faith before an issue long condemned by all religious scriptures.

So, life is made of changes and the only permanent are precisely the changes.

A large part of the Society decided a long time ago that sex, although initially the fundamental element for the species to survive and reproduce was being extended to be a recreational part of life and also confirmed as an active component of the human's sexual attraction.

It would be impossible to define accurately, the real meaning of sex between the same genders. It is beyond description, and highly controversial, for any attempt to do it. So, I will avoid having a final opinion on it.

A firm believer in traditional marriage, President George H.W. Bush, elected on 1988, slowly changed his feelings towards Gay marriage on the human side, keeping his first preference on the traditional one between a Man and a Woman.

While a staunch defender of the traditional values, the Bush Administration made some progress in the development of AIDS prevention and eventual cure, although the LGBT leadership considered as a little help to their issues.

However, with the appearance of the handsome Bill Clinton in the political scene, married to a stunning, ambitious woman, dedicated to the women's advancement in life, was when the LGBT made strides, in the background, towards a real progress in their ambitions.

Clinton, an undoubtedly Liberal Democrat, was the first candidate to openly court the LGBT voters when in 1991, met with LGBT advocates in Hollywood.

Then in the 1992 election, helped by Hillary, showed a dual position, which cleverly he did not want to get far apart from conservative supporters.

In 1993, President Clinton signed "Don't Ask, Don't Tell," which allowed gay men and women to serve in the armed services if they were to keep their sexuality a secret.

In 1996, Clinton told the LGBT magazine "The Advocate," he believed marriage to be an institution for the union of men and women, period, and he was not reviewing it or considers it for a change.

The LGBT community kept lobbying Clinton Administration and thru Hillary's help, siding with them on many issues, although not supporting them all the way, slowly was mutating until in 2011.

After signing the DOMA into law in 1996, and being criticized by the Gay community as anti-Gay, in 2013, Bill Clinton urges for the legalization of Gay marriage.

By the time George W. Bush was elected, in 2000, the advancements the LGBT movement had made was so significant that it was impossible to keep a negative position to a widespread Gay practice, even in the political community.

Several aides to the Bush Administration were almost openly Gay, and the whole US population was changing their initial Conservative position, moving into a more friendly understanding of a generalized practice and the acceptance of the Gay Marriage in many States.

Bush 43rd had a Vice-President with a Lesbian daughter, and several aides in his White House were also Gay.

By 2009, after a brutal fight between Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama for the Democratic Party Presidential nomination, the first African-American politician was a major Party's candidate. The whole mood of the country shifted to the racial preferences, leaving the sexual issues to a second place, but without losing the center stage.

People were ready to try a black president, especially when the Republican candidate, John Mc Cain was weak, not a very popular one.

However, there were other familiar issues, as the most popular TV series: "24" which was featuring a black President, very successfully winning the war on terrorism on the TV screen.

The American People is very sensible to the top-rated TV shows and their characters.

Barak Obama, although he did not carry a substantial political baggage, featured a likable personality, a good speech and a Harvard University title in Law.

Mrs. Clinton showed a weak campaign and her name, a primary reason the Democratic Party establishment was supporting her, wasn't enough to overwhelm the high Popularity of the first Black Presidential candidate.

After a nasty battle, which included the other pre-candidate, John Edwards, Barack Obama was chosen to run against John Mc Cain, whose addition of a strong, attractive female V.P. candidate, Sarah Palin was not enough to surpass Obama.

So, the US had its first Black President in history.

From the beginning, Obama's discourse was directed to everyone, with the objective to reach a broad range of voters. He knew that the poor (Blacks in its majority) LGBT, Hispanic and Liberals, supported him, as representing the voters postponed by the Establishment, and his populous discourse emphasized precisely that, giving the LGBT ample expectation for equality.

"Every single American -- gay, straight, lesbian, bisexual, transgender -- every single American deserves to be treated equally in the eyes of the law and the eyes of our society. It is a pretty simple proposition."

-President Barack Obama, October 1, 2011.

Obama signed a few Laws that benefited the LGBT, as Ensuring Hospital Visitation Rights for LGBT Patients and Their Loved Ones, passed Hate Crimes Prevention Act into law.

Obama also fulfilled a pledge to those with HIV by developing and releasing the Nation's first comprehensive plan for responding to the domestic HIV epidemic. He signed numerous administrative actions to advance equality for LGBT Federal employees, setting an example for all employers, and in general, other acts helping the LGBT community to end discrimination and make advancements.

That behavior assured him later, the re-election in 2012 for one more period.

However, Obama did not take care of his race. Particularly in the North of the Country, Blacks did not make substantial advancements, while Obama did furiously work to ensure that Islamic people made strides towards their recognition as a decent religion was taken seriously, despite the continuous attacks by Radical Islamic Terrorists in the US and the World.

Obama never pronounced the phrase: Radical Islamic Terrorists, limiting their reference as ISIL and always dismissing their responsibility for the terrorist acts as the "Ivy league."

Obama duplicated the National Debt of less than 10 trillion dollars, inherited from George W. Bush, leaving an enormous burden of a 20 trillion dollars National Debt at the end of his term.

We could assume he spent the money on increasing the "Benefit" program in dozens of millions of claimants, which include millions of illegal aliens who also entered other Government helping programs, displacing millions of Natural US Citizens.

Obama also dilapidated millions on foreign aid, especially to Islamic Countries, with money taken from the Military and other domestic programs.

However, the Twenty Trillion dollars of the National Debt, sunk the country's economy and provoked the closing of thousands of factories, displacing millions of workers who sadly saw the industries they worked for, migrating to countries like Mexico, China, and others.

As the times go by, traditional families, knowing of Gay relatives, friends, and unable to express dissatisfaction with their decisions, are mostly accepting their sexual preferences selection, as an irreversible fact.

In regions like the West Coast, principally the State of California has become the stronghold of the Liberals, which now, I call the Postmodern Liberal Movement.

The movement's growth has been enormous by the addition of the Illegal Aliens, undocumented workers, who expect the Movement give them the dreamed status: American Citizenship, but principally the explosion of the LGBTQ, which with the times, keep coming out of the closet.

They are helped by a full acceptance of their sexual practices, which throughout the years, has collected a significant support from regular people, so, we could say now, that the LGBTQ is a major Movement, not only in the US but also throughout the world.

Although in the beginning, the Conservative Movement had rejected a broad support for the Gay Community, slowly but consistently people have realized that it was impossible to keep a hostile attitude against the LGBTQ.

However, the Conservative principles must not be forgotten, and the morals and old standards should be preserved, especially the Marriage Institution, which in my opinion should remain between a man and a woman.

I am not opposed to recognizing the Civil Union between the same sexes, with all the legal privileges, but not to call it Marriage. A difference must be kept because they are different institutions.

The White Male Supremacy Syndrome.

The Sanctuary Cities And Illegal Immigration.

Postmodern Liberals are trying, by all means, to make being a white male a sin, a horrible individual that eats children alive, that rapes women and suck their blood. Something out of this World and unwelcomed. They propagate the hatred against them in Universities, Colleges, Schools and on the streets of cities that support the arguably Sanctuary status, by the way, misinterpreted.

The Sanctuary Cities suppose to offer shelter to illegal immigrants, afraid that the Homeland Security and the INS could break up their families and deport some of its members, however, never to protect criminals.

It is surreal that said "Sanctuary Cities/States Law" would go against the country's Federal immigration legislation in such a controversial way, but thanks to the Main Street Media, beginning with the Associated Press that changed its AP Stylebook to provide an exception, are trying to modify the rules.

They wrote: "Except in direct quotes essential to the story, using the word illegal only to refer to an action, not a person: illegal immigration, but not an illegal immigrant."

I believe if someone enters the USA, violating the immigration laws, it becomes an illegal alien. If you do not like the law, ask Congress to write a new one, but meanwhile, we must observe the current laws.

Then, major U.S. newspapers such as the Chicago Tribune, the Los Angeles Times, and USA Today, adopted similar guidance. "The New York Times style guide similarly states that the term illegal immigrant may be considered "loaded or offensive." Moreover, advise journalists to explain the particular circumstances of the person in question or to focus on actions: "who crossed the border illegally; who overstayed a visa; who is not authorized to work in this country." (To me, all the cases mentioned here became "illegal aliens," and I would invite those "journalists" to try staying "undocumented" in Iran,

North Korea, or any other World country, including Mexico and see if they could write a story about their experience.

Obviously, the Media is a major contributor to the establishment of the Postmodern Liberal culture or Liberal Politics, forcing changes accordingly with their personal views of the Laws. This practice is similar to "Legislating from the bench," (As it is the case with the Judges who do not interpret the Law as written); some journalists try to fabricate opinions and applying them to laws from their pens or pixels.

The result is a gross misapplication of the legislation and a constant fight between the Federal Government and the Municipal Governments (including the City's dependent Police Departments).

Disobedience, citations of Constitutional Laws, local Laws and all kinds of resources are part of a fierce battle that meanwhile, is assisting people who enter the USA without the necessary documents to appear being legal, while they are not.

The leniency that started around the nineteen eighties has allowed a population of between eleven and fifteen million people to stay in the USA without the proper documents, whose majority is doing paid work, although millions of illegal aliens have entered the Social Security System and are supported by the taxpayers. Some of them are paying taxes in the hopes that one-day it could be of some help to obtain the green card and eventually the citizenship.

Looking at it from the human point of view, one can only feel sorry for the people affected but from the Constitutional perspective, if we do not enforce the Constitution, then the U.S. stops being a Republic, since what it makes a Republic is the observance and application of the Constitution.

On the other hand, most of those undocumented people have jobs, and they are contributing with their skills to the successful developing of business. Besides, depriving the business owners of those employees, it would be devastating for them and their families too. So, it is a big problem not easy to solve.

Back in the days, for instance when I arrived in the US, in 1974, there was a stricter control of the immigration, and except for some rare cases, the enforcement of the immigration laws was tight and kept order. Then, in part, because the farmer's need for cheap labor to harvest their crops, seasonally they were allowed to bring "braceros" or pickers from Mexico.

The State governments looked the other way and said practice generalized to the point of "convenience" and the fact that American Citizens did not want to perform such work, moreover for a skimpy pay, under the minimum wage.

Consumers also, looked the other way because that practice made possible much lower prices of produce in the supermarkets.

However, the "coyotes" or illegal aliens smugglers, took advantage of the leniency and together with the aspirant laborers entering the U.S., began smuggling drugs, making the southern border a corrupted place several thousand miles long. They made the Southern frontier the most dangerous permeable border where the Drug Lords and later the terrorist's had a free pass to enter the USA.

What it began with a convenient under the table deal, then developed into a major headache.

The Obama Administration did not want to face the truth, and the President ordered the Border Patrol to wash their hands. They were ordered to "catch and release," which in reality means, don't even bother with the illegal aliens.

Very few people are thinking that many of those undocumented workers are taking jobs from the American Citizens or at least, helping to lower the wages. I also believe the country needs many of those workers. Because of undocumented people offer their services for less money, no workers comp or health benefits. However, under the table payments and other secretive deals, open the way to illegal accounting methods and cheating on taxes.

As we can see, the problems have engrossed, and there are winners and losers. Too much is too much. We need to enforce the laws, and that was one of the issues featured in the Trump's campaign.

The USA is a country of immigrants, undoubtedly, but how many is the limit? When journalists ask advocates of undocumented people, nobody wants to answer, not even think of that question. How many immigrants are good for the Country and its population? Especially the legal ones?

TV Celebrity Tucker Carlson asks the question almost every day to his guests, but to date, nobody has answered it.

Throwing a figure is difficult. Maybe the market itself would set the number accordingly with the offer and demand, a proofed working equation. However, for that, we must get into an agreement between the two sides, that it seems to be almost impossible to achieve. Maybe one day when we all mature.

The Trump Era.

The Postmodern Liberal leader's utter ignorance, or the lack of concern for the results, other than fighting the Conservatives, it is hard to believe. It shows the Postmodern Liberal leadership is so confused that they cannot identify what makes the Left, the Left, what is the Fascism, and other political and social concepts, frequently wrongly used.

The confusion is outrageous, and the adjectives utilized are mostly in disarray.

However, the utter ignorance on the actors is fundamental.

Meanwhile, the Democratic Party is without a head, there's no credible or likable future candidate, the issues are inexistent, and the complete effort of its members is spent throwing dirt at the President.

They keep inventing accusations like the infamous "Russian Collusion," which after almost one year there is no credible proof, nor the constant charge against Mr. Trump's family, his campaign members, and White House Staff.

With the complicity of the Mainstream Media, whose reputation keeps rapidly deteriorating and is now much lower than the President, the Democrats are giving away their chances to regain the lost Congressional and Governorship positions.

However, what it hurts more, is the negative attitude of some Republican Senators who still on the Democratic side and fiercely trying to derail the President by voting against his proposals, in particular on the repealing and replacing Obamacare.

The latest polls would show Mr. Trump, if the elections were today, as the winner.

In an attempt to regain lost voters, the Democrats now announced a new "slogan," "A better deal," a reminiscence of the President Franklin D. Roosevelt between 1933 and 1939, "For a New Deal." Will it sell?

Better jobs, better economy, better and paychecks, better future. It sounds like trying to sell Pizza.

Minority Leader Chuck Schumer expression: "When you lose to somebody who has 40% popularity, you do not blame other things -- Comey, Russia -- you blame yourself," a tacit accusation to Hillary Clinton, who keeps blaming everybody else for her defeat in the 2016 election.

Hillary Clinton's supporters have become completely disheartened, unhinged because she is not the president and from the leadership down to the last fan, have decided as she said, to "resist." Even if this means to hurt our country, politically, socially, it is international reputation, the economy, and the National Security.

In a desperate rampage to destroy President Trump with the help of the Mainstream Media, the money from Hollywood's elite, a brutally negative campaign has taken center-stage to destroy the 45th President.

Trump has called it a "Witch Hunt" like no other President, or Politician has suffered in history.

The Press has significantly contributed to building President Trump's discredit, mainly by suppressing the positive content of his Government advances and about his performance, but also by creating fake news or enhancing the unsubstantiated allegations of wrongdoings as the famously fabricated "Russian Collusion."

The President has labeled the Mainstream Media as anti-American People.

The daily mentioned "Collusion with the Russians" by the MSM has become a mantra, repeated like a bell tolling, although the proof is inexistent.

The odd issue is that the main Security Agencies' officials and judicial executives (all appointed by the Obama Administration) have found no evidence at all of the Russian Collusion.

However, the false accusations continue to be propelled by the Democratic Party members and Mainstream Media outputs.

Today, it is the main theme of the speculative talk, and the principal subject of accusations, yet without any evidence.

However, the Postmodern Liberals, disappointed by the inexistence of proof about the "Russian Collusion Hoax" are now charging against Mr. Trump, accusing him of protecting the "White Supremacist."

The President's declarations after the Charlottesville march, attacked by the Far-Left counter demonstration, has initiated another disproportionate accusation to Mr. Trump, who is the President of "All Americans," as he expressed sadness and concern with the violence on "many sides," an ethical concern for the President of all Americans.

Of course, the Media will never be satisfied or would side with the President. Their only goal is the President's destruction. So sad we are so divided by evil on the Press.

Democrats expect that Robert Mueller, the new appointed Independent Prosecutor, in a questionable "phishing operation" will find their desperately needed evidence or even a crime that would bring the President down or impeached.

Sadly, the independent prosecutor has named five lawyers, all exclusive supporters and donors of Hillary Clinton as his helpers in the investigation. (?) See Chapter 1 (The James Comey Leak.)

In addition, now the efforts are geared toward another fabricated accusation: the alleged Obstruction of Justice on the ex-FBI Director James Comey, already Legally fired by the President.

New information shows that Comey decided to not prosecuting Hillary Clinton, two months before she was questioned and the investigation finished.

Now, out of frustration and in an evident intention to keep those accusations alive, they have shifted the attention to the President's son in Law, Jared Kushner, and his older son Don Jr., who are being the subject of an alleged FBI investigation, although no accusations have been formally made as yet.

Also, the President's son, Don Jr. who innocently accepted an invitation to meet with a Russian Lawyer who apparently offered him some information about illegal acts of Hillary Clinton, is being subject to an investigation, although the criminal aspect has already been dismissed.

Obsession has taken center stage, and the DNC, supported by the Mainstream Media, incessantly pound the airwaves and printed news in an open campaign to derail the Presidency.

Fake news is the other component in the witch-hunt our President is experiencing.

Meanwhile, President Donald Trump is continuing his schedule. On a World Tour including Middle Eastern countries, where he was acclaimed as a World Leader as well as his plans to unify the three major religions: Christianity, Judaism, and Islam is being taken seriously and with great possibilities.

President Macron of France also invited Mr., Trump and his Wife Melania to the Bastille Day celebration, as a special honored guest, playing the Star Spangled Banner in the official parade, a singular rare honor for the President and our country.

As a person born and raised in the South-American part of the Continent, it is weird seeing the Postmodern Liberal Movement actions in the US.

Moreover, while we are witnessing so similar patterns on how the Communist/Socialist philosophy took center stage in the Latin-American countries, and how the totalitarian techniques are being reproduced in the US, it is different in many aspects, but with similar roots.

However, the Language, the culture, the Anglo-Saxon origins, the Capitalistic model, so successful in the USA which has made it the most desired country to work and live in the World, is showing some similar Lefty strategy. An undesirable practice, which today is embedded in the Postmodern Liberal Movement, is now driving the Democratic Party's politics.

Having witnessed many Far-Left similar patterns destroying so many economies in the World, the idea opens a question mark difficult to answer.

I attribute the similarity in part, to the massive Latin-America immigration, basically composed of individuals with lower education or in some cases no education at all.

These people that came looking for a better life for their families, first by entering the US illegally, getting jobs, and after that with their savings sending money to their relatives in their birth countries, are bringing now their families to the US.

This immigration, mostly illegal, is an expression that the Postmodern Liberals consider valid and good for the country, although in obvious violation of the existent Federal immigration laws.

We need to re-establish Law and Order.

The Different Fronts Against Trump.

Hillary's Many Delinquent Acts.

The Mainstream Media, the Democratic Party, The Liberal Movement, the Never Trumpers, and of course the Deep State, are the Postmodern Liberal's helpers and each one of them has brought issues to destroy the President's reputation and derailing his Government.

However, the Mainstream Media is the absolute megaphone, spreading the hatred and the fake news.

Among the most popular: The "Russian collusion," a hoax that after one year has not shown a shred of proof, now replaced by the "racism," "Nazism," and "White supremacist," after the sad events in Charlottesville, Va.

Moreover, the twisted interpretation of the President's declarations, saying that the guilt should've been divided between "many sides."

We must remember while the Right-wing protesters had a permit to rally, the Alt-Left did not have any permit, and they started the aggression, armed for war.

We all agree the KKK, Nazis and White supremacists are despicable, but the Laws should apply equally to all citizens, especially after a permit is granted on either side.

Meanwhile, on the Democrat's side, the Hillary Clinton's scandalous behavior, deleting 33.000 emails which the DOJ requested her to keep, the dozen smartphones (Blackberry, iPhone, and others) that were smashed with a hammer. The several hard disks also destroyed physically, and others deleted thru an "Acid bit" process are still investigated by the FBI and Congress.

Also, the 40 minutes reunion in the A.G, Loretta Lynch's plane between Bill Clinton and her, one week before the A.G. desisted to follow a criminal prosecution against Hillary.

Now, we learn that Comey made the decision not to indict Clinton, even before the FBI conducted the Hillary investigation.

The Dossier on Trump by Ukrainian Agents, accusing him of bad behavior in Russia, all resulted in a lie.

Also, the former DNC Chief Debbie Wasserman, who hired the IT Arwan Brothers and pay them four million dollars for unknown computer work, presumably leaked outside the country to Pakistan and other nations.

Moreover, the indictment of the Arwan family for Bank Fraud, after being intercepted by the Police when one of them trying to board a plane going to Pakistan and priorly wiring $ 300.000.

- Dollars to himself.

Moreover, the top of the crop: The selling of 20% of the US Uranium, by Hillary Clinton to Russia's Vladimir Putin.

Right after the deal, Russia gave the Clinton Foundation one hundred forty-five million dollars "donation" and paid Bill Clinton, personally, one-half million dollars in fees for a speech in Moscow.

These are only part of the accusations pending against Hillary and Bill Clinton, but the "Unmasking" of GOP members authorized by National Security Adviser Susan Rice and CIA Director John Brennan, who have acknowledged making such requests without specifying the reasons, brings the Obama Administration to a questionable political act against the Laws. The chairman of the House Intelligence Committee is accusing top political aides of President Obama of making hundreds of requests during the 2016 presidential race to unmask the names of Americans in the intelligence reports, including Trump transition officials. So far, nobody knows who made the requests.

A long string of pearls, yet to be investigated by the DOJ.

As the events continue to develop, the Postmodern Liberals continue to elaborate different lies and forms to discredit the President. Now, after the flooding in Texas and Louisiana, the ridiculous critics about Melania's shoes, developed in a criticism of Mr. Trump and his lack of empathy for the Texan victims, an entirely absurd view of reality from the MSM twisted minds.

Postmodern Liberalism Ties With The Left

How The Left Was Introduced to Latin America.

The Postmodern Liberalism has a history tightly linked to the Left.

However, the Liberals were rarely a "political party" although they were always a "side kick" attached to different traditional parties or opposition. Almost like an adjective to the subject.

Although we can track Liberalism to four centuries ago, it was in the late 19th century, after the French Revolution, classical liberalism argued for a minimal size Government and individual freedom for action; almost a nowadays Republican paradigm.

Their main aim was to allow individuals to develop themselves freely, although slowly it was transformed into a leftist wing movement, which with the times went so far to the Left that encountered the far Right and melted with it in a quasi Fascist mode. Its development is quite confusing.

However, the Lefty Liberals only began to make in-rows into the US thru the Socialist/Communist frenzy that invaded South America in the 1950's, which after the US 2016 election mutated into the Postmodern Liberalism, a hybrid mixture of many different and controversial ideologies.

The most outrageous is probably the utilization of violent Fascist techniques at rallies, showed by the "Antifa" and "Black Lives Matter," geared to deprive the Conservatism of free expression.

The Mutation Of The Left.

We can trace the birth of the Left at the French Revolution 1789-1799, as the anti-monarchists Montagnard and Jacobin, deputies from the Third Estate sat to the left of the presiding member's chair in the parliament.

The leftist movement took birth to oppose the French Monarchy as well as all European Blue Blood.

This habit which began in the Estates General of 1789, solidified after the 1848 Revolution, although few people supported it at the time.

However, the influential Communist Manifesto authored by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, published in 1848 pointing the class struggle, predicted that a proletarian revolution would eventually overthrow bourgeois capitalism and create a classless, stateless, post-monetary Communist society.

At that moment the political terms left, and right were also established in the USA, although remained a property of certain intellectual groups.

Thomas Paine introduced the concept of asset-based egalitarianism; whose theory suggests that social equality is possible thru resources re-distribution, a Welfare State system.

The Marx-Engels manifesto theorized about how to reach a classless and stateless society. Something that both authors asserted without having in consideration the actual human condition, their passions, greed, ambitions, talents, virtues, intellectual capacity and so many attributes and negative qualities not easy to define but real.

The most disregarded issue is the Karma, not widely known or acknowledged, especially in the West and Eastern European land.

Of course, in due course of time, Karma has been accepted as the most important influential spiritual issue in the life of a person.

However, neither the authors of the Communist Manifest deemed of the future development of humankind, which at this time is an awful controversy within the Postmodern Liberal Movement, hard to decipher.

The lines got severely blurred and confused by the advance of science and technology, which turned many trades and occupations obsolete, leaving the new denominations without a clear side. Left, center or right.

Marx, Engels and then Lenin, who was the strategist for the Communist ideology application, lacked a high Philosophical knowledge, especially about the spiritual life. Their studies and developments were utterly materialistic and completely ignoring the spirit soul and its existence.

Their only philosophical knowledge strived on the speculations of the German and French philosophers.

The great Albert Einstein was the exception.

Therefore, as the time passed by and the normal existence changes happened, their speculation about life in society became obsolete and decrepit.

Also, the technological discovering, advances, and inventions, took their speculative theories about the classist society and the optimal solution by surprise and made them absurd.

Technological Advances Changed the Communist Scene.

The factories, a primary worker's symbol and bloody battlefield to defend their rights, are nowadays automatized and robotized. If we were to follow the Communist predictions, we probably had missed most of the great inventions that have enhanced our lives in the last one hundred years. The new generations could not exist without them.

Scientific and technological knowledge cannot be stopped. It is part of humankind development.

We cannot deny that the Marxist ideas became popular and even fanatical, bringing a division in many countries around the World.

They became violent with the Bolshevik Revolution and then exported throughout the World, and their bloody battles we all have heard or knew throughout history have left a disastrous, deadly mark.

We must acknowledge that Russia, later the USSR was a special place with unique problems of wealth distribution, misery and a corrupt royalty, decrepit and worn out.

However, Marx/Engels's Communist ideology rather than a permanent theory, today we see was a temporary and incidental shift that provoked a basic worker's awareness and changed the owner/worker relationship.

We should admit that at the beginning of the nineteenth century the workers were most oppressed by the employers, working conditions were poor and in some cases bordering with slavery.

So, the Communism raised awareness and in a way helped, later on, to correct the problems or at least to recognize them, although the human lives price paid was excessive and inhuman.

However, Communism did not improve the life quality and transfer the abuse of workers, from the private sector to the State.

The Communist oligarchy is a much worse boss than the monarchy.

Communism killed 97 million people in the Twenties Century. Also, the corruption among the leaders increased and spread out exponentially, creating favoritism to the oligarchs, who immediately sided with the Government officials who granted all contracts to the "businesses supporting the Communist System," the Oligarchs.

(That also occurred in the Nazi Germany, where the Industrial Titans helped to construct the Third Reich (1933-1944) and profit from it.)

A Royalty, anti-democratic system was to be replaced by another totalitarian system named Communism.

The Latin American Continent, but especially the South American part of it, always had a love affair with the Socialism and Communism.

We must remember that at the end of the Nazism in Germany, the favorite places where the Nazis elite chose to hide, were Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Chile.

Also, even Nazism and Fascism have been a powerful aid to the propagation of said political ideology in America. We must remember these are totalitarian styles of government. Hitler and Mussolini were partners at one time.

A cloudy myth was forcing its way into the World's society.

The nature of the Economy, the land distribution, inherited from the Colonial times was always an issue of discordance. The criticism about the inequality of the land partition and assignments have always been debated and even caused Military clashes between the countries and among the populations.

As the time passed by, at the beginning of the Twenties Century, several groups of discontent citizens began to gather, forming leftist cells that grew and proliferated connecting with each other thru political organizations, many times, clandestine cells, but all them under the guidance of the Communist ideology.

The "International Socialist" in Europe and later the "Foro de Sao Paulo," in Brazil, an alliance to offer guidance and support to the leftist groups in Latin America founded by Fidel Castro, the Cuban Dictator for over fifty years and Lula Da Silva, former leftist Brazilian President among others. (Lula was recently indicted for corruption.)

Thru these types of channels, the leftist groups became formal Parties and convinced the embattled workers that they needed a change, and the Leftist was there to help them.

The Communist propaganda was spreading the false idea that the workers should be the heads of the Government and the rulers of the economy.

However, the poorly educated laborers proved not having the necessary knowledge to handle such monumental task.

Corruption rapidly took over and the "Capitalists," now converted in the "Oligarchs" (the new Capitalists) with the support of the corrupt Communist leadership, and the Military brass, assumed control of the economy.

The Communist leadership happily confiscated the Russian royalty's old properties, dachas, farms, factories and other means of production, appropriating the wealth creation and establishing corruption; they shared with the Military in control of the Communist Party. They formed a one Party-State.

The leftist leaders offered a Communist Paradise, a classless society with an equality that supposed to be the answer to all problems.

Almost all countries in South America began a love affair with the Left that ended with many of them having Socialist or Communist Governments.

Influenced by the Castro's Cuban revolution, which romantically gained fame and prestige among the intellectuals of the World, sick of the Cuban Dictator Fulgencio Batista's excesses.

They took advantage of a historical moment where the Conservative movement exceeded its power creating many wealthy individuals who oppressed the factory and farm workers.

The Capitalists, the Oligarchs, and other powerful groups, which do not have shame nor political sides, and only go where the business is flourishing, quickly got behind the Socialist or Communist movements, to "aid" their business, only changing hats in the market of "managing the wealth."

The left did not waste any time, and thru the support of the Intellectual community, avid for changes but mainly charging against the all time hated conservatives, found fertile ground in Latin America's embattled lower class in a pre-technological society.

Once again, the rich got richer and shared the profits with the Socialist/Communist politicians and military brass.

The slow region's development was the perfect laboratory to try building a new society, which Marx and Engels started in 1848 when they wrote the Communist Manifesto.

Some European countries, absorbed by the USSR had already put in practice Communism under the rule of the Soviets, although the results were doubtful, rather disastrous.

So, Latin America was next. The reckless, sometimes oppressive political system existent in the southern part of the American Continent offered a fertile ground where the seeds of Communism could be planted and a political product harvested successfully. The partial lack of people's education did the rest.

Meanwhile, in the USA, politicians finally acknowledged the real threat of Cuba's Communism under Fidel Castro, especially after the Russian missiles reached the Island, and pointed toward the US mainland, followed by President Kennedy's reaction that almost ended in a nuclear war with the USSR.

The South-American local worker's unions gained prestige among the country's populations, and people were beginning to evaluate a radical change that could improve the workers' living conditions, named Communism.

The greed and reckless behavior of local Latin-American Right Wing politicians opened a clear way for some needed changes and the "Communist philosophy," until then rejected, became an option to be considered.

The People's question in their minds was: "What about if we change government styles?" The actual state of their economies was pretty bad and although the very desirable raw product that South-American land was offering, was being enjoyed by the entrepreneurs' 1%, and apparently was not shared with their workers in a fair way.

The complaints were loud, and the upper-class individuals disregarded them, practicing visible excesses on numerous European and North American personal shopping tours and a lavish life at home, while the workers had a lousy existence, overworked and underpaid.

The core of the Communist philosophy was based on a complete destruction of Capitalism, to the point where they would start to build an entirely new Communist Paradise.

A vast array of small clandestine leftist movements appeared all across Latin America, mainly with members that after some training trips to Cuba, returned to their countries, formally converted into terrorist fighters.

The U.S.S.R. Influence In Latin America.

The USSR had a significant impact on the Tupamaros' Movement political development, an Uruguayan group of Urban Terrorists.

The U.S.S.R. Montevideo's Embassy had a side door on the premises, dedicated to a free traffic, allowing a constant flowing, coming and going of some selected individuals, identified as Communist militants and definitively working full time, some of them in the Embassy's clandestine payroll.

The Uruguayan Government, not used to this kind of opposition, in disarray by the continuous criminal acts increasing by the days, adopted some military measurements that took some time to become effective.

In 1972, the terrorist movement collapsed, although in the prior year, the MLN-T (Tupamaros), managed to legally found a political force they named Frente Amplio (Broad Front).

Most of the Tupamaro's leadership was jailed, and others escaped to European Countries, taking with them a large booty they had amassed from the criminal acts performed in Montevideo, robbing banks, businesses, kidnapping people for ransom and other illicit acts.

The smallest, although at the time the most educated South-American country became an important pillar of the Lefty political establishment in the continent.

Meanwhile, the US Politicians completely ignored the facts, paying little attention to the remarkable growth of the left in their backyard, as they used to call South America.

We must consider that in the USA, the Postmodern Liberal Movement was only in the beginning, influenced by the rise of Communism in the South-American land and the heavy immigration of Latin Americans to the USA, mostly illegal.

A large part of the undocumented immigrants from South and Central America, came to the US carrying with them the seeds of Communism, implanted in their minds, and most of them, with hatred against the US in their heart.

Although the new immigrants knew that living and working in the US was an improvement in their lives and their families, many of them had in mind to help the Left to gain power in the Capitalist Empire.

The US politicians had a hard time to understand the fact that despite the advantageous economic reasons the American Lifestyle offers, people outside the USA often regret the American way of doing business because a distrust of the Capitalist system, which is being constantly vilified by the Left and its promoters.

The Consistent Failure Of Communism.

However, the Communist experience results have been catastrophic and all the countries that have experimented leftist rulings, have collapsed or on the way to do it.

Examples like Venezuela; in a complete chaos despite having some of the largest oil deposits in the World is one of them.

Venezuelan citizens are hungry, unable to obtain the necessary articles to healthy living, are now on the streets fighting with their bare hands, without weapons, after a brutal dictatorship that has ruined their economy of vast resources.

Cuba, the most notable Communist failure, is still under the more than sixty-year-old Castro family's dictatorship.

Democracy is back in Chile, after a brief socialist period. The ousted of a leftist President in Argentina; the impeachment and removal of the Brazilian President Dilma Rousseff and her corruption scandal, also the indictment of former President "Lula Da Silva" have returned some of the countries to a kind of Democracy, not yet trust worth it.

Other South American countries continue fighting for the shake-up of evil governments that have survived only because of their vast natural resources and the corruption established by the Left.

The Lenin Decalogue.

A document called "The 1913 Vladimir Lenin's Decalogue" whom some people say it is a hoax, but because it is so accurate that paints an incredibly realistic picture of how to take over a country's Government, it looks and sounds truthful to me.

The document makes people's skin to crawl. Said document has been around for decades and is the guidance for all the leftist movements in Latin America.

I have witnessed the disasters caused by these leftist projects, which always start with the same mantra: The defense of the workers, the women, and the elder, together with a consistent attack to the "Yankee's" Capitalism and the Establishment.

South American people, especially the less fortunate, poor, and uneducated, have always been staunch supporters of the Socialist and Communist Parties, together with some students that go to the Universities not to study but to engage in politics. Something I never expected to repeat in the USA, but it is, unfortunately, today's reality. It is the Postmodern Liberal Movement model strategy.

Here is the famous Lenin's Decalogue, Lenin wrote in 1913:

"Manual to Seize Control of a Society" which was used in the 1917 Russian Re-Revolution (The October Surprise) usurping power from the original Russian Revolution which occurred earlier in the spring of that year.

1. Corrupt the youth and give them absolute sexual freedom.
2. Infiltrate and take control of the mass communication media.
3. Divide the population into antagonist groups; encourage arguments between them over social issues.

4. Destroy the people's confidence in their leaders.
5. Talk all the time about democracy and republic, but when the opportunity arises, seize power as a dictator.
6. Cooperate with the drainage of public funds; discrediting the image of the country, especially overseas, and create panics within the population through the launching of an inflationary process.
7. Encourage strikes, even if they are illegal, in the country's key industries.
8. Promote riots while conspire to prevent intervention by law enforcement.
9. Cooperate actively in destroying the moral foundations of society, honesty, and trust in the government's promises. Infiltrate other parties with your own people, forcing them to vote for what is useful to your own party' interest.
10. Register everyone who has firearms, to confiscate them when the time comes, preventing them from opposing your revolution.

Notice: (The author only suggests the validity of the above, knowing that many sources have questioned it as false. However, the contents are siding with Vladimir Lenin's philosophy and the Communist practices so, it could well be coming from his mind and pen.)

I am detailing these facts, because, believe it or not, these continue to be the roots of what nowadays is the propeller, part of the Postmodern Liberal Movement in the USA and Canada. One must keep in mind the strong influence of the Latin Americans or Hispanics in North America. Evidently,

Socialism entered the United States from Latin-American revolutionary politics thru the illegal immigration.

The Disastrous Obama's Legacy.

As the reader can see, the items here are quite similar to various acts the Obama Administration era allowed or tried to perform. Others, like the weapons control, were efforts to modify the actual practices, but thanks to our Constitution Amendments, they failed on the attempt.

Today, the Postmodern Liberals, who were following these instructions during the Obama Administration, spilled out thousands of their supporters, activists, on numerous State jobs in Washington and throughout the country. So many, that the new Trump Administration is having serious troubles replacing these Obama's holdovers with their people. This fact has increased the "leaking" into scandalous proportion, revealing to the public and our enemies sensible Government's confidential information

Obama, thru Senator Harry Reid infamous "Nuclear option," replaced the Senate 60/40 voting system for the 51/49, as a way to allow President Obama, appointing over 200 Judges without the possibility of a filibuster from the Republicans.

Also, Obama issued a highly unusual amount of Executive Orders, which enabled him governing without the Congress' intervention.

Today, the core of the Democratic Party we knew from tall figures as Andrew Jackson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson, and others have disappeared. The new deal gave way to Postmodern Liberal politics, tainted with an increasing leftist philosophy, Nazism overtones and Fascists bully techniques by the "Antifa" and Black Lives Matter's groups.

Not only that, but the old Democratic Party has a severe infiltration from the Islamic philosophy, which greatly contrasts with the democratic standards.

Today, the Democratic Party we knew, which in the past supported policies as the defense of women and their right to equality, is siding with the Islamic ideology, denying women's rights, even enslaving them, considering them as second-class citizens.

The Islamic religion, which educated Obama, definitively changed the Democratic Party, and lately, thru the help of the Independent Senator and Presidential candidate Bernie Sanders, continues to promote Socialist/Communist ideology. The traditional Party has radically moved to the far left, so far left that it encountered the most Fascist ideology and the totalitarian Islamist Theology.

However, how the Islam reconciles with the Postmodern Liberals, is a mystery, since their philosophies are largely far apart from each other.

After the 2016 election, which immensely affected the Democratic Party by the loss against Republican Candidate Donald J. Trump, today the 45th President of the United States, the change has become increasingly greater.

Scores of radical Liberals have taken center stage, as Sen. Elizabeth Warren, using the Democratic Party's flag as their own, acknowledging a Liberal's takeover and therefore the new Postmodern Liberal ideology.

They are changing education centers, unfolding destructive practices, featuring a violent and a wholly undemocratic behavior.

These vandals, as I write are suppressing the First Amendment Free Speech right, they are destroying public and private property, burning American flags and Police cars, beating his opponents and installing a complete chaos in the education system, as exposed in Chapter 1.

These New Postmodern Liberals promote equality and a genderless society, promiscuity, an education chaos as priorly described; they befriend terrorist organizations, want welfare for everyone including illegal aliens and an array of issues that a few years ago were considered undemocratic and undesirable for our country, including a borderless Nation.

Obviously, Postmodern Liberals forget we were at war with the Left, the Communism, labeled by President Reagan as the "Evil Empire."

Obama Was Pushing Liberalism and Islamism.

Meanwhile, the Obama's Government was encouraging the lower class to have more children while the wisest thing it would be encouraging reproduction among the most qualified and intelligent families, to elevate the quality of the whole population.

However, the educated parents are conscious of the effects of a reckless reproduction practices, and they control themselves to a practical family size per their economic possibilities.

In contrast, the Islamic People tries to have as many children as their women could bear.

Postmodern Liberals have the tendency and the will to promote mediocre people who are easy to manipulate, whose votes are available in exchange for some legal status issued by the Party in the Government, or even some cash bribes. It happened in Latin America for over a century, and although I thought it would never be like that in the USA, I confess I was wrong. It is the nowadays practice among the Lefty-Democrat-Liberals.

The Democratic Party has shown us they can buy votes for a ridiculous amount of money or favors, and even in exchange for the Green card or Citizenship status. They have established a black market to obtain additional Liberal votes.

During the Obama Administration years, the Welfare grew exponentially, including tens of thousands illegal aliens who, before the changes of the last Democratic Party's Administration, were not allowed to have Social benefits. Also, Obama added almost 30 million Food Stamps beneficiaries to the SNAP program, including millions of undocumented aliens.

To accomplish such a task, Obama added ten trillion dollars to our National Debt. Doubled the amount issued by the rest of the forty-three prior Presidents in conjunction, as mentioned before.

The Obama Administration has been unquestionable, the biggest spender of all times.

Now, the Republicans, assuring that 3 to 5 million votes were abnormally entered the 2016 election, have formed a Commission to investigate the possibility, but 26 States (all Democratic) are denying any help to clarify the alleged illegal voting.

What are they trying to hide?

The Postmodern Liberal's Plans.

Part of the Postmodern Liberal efforts to implant their movement is thru the elimination of certain words and practices which they consider sexist, racist, bigot, intolerant, xenophobe, homophobe and other words that are part of our Language.

I believe it is silly trying to eliminate words like "Lesbian, Nigger, husband, wife, female, male, happy meals, mother, father, even he and she. The Postmodern Liberals also have declared Gender Identity "oppressive."

Also, "cis-gender" is now being pushed as the politically correct term, as opposed to the once accepted word "normal."

Because same-sex marriages are rare, Liberals want new terminology to make it seem not that rare. Weird, isn't?

Although social marriage construction was designed between a man and a woman, to mention that, Postmodern Liberals would consider it as "hate speech."

Nowadays, it is not enough for Liberals that Conservatives remain neutral. They demand that they change their opinion, even their feelings about these issues.

The private thought which allows a person to dislike another one, as far those feelings are kept entirely inside your soul your mind and not even expressing a hint to the exterior, are no longer accepted. You must change your philosophical structure, your soul, even though Liberals do not believe in the Spirit-Soul.

The whole Postmodern Liberal Movement is so ridiculously absurd; a mental disorder that I believe is digging its own burial site, which it is close to completion.

No society can survive under the terms, which the Postmodern Liberals want to impose.

The United States is definitively the most desired place to live, work and conduct business in the Planet, but this status, this privileged consideration, is the product of an entirely different model and built under the complete opposite to what the Liberals want today.

The USA has a successful past. Our freedom of expression, of thinking, our liberties based on the understanding that "our rights end where the other people's rights begin," the Democratic values and the Republicanism, based on the respect and application of our Constitution, are being challenged by the Postmodern Liberals. It is happening right now, pushed by a group of weird confused leftists that want to re-invent and destroy the most successful Democracy in history: The United States of America.

The New York Times, a pillar of the Postmodern Liberal Movement, just published an article expressing that they have found the way to improve the USA. They proposed to 'deport all US born citizens and keep the illegals.' Even as a joke it is despicable.

The worse part of it is that there are some politicians, in the DNC and the Independent Party that, are cashing on the idea and helping in Congress to build roadblocks that are a vile obstacle to the labor and initiatives, which our novel President is trying to implement.

They do not care if their actions are detrimental to our lives, our economy, and our international prestige. The Democrats will reject any project submitted by the Republican President, immediately, without even consider it.

The obsession to regain power is such that they do not care what will happen in the future, as far as they could obtain the majority in Congress and the White House that Democrats have lost just because people are fed up with what they are trying to impose.

Now, Conservatism needs to implement a "Road Warriors" front activity, and that is what it seems the "Team Trump" is beginning to think to do.

In my opinion, it is necessary to start a campaign geared to educate the people about the real situation of our society, and the perils at sight if some of those crazy changes are implemented. Education, education, education, is needed now. The World's history, especially in the 1400 years of Islamic invasions and destruction, must be publicized. People need to be educated. They need to know, to learn the truth.

The Conservative Movement needs to convert into that: a real Movement, to engage everyone that doesn't agree with the Lefty/Liberal/Islamist/Anarchist alliance. They must have a home, an ideal to fight for.

The times of "taking things for granted," are gone. We need to keep fighting for our conquests. Democracy, Republicanism, and Freedom are not gifts. We have to earn them every day, or we are bound to lose them.

Activism is necessary, now more than ever, because the twisted minds of the Postmodern Liberals are inching in, while Conservatives rest on the assumed freedom! So, we must consider that whatever we do not defend, our enemies would try to take away from us.

Just remember the cry from the left: "resist!" now becoming obstructionism. That is a hint that we should oppose the resistance to continuing the progress, although in a different way the Liberals propose.

Do not forget that the United States of America is the most prosperous Democracy/Republic in the Planet, because of our past and what its basis have been.

It is not the country, which the Liberals want to make based on the European Style, a failed experience on immigration, demographics, society, and economics.

It is sad the USA is still so divided, especially on race and religion, with one group (The Islam) that opposes any compromising, because their scriptures continue to be misinterpreted, backed by the Postmodern Liberals, ignorant of the facts.

Allow me to repeat: Education, education, education, is needed now.

However, this situation can only be changed from inside. The countries involved must eradicate the extremism in it. Something it will take various generations to accomplish, but if we do not start now, that we have a visionary President bold and fearless, who knows when will it be our next opportunity. Liberals need to think, re-think the issue but especially the Mainstream Media, with their high outlets, must stop that childish behavior and believe that they have reached their actual status, because of our past philosophy of life, not for what the Postmodern Liberal Movement has to offer.

The US population must look to our neighbors in South America and see the disastrous results that the Socialism and Communism have left, and what to say of the Left's biggest failure in the USSR and Eastern Europe. All the lefty government's experiences in history have brought pain, corruption, deaths, financial crisis, and indebtedness but overall a sense of despair, depression, and distress.

South American people, the latest victims of the Left do not even have the money to buy a ticket and get out of the misery they live. Venezuela is an obvious example. A country among the biggest Oil Producers is in such state of misery, is hard to understand. They are hopeless, without a future and stuck in the corruption set by the Leftist government.

So, seeing those experiences, the US Middle Class must learn that the Postmodern Liberal Movement is a poisonous trick, manipulated by very wealthy people that only want to keep the power under control completely disregarding the ordinary citizen's welfare.

One of the most evident supporters of it is George Soros, a billionaire speculator who is only interested in creating distress and commotion.

Sometimes it reminds us of Nero, the Roman Emperor, who burned the City of Rome, just to watch the fire from his palace in the Mountain and enjoy the sight, while playing the Lyre.

Also, the Hollywood elite, with their hidden Nazi philosophy baggage from the 1930's is exercising their power, spreading the illusory way of life, thru an excess of liberalism and sexual freedom that has brought only corruption and a lower lifestyle to the World.

Liberalism is not an evil word, although the new concept of the Postmodern Liberalism with its evil alliances definitively is.

Political Correctness, A Mental Illness?

The European Debacle.

Political Correctness is a mental illness suffered by the Postmodern Liberal Movement followers in the USA and backed by the many World Liberal-Politicians responsible for the European political disaster, the new demographic mess and the terrible influence that the Islamic culture (uncultured in practice) is inflicting in it.

Not too long ago, Europe showed a peaceful, educated society, leaning to the left but with Capitalists overtones that kept it engaging and cosmopolitan, in fact, a Social Democracy.

Today, all that is gone and in countries like Belgium, France, Germany and even Switzerland, Sweden and others, the multicultural demographics and open borders have brought brutality and ignorance. A total nescience has replaced the vast knowledge and cultural wealth that was the European society's pride not too long ago.

Angela Merkel is the disgrace of Western Culture!

Amazingly, those Liberal Politicians are valuing immigration over their people's safety, with consequences like the Manchester and London massacre, and the latest France and Belgium attacks.

Most European politicians are deliberately hiding the disasters caused by the Muslim immigrants, the rapes of White European Women, the desecration of other religions items, especially Catholic churches and the destruction of old vestiges of non-Islamic civilization.

All that from places which by maintaining an ignorant and antiquated religious fanaticism, have been preventing the education of their people, to aid the governing elites, which take prey in the People's faith and the hideous observance of the wrong understanding or interpretations of their own scriptures.

Today, their embattled communities ride on the back of rapists, beggars, and the outcast, but most European politicians seem to enjoy their new Political Correctness fashion and the Multicultural mess which they show with a hidden sense of the old lost pride.

It seems the multiculturalism worked fine until the Middle East (Syria and Lebanon), exploded and propelled the rampage of millions of the lowest social class people, seeking refuge mainly in Europe, while the USA wisely remains for now, out of the target.

The only intentions of these invaders, wrongly called "immigrants" are the spreading of their religion: The Islam. Nothing else is important for them, and there are brain washed, encouraged to violate any laws or rules for the advancement of the Islam. It is written in the Koran and a part of the strategy to conquer the whole World, as they have been doing for the last 1400 years.

The West, however, instead of helping the Middle-Eastern to stay in the region, by helping their economy and stopping the Warlords to destroy their cities, aided some doubtful groups to continue a destructive war, for reasons I prefer not to bring up now, too painful to comment.

CHAPTER 4

The Difficult US Relationship With The Islam.

Obama Lied Saying

The Islam Has Never Been At War With The US.

Even if the reader would think the Islam's subject does not have a direct relationship with the Postmodern Liberalism, the invitation to become part of the Postmodern Liberal Movement it makes the issue a strongest link worth it to analyze in depth.

Some of us know Obama accessed the Presidency thru a mixture of lies and the fact that many people wanted to give a Black person a try at being Commander in Chief. Especially the Liberals.

To begin with it, people did not vet Obama properly or deeply enough. Moreover, his baggage was not that brilliant to make it an exceptional presidential candidate, other than his race, socially desired.

For years, the question remained on the minds of many US Citizens and the popular TV series "24", among others, featured a Black President, patriotic, successful, fighting the terrorism all the way and winning.

I also considered the chance, looking at a few possible candidates as Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice or Colin Powell among others.

That "24's" fantasy, represented by the most successful TV series at the time, believe it or not, encouraged the thought in many American minds. The possibility of a Black President came closer than ever and eventually real.

American TV audience is known to be heavily influenced by some TV series, and "24" is one of them, possibly a most influential in a very particular moment of the World's events. Terrorism activity was at the peak.

The reader must wonder about my evaluation, but the TV screen, daily intruding people's home, can achieve this and more. So, seeing a fictional Black President succeeding on the TV screen on a smash hit series was an encouragement, and the chance, in my belief, became plausible.

We must have in account that the majority of voters are mostly poorly politically educated.

Our great Albert Einstein used to joke about that. He had the understanding that 90% of electors were not even qualified to think wisely.

Destiny had put in the picture a young, one time Senator with a strong charisma, which rose among the Democrats, in a rapid, unexpected ascent in the US political history, reaching the US Senate, after a short campaign as a Harvard Student. Obama became the first black president of the prestigious Harvard Law Review.

After graduating, he returned to Chicago, in 1991 to work as a civil rights lawyer and a constitutional law teacher.

Obama's political career began in 1996. His first job was as Illinois state senator, after losing his first battle to Congress against Chicago Democrat Rep. Bobby Rush.

Four years later, after a series of scandals involving his Republican contender and a smart speech at the Democratic National Convention, he was often mentioned as a possible presidential candidate.

The US was ready to try a Black skin President, the son of a Black African man and a white Kansas woman.

His opponent, Hillary Clinton, possibly the worst candidate of all times, was what he needed to elevate him to the top. Her charisma was not even close to Barack Hussein Obama.

Clinton, never seriously considered as presidential material, cracked down when in the Iowa caucuses came third with 29% of the votes, right after Edwards with 30%, and Obama with 41%.

The rumors that Barak Hussein was a Muslim (although he said to be a Christian), also affirmed he was educated at a madrassa when he lived in Indonesia.

Obama lived with his mother and stepfather in Indonesia until age 10, when he moved back to Hawaii to live with his maternal grandparents, as he said in his autobiography.

Although CNN and others, in the Media, sent investigators to Indonesia, they found that he studied in a secular school that was also teaching the Koran as a primary religious class. Therefore Barak was educated as a Muslim.

His nationality was questioned in part because of some irregularity on his birth certificate and the disappearance of his student records in Hawaii. Some affirm that he enrolled as a "foreign student."

Later, Barak Hussein Obama admitted in several videos that he was the son of a Muslim and he loved and practiced the religion, also showing pictures wearing Muslim garment worshipping at a Mosque. There are no pictures of Obama worshipping Jesus Christ or at a Christian Church to my knowledge.

So, the big lie delivered to the American People with a sweet chocolate coating, helped Obama to become the first Black President of the USA and the first Muslim occupying the White House.

Obama Shows his Liberal Credentials.

Helped by the Mainstream Media, Obama was ready to push his Liberal Godless agenda onto the American People.

Obama's only relationship with the Christian faith was a close tie with the Rev. Jeremiah Wright, a pastor at the Trinity United Church of Christ in Chicago, labeled as Liberal, racist and a political terrorist enabler.

However, during his presidency, Hussein Obama gave millions of dollars away for the advancement of the Islam, who allowed building several Mosques, madrassas and other Islamic projects in the US and around the World.

The infamous "Nuclear deal" with Iran, was possibly the largest giveaway to the Islamic faith.

I have no knowledge of something similar in the benefit of Jewish, Christian or Hindu faith.

Clinton's followers accused Obama as an "Elitist," after Michele, his wife, made some disturbing comments, and even some of Hillary's followers were the initiators of the investigation of Obama's birth certificate, later called the Birther movement.

Despite the stumbles, he continued to top Clinton on the primaries. Obama evidently conquered the heart of the voters and four days after the Montana contest, Clinton conceded the race and vowed to support the Party's candidate, Barak Hussein Obama.

Obama delivered his message because he had gone thru divisions his entire life. Born in Hawaii in 1961, as he affirms, Obama is the son of a black man from Kenya and a white woman from Kansas.

When he was 2, his father left Barak's mother to study, as he said at Harvard University. Later returned to Kenya. Obama saw his father only once in his youth. But he knew how to exploit the situation for his benefit, masterfully, always praising his father, his faith and his guidance in life (?).

As I said before, Barak saw him only once in his youth.

A Smart Speech Made the Difference.

"There's not a liberal America and a conservative America; there is the United States of America. There's not a black America and a white America and Latino America and Asian America; there is the United States of America," Obama told the delegates at the National Convention.

That was a statement that only would be credible from the lips of a black person. I do not believe a white politician could have had any credibility saying those words at that time.

However, deep in his mind, he had a very different idea.

His tenure as a Commander in Chief changed our country in a more in-depth way we all expected, although he reached for more and couldn't accomplish it.

It is a miracle the Obama Administration could not have achieved better results on his intentions changing the country. The immigration from the Islamic countries was encouraged, but a natural resistance from the US citizens slowed down the flow into the land. Finally, the planned massive alien immigration encountered the end of Obama's Presidency and stopped the flowing and the damage to our society, although not yet fully evaluated. The miracle would work if those immigrants could be the few that truly desire to adopt our lifestyle and perhaps our primary religious practices, the ones our Founding Fathers envisioned for our future (Christian, mainly and Jewish, later, Hindu additionally). The immigration from the Indian Sub-Continent has been peaceful, positive, and while being so different to Christianity and Judaism, it carries a philosophical wealth that is enriching our culture and bringing a higher consciousness: The Vedic civilization.

The Eternal Conflict with the Islam.

Although Obama has repeatedly affirmed that the Islam has never been at war with the US, it is not true.

A few years after our Constitution was in place, we had a significant problem with the Pasha of Tripoli, the most powerful Islamic leader, when he ordered his armed forces to stop and kidnap the US ships navigating the Mediterranean Sea, demanding that the US Government pay ransom for the kidnapped passengers and crew.

Besides, Yusuf Qaramanli, the Pasha of Tripoli, established a tax around the 10% of the US Gross National Product. The tax, submissively assumed by the US Government, under President John Adams, who estimated that, was worth it to pay the tax to be able to conduct business in the region, rather than engaging in a war with the Barbary States.

Some politicians as Vice President Thomas Jefferson disputed the idea, while he was inclined to go to War with the Barbary Pirates who were extorting the USA and the rest of the European Nations who wanted to travel the Mediterranean Sea waters.

In 1798, the Pasha declared War on the US, demanding an increase in the tax paid by the Americans, but President John Adams was contrary to that, saying: "If we to go to war with the Muslims, we will be at War forever with them."

President Adams remarked: "I do not know if the American people have the stomach for that."

However, the Islamic leadership, at that time named the Barbary States, is now the Radical Islamic Terrorists. They continue to attack and kill our peaceful citizens, merciless and brutally.

While Muslim terrorists kidnapped and killed innocent people around the world as they continue to do today, Thomas Jefferson knew how to end radical Islam's bloodshed – with a classic American take-no-prisoners smack down.

Later, after becoming President, Thomas Jefferson refused to play games when given the choice of appeasement or confrontation in the face of terror.

In his book "The Jefferson Lies," Historian David Barton wrote, "Jefferson led America's first war against radical Islam." Moreover, we can see many parallels between the new American Republic struggle against the Barbary Pirates and the current war against Muslim Radical Terrorists.

Jefferson was very clear about protecting US property and people around the World as he did within our land.

"The Jefferson Lies" was labeled so politically incorrect; the original publisher pulled it from shelves!

The Islam's Goal: Establishment of a Worldwide Caliphate.

During the period of the American Revolution and the Early Republic, American merchants and sailors were under constant threat from North African Nations or "The Barbary States," the Muslim pirates. More than one million Europeans were captured and enslaved by the Muslim in the 16th and 18th centuries. Baltimore, a village in Ireland was famously ransacked, and its entire population enslaved by the Muslims.

Jefferson and Adams, while in London around 1801/1802, spoke to the Tripoli Ambassador, Abd Al-Rahman, questioning him on why the Barbary Pirates thought they should declare war on a nation that had never done anything to harm them. The Muslim ambassador's responded, "It is written in the Koran, that all nations who will not acknowledge the Islam's authority were sinners and that it was their duty to make war upon them, and to make slaves of all they could take as prisoners."

The Koran-quoting is one of the reasons the Muslim consider us their enemies and our people condemned to die unless they surrender to the Islam.

After hearing the outrageous statement, Adams and Jefferson were encouraged to seek their copies of the Koran.

Jefferson, however, is believed to have owned a copy of the Koran since 1765.

Probably, the Koran writers intended to say it philosophically, but the Muslim's lack of education and their high grade of fanaticism, have taken the scriptures as literally, although they are brutal and savage.

It seems the Muslims mixed their faith with the World's reality, thinking that the verses written in the Koran could become the Law Of The Planet, dismissing any other countries or philosophical documents.

The Vedas are a superior authority since fifty-five hundred years ago.

The Old Testament some five thousand years ago, and the Torah about forty-five hundred years ago.

The Koran is only fourteen hundred years old and spoken from the mouth of Mohammed, without corroboration of any kind, since it seems to be the product of a dream and subsequent "appearances" of God in the Prophet's mind.

Moreover, the Koran shows obvious similitude with the Vedic Scriptures. Muslim scholars often say: "If you do not find it in the Koran, search the Vedas."

Adams and Jefferson had a fundamental disagreement about the Islamic terrorism.

"John Adams, as president, refused to use the navy to fight the pirates. He said: "If we get involved in a conflict with radical Islam, we will be fighting them forever." "I do not think the American People as a stomach for it."

The Jefferson Resistance.

In contrast, Jefferson as secretary of state under George Washington and as vice president under Adams had long experience of dealing with the Barbary pirates for 15 years, and he had a different approach.

Jefferson wanted to put an end to the terrorism. He had seen the future! An Islamic Worldwide Caliphate.

While Adams refused to go to war, Jefferson asked the United States cease paying the tribute demanded by the Barbary States.

When Jefferson became president in 1801, the Pasha of Tripoli required tribute, which Jefferson refused. The result was the First Barbary War.

When the Muslims wrecked the U.S.S. Philadelphia, and its crew captured, Adm. Stephen Decatur burned the ship, so the Muslims could not use it. That made him a National Hero.

Then, the American forces were able to seize territory in the area and force a peace treaty, which freed the captured crew. The US Marines immortalized these victories by a verse of the "Marines' Hymn" which refers to the "shores of Tripoli."

President Madison Finally Ended the Muslim Extortion.

However, the Barbary Pirates or Muslim terrorists did not terminate the threat to the United States. Within only a few years of the treaty put an end to the war, in 1815 the Barbary pirates were once again raiding American ships. This act drove the USA to the second Barbary Wars, until 1816.

Finally, President Madison, it would ultimately end the American payments to the Islamic corsairs of North Africa.

If the United States had followed the European practice of just paying off the Islamic pirates, the problem could have continued indefinitely.

Unfortunately, and mainly because the Koran says it, the Muslims continue to attack America, and the old Pirates have become the ISIS, the AL-QAIDA, and other terrorist groups, continuing to attack our civilization aggressively, just because they read it in the Koran.

Today, we can see the similar pattern at work, in the USA and European latest Muslim invasions, performing massive assaults and raping of European women, a practice that the EU Politicians are ignoring and even hiding from the people, in an unsound Political Correctness practice.

The Muslim penchant for the desecration of Christianity continues as scheduled, at the same time they proceed to attack Jewish and Hindu symbols.

Their old ways are stretching, and wherever there is a biblical site, a Buddhist, Jewish or Christian symbol, a Hindu Temple, as dogs do it, they mark it for desecration and demolition. After that, they proceed to build an Islamic symbol that of course will generate a reply from the victims, and that attitude keeps the hostilities going on forever.

Education About The Past Is A Must.

Unfortunately, the Postmodern Liberal Movement is trying to hide the history regarding our serious discrepancies with the Islam, and instead, they are siding with the Terrorist sponsoring groups, against the US Conservatives.

They are pushing for allowing people from obvious Terrorist Countries (all them of Islamic religion).

However, the latest events have exceeded the patience on the Western side, and we, in the West need to confront the Radical Islamic Terror.

To have the people's support, we must spread around the knowledge of history and keep showing how the old Muslim tactics are repeating at present.

It is incomprehensible why, in 1801, under the same Constitution, the Muslims were repealed after their declaration of war, and today the Congress and Senate, are interpreting the First Amendment. The Islam is included as a single religion, although in practice, they are a four tier way of life: 1) A Trading Nation, 2) A Military power, 3) A Political Force, and finally, 4) A Religion. In the final stage, they force people to accept the Islam, as the Musselman Ambassador in England said: because it is written in the Koran.

The efforts by German authorities to conceal crimes committed by Muslims are nothing but submission. Something it appears to be in their DNA. Angela Merkel undoubtedly is a disgrace to Western Culture.

The European leaders have an attitude of placating, rather than confronting. It seems the horrors of the Nazi mistakes made them afraid to show pride and defend themselves from the bully Islam.

Postmodern Political Correctness is rampant in Europe, and unfortunately, our Postmodern Liberal Movement is taking those failing European Countries as an example to follow.

They decided to curtail their rights, rather than secure them. They are behaving just like they did 200 years ago. They have not learned a thing.

Meanwhile, the United States, after Jefferson's decision and Madison confirmation, became a World Power with a massive growth.

Now, Europe is succumbing to a greater invasion, that is generating new natural citizens, by birth, with the Muslim's determination to impose their way of life, including their religion: The Islam, which is determined to overwhelm any other religion or philosophy.

Islamic Leaders constantly say: "We will accomplish the task, either by the pregnant wombs or by the sword, as the Koran states."

The German Court System is collapsing, having a backload of over 35,000 immigration cases, which is causing a complete failure of the system.

Although some European politicians are ready to fight the invasion, the majority is submissively placating it.

The bullies Islamic Terrorists are inflicting fear among the Europeans.

The United States Ready to Combat the Islam.

Luckily, the electoral victory obtained by Donald J. Trump, and his assumption of the 45th Presidency of the United States, has brought us to the conviction that the greatest Republic in the World is ready and able to fight the Radical Islamic Terrorists and win the war.

The International Tour by President Trump delivered an unequivocal message, that enough is enough.

But, the World needs to remember, to revise the history and to see the similarities and patterns that continue to repeat on the part of the Barbary Pirates today, acting with different names as ISIS, AL-QAIDA, TALIBAN, HEZBOLLAH, HAMAS, BOKO HARAM and others.

The truth is that they are all driven by the same source, and all obey the Koran.

There is no difference between the followers of said book because the mandates and goals are the same.

Basically what the Tripoli Ambassador to London, Abd Al-Rahman, questioned by Jefferson and Adams on "why the Barbary Pirates thought they should declare war on a nation that had never done anything to harm them."

The Muslim ambassador's responded, "It is written in the Koran, that all nations who will not acknowledge the Islam's authority were sinners and that it was their duty to make war upon them, and to make slaves of all they could take as prisoners."

So, this is the truth, and we rather acknowledge it and fight it, right now.

There is a Muslims say: "The price for us is too high to pay. If you pay, we will back off and leave you guys alone." Unfortunately, the Muslims are known for not keeping their word or promises. They will never cease to insist on advancing the Islam, at any cost, which of course includes violence.

The Koran encourages its followers to lie (among other horrors) if it is for the advancement of the Islam.

However, as in the Adam and Jefferson's days, the question is "whether the United States has the moral and economic strength to confront Islamic radicalism." As John Adams argued so many years ago, "it is an open question whether the United States People has the stomach for an extended conflict." We must remember Jefferson's attitude, something that it seems is in President Trump's mind too.

The enormous problem is "The Postmodern Liberal Epidemic," and their "Political Correctness," something that only with education, the revision of the Main-Street Media attitude, and stopping the financial help from the Hollywood Elite.

Also, a full call to history and the 'memory refreshing' of the Islamic repeating patterns could be achieved, maybe.

Meanwhile, the facts are in sight. The Muslim population keeps growing exponentially, while the Western procreation is descending.

In addition, the Islamic invasions continue to overwhelm European land, and the desecration and destruction of old non-

Islamic symbols, including Christian churches, Hindu, and Jewish Temples continue, frantically and unstoppable by the weak Western culture in Europe.

The U.S. Needs to Revise the Islam Status Before the Constitution.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement is our present real threat, the mole within us. There is a self-destructing thought we must overcome because it proposes a distortion in our traditional values. The ones who allowed our Nation to be a World Leader for such a long time.

We need to renovate our patriotism, our existence, our pride and the defense of our precious Legacy: The Constitution.

We must realize that our country has achieved success over the years and leadership in the World because of a serious Republicanism (I do not mean it in the Partisan way but in the etymological sense), by defending and enforcing the Constitution.

However, in my mind hangs the idea of why, in 1801, the Muslims, who are Islamists, engaged in a war with the US and it was contested by two Presidents, why now our Judges are defending a consuetudinary foe that continues to decimate our people?

I am no Constitutional Lawyer, but it makes common sense that we have to revise our Constitutional Laws and to be more Patriots, rather than continue to defend others in detriment of our people.

Religious freedom, the essence of the First Amendment is great, but the Koran is not only opposed to our Constitution but also aggressive to it, and their primary goal is destroying our Republican values, our Democracy and our bill of rights.

Why then, we continue to observe and grant the Islam a privilege, when the Koran is definitively a threat to our lifestyle and what our Constitution says.

We need to rewind and replay the history.

Those old values we have to bring up and rise to the sky, as our flag and be proud of them because God blesses them. Not meant as a religious thought, but as a scientific fact, that consciousness is reminding us.

Just looking around we can see God's creation, and we must be joyful to bow before it.

The Differences in the Scriptures.

By reading the Koran's phrase mentioned by the Pasha of Tripoli to President's Adams and Jefferson, we can see that unless they take a different approach when reading the holy book, the conflict will continue. As I wrote in my book SAVING AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL:

"THEY (Islamic people) MUST CHANGE THE INTERPRETATION OF THE KORAN, and adapt the meaning to a modern and realistic educated World, which is evolving and try sharing instead of dominating if they want to stop being our foes.

As a student of the Bhagavad Gita and other Scriptures part of the VEDAS, I found out that some parts of them could be interpreted as potentially violent if one confuses the Spiritual meanings and the materialistic ones.

However, it is all a matter of appealing to the intelligence that God himself has granted us to develop a peaceful and harmonious World to enjoy his creation and the development of freedom of choice and goodness."

However, until then, as Donald Trump has said, we must stop all Islamic immigration, not because of religious issues but to end the violence in our civilization for security reasons.

We must revise the Constitution First Amendment and stop consider the Islam as only a religion, allow it to be practiced, but we should ban the Military and Political Aspects of the Islam. They are highly invasive and poisonous to our Democracy and Republican values. Besides, they have the clear intention to exterminate our Republican and Democratic values, which the Islamist consider contrary to the Koran's mandates.

Obviously, the Islamist does not want to share but dominate the whole World.

We Must Find a Constitutional Compromise!

So, I hope little by little the truth about this dangerous group of People who's growth is exponentially very high because of the rate at which their women give birth, against the Christians: (7 to 1) or the Jewish even at a lesser rate due to the religious restrictions to performing sex. (Practiced by some groups in the Jewish Religion.)

The fact is, and the Muslims vow publicly that at the end, they will predominate numerically because of their birth rate is superior to the rest of us.

We must understand that because the Islam discourages the universal education among their people, and their living standards are among the lowest, they welcome a reckless growth of the population, to achieve a massive group. While the higher education goals of the Western culture curbs the natality to keep a controlled birth rate, trying to avoid poverty and ignorance.

By now, I believe to have exposed my case, and all I desire is that every non-Muslim individual, gets a copy of the Koran, the Hadith, and the Sharia Law, reads them and corroborates what I have been writing up to now!" Moreover, it would also be good that Muslims read the Koran and find the horrors I have encountered.

Obama knows the Holy Koran well, and surely one of the most significant mandates in it is the recommendation that "Anything can be used for the advance of the Islam." So, cheating, lying, murdering, enslaving, prostituting, and why not "assuming the Presidency of the Islam's most despised Nation in the World" is valid to advance the Islam.

Obama tried all that, with a measure, because also he was about to protect his ego, avoiding being impeached or judged by the American People as an apocryphal President.

Obama's ego is enormous, and he will defend it to the end with nails and teeth.

So, as a legacy of his presidency, he left roadblock all over, to stop the next President. He filled the District courts with Liberal judges; he left the White House plagued with holdover Liberal employees in the key positions that today are leaking classified information to the Media.

Unfortunately, many people in those jobs are difficult to fire them because of the laws that protect them, but little by little eventually will be removed.

But overall, Obama designed the actual Postmodern Liberal Movement to try stopping the Conservative Movement.

Postmodern Liberals Want a Godless Society!

We must recognize that the American People is severely divided and only a generational change could solve the problem. The Postmodern Liberals will remain on the left and Conservatives on the right and center. It is almost impossible, that could be modified.

Only an extremely successful presidency by Donald J. Trump could change some minds, although the hardcore Liberals, will die before recognizing such a victory, even if benefits them personally.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement, with its flagship, the Political Correctness, is a way of life, a pagan religion that feeds on sex, artificial gender preferences and a secular philosophy. A Godless Society.

Everything in the Postmodern Liberal tent is anti-spiritual and the culture they promote, feeds on sexual preferences, racism, and intolerance, although they encourage ambiguous issues, confusing and controversial.

For the Postmodern Liberals, the easiest thing is to revert the charges and to accuse non-leftists of being Fascists.

They ignore that Fascism ideology is a creation of the Socialist Party member Benito Mussolini, and of course a part of the Lefty philosophy.

Here is a definition of Fascism in the Dictionary: "a political philosophy, movement, or regime that exalts nation and often race above the individual and that stands for a centralized autocratic government. (The Liberals are furiously against White People, mainly the White Male.) They push severe economic and social regimentation and forcible suppression of opposition. Also promote an extensive welfare system and free borders, allowing anyone to come into the country. That is exactly what Postmodern Liberals are trying to impose.

Liberals seek to establish the optional gender definition as if God's creation could be genetically modified after birth.

They are also forming groups to manipulate children as young as three-year-old, whose parents try to change their gender by feeding them with hormones. This process, already denounced on TV by Tucker Carlson, is playing with these tender individuals, modifying behaviors and dangerously altering their minds and psychological behaviors, feeding them with synthetic hormones. Being those children that young are not yet being able to define their lives, such project is inhuman and despicably sexually oriented. Postmodern Liberalism is definitively a brainless sick ideology.

In Portland, Oregon, Liberal activists drove two women out of business because, after a trip to Mexico, they learned how to make first class burritos and returning to their hometown, they opened a mobile business in a truck with a huge success. Liberals accused them of "appropriating ethnic business and being racist." "The 'Portland Mercury' pounced: "painting the female entrepreneurs contributing to society as racist, sticky-fingered villains." The Portland Mercury called the closure a 'victory.'

Maybe the Spanish people who own pizza shops should be denounced for Italian identity appropriation?

The United States has always been a melting pot, and the ethnic cultures shared without any problems until the Postmodern Liberal Movement appeared to spoil our lives.

I cannot believe our Land of Opportunity has become a bully society, intolerant and bigot in the hands of the Liberals.

Everything in the Postmodern Liberal tent is directed to "punish" the white majority, the Conservatives and trying to push their agenda, which is, as said before, all based on a materialistic vision of life, based on sexual preferences and devoid of spirituality.

The gender mystified, the homosexuality put before the cis-gender, and everything turned upside down to satisfy a handful of "hypersensitive snowflakes" that pretend to make their way, to destroy the history of the most successful Democracy in the Planet.

Meanwhile, the World still turning, procreation still between a Female and a Male, and the day follows the night, ever and ever. That is the Creator's design: Unchanged, undeniable although a bunch of nuts called Postmodern Liberals attempt to change it. Failure is assured, but we must be vigilant and active to remind them the facts and the truth.

POSTMODERN LIBERALISM

CHAPTER 5

The Postmodern Liberal Movement Is Born.

The Democratic Party Metamorphosis.

Although we can trace the postmodern era between the 1920's and 2000, "postmodern style of painting," was defined, as a way to depart from French Impressionism and in Literature, the Existentialism lead by Jean-Paul Sartre, which had some briefly featured moments was also a cairn marking the transition.

History tells that in the late 1970's, there was a significant change taking place that shifted the period to contemporary. I call it Postmodern.

Several iconic signs were forming in those years, where the reestablishment of Rock & Roll in the US, introducing the UK Rock.

On the other side, the recorded music industry began to give way to the rappers, under the Hip-Hop labeling, and also, in the academic circles, the works of various modern "philosophers" took center stage.

They were carrying different opinions and developments of several theories, influenced by many schools, in the pens or pixels of German and French thinkers. They are familiarly identifiable as "philosophy speculators," (like the Top World Vedic-Scholar, Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupada used to say). We must remember that in September of 1969, The Beatles received Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupada, the founder of the Hare Krishna Movement as a guest in Tittenhurst Park, the eight-acre British estate owned by John Lennon, where "Sriila Prabhupada" gave spiritual lectures three or four times a week.

Later in a tall building that was named "The Temple." The site still untouched today, owned by Ringo Starr.

However, the basic change in our World and the establishment of the Postmodern Liberalism became prominent around the 1980's, with major shifts in the popular music, art, fashion, drug culture, massive illegal immigration and a huge technological development.

Never before, the World had experienced such a radical change, and the Silicon Valley was the center of such evolution. That also gave way to a commotion in the education centers and a politicization of the Campuses life. Not all Campuses responded to these changes, but the State of California leads the trend, once again, although now negatively.

In 1968, the Berkeley University, California was the leader of the "Free Speech" movement, but now in 2017, things dramatically changed to a regressive level.

During the electoral period and after it, groups of Liberal extremists organized many violent and bloody rallies, destroying private and public property as it was never seen before in the history of our country.

The violence, the pre-planned destruction, mainly in dissatisfaction with the 2016 election's result, pushed some groups of leftists, illegal aliens, and Democratic Partisan members to the streets near the University Campuses in a savage and destructive rampage. The Free Speech has been suppressed.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement was born.

Hillary Clinton's supporters, who in dismay for her losing the election against Donald Trump, entered in a comatose climax incited by a word, that by now, has become an icon inside the Democratic Party: "resist."

Mrs. Clinton repeats this word like a mantra, claiming, every time she goes public that the Russians, in collusion with Trump's campaign, was the main cause of her defeat. Hillary even wrote two books explaining her defeat.

However, even the most vocal Democratic Senator, Chuck Schumer, had lately declared "when you lost an election to a candidate with 40% of the votes, then it was your fault."

After a period of silence, Mrs. Clinton has reappeared in the political scene, now blaming the Russians, Director James Comey, the Media and also, surprisingly, the DNC.

Clinton says now that she did not inherit anything from the Democratic Party. There was no organization, no money, no credible data, nothing at all and she was left alone to organize the campaign. In other words, she is blaming everybody else for her failure to become President, but her.

She claims the former FBI Director James Comey, by bringing back the email issue a few days before the election (the opposite would have been unlawful), saying that there was new evidence to be considered, provoked the people dropping their support for her. This issue, Mrs. Clinton claims, it was the main cause of her loss of votes.

That political unrest on the part of Democrats has been a major cause for the alliance, now integrated by the remains of the Democratic Party, the Liberals, the Left (Socialists and Communists), Anarchists and the Islamists (?). The last one, with their ultra-totalitarian ideas and the worst records on women's rights, and Civil rights that conflict with the Democrats standing for women's advancement.

This bunch has taken the lead in a ferocious front against the President Donald J. Trump.

The Personal Hatred Against Donald J. Trump.

Asked many of them, the Liberal protesters, they say to be determined to bring down Mr. Trump, and they will not settle for less. That is their only goal, though when asked why the majority does not know. It is a personal hatred against the President whom they blame for Clinton's failure. (?)

Liberals are desperate to see the President impeached and brought down. They dream that possibility. They want a new President, and they cannot wait to the next election. They want it now!

However, different polls show that those for an impeachment do not know the reasons for it. Ignorance is rampant among the Liberals.

It will not be easy to accomplish such a monumental task. After eight months from the first accusation of Trump's campaign being in collusion with the Russians, there is no evidence at sight, and although the Liberals continue to accuse the President of wrongdoing publicly, there is not a shred of proof or serious indication of such a crime have been committed. The Democrats are only extending a negative propaganda campaign against the President, hoping to maintain the people building hatred against Mr. Trump.

So, they keep adding other suspicions like the "alleged" Jared Kushner illegal contacts with the Russian Ambassador, trying to establish a "backtrack" with the Russian Government, something that it would have been legal and practiced by prior administrations as Obama, Bush, Clinton, Regan, and others.

Washington is a mad house, with the DNC running like a "chicken without a head."

The Democrats are obviously without a credible Leader.

Researching for data, we can name some actors in the broad Liberal movement that, since the middle of the 20th Century and probably before, began making a departure from modernism, searching for new horizons, altered and influenced by the technological advancements.

So, no names, because it is not the idea discussing here those different speculative theories which after all, have left little influence in our daily lives.

It is preferable to overlook the various names assigned to these ephemeral changes, that as usual, while considered relevant at the time of developing our story, history shows us, their overall influence in real life was insufficient to be taken seriously.

However the stomping of the Postmodern Liberalism in our lives, politically and socially speaking, is the real change affecting us today and the product: hatred and division.

The Snowflake's Complaints.

The impact generated by many of them is so tiny that is like "snowflakes" falling in the middle of a snowstorm that melts at the touch of the ground. They leave no traces, other than the memories when falling.

So much has been going on thru the years and life offered such meager changes. Some, we must admit, attempting to make some sense. The speculation while entertaining it could be a waste of time and may keep people from using their energy in a much valuable way.

Although there are individuals, who need to occupy their lives learning from others or experimenting others thoughts, following them is a personal option.

It is not about criticizing other people's works of their minds, trying to understand life and human behavior.

We all have our predilections and aspirations, and of course, the right to develop them or even exercises them.

These are some of the issues that the Postmodern Liberals today are trying to suppress, restrict or re-direct under their terms. They have an apparent determination to "guide" or influence people what to think and how to live.

We are living a regression of our culture, where the Postmodern Liberal Movement is trying to suppress rights that a few years ago the traditional "Liberals" were fighting to expose and defend.

The Vedic Philosophy Teachings.

The Genders.

Bhaktivedanta Swami Prabhupada, a true scholar of the Vedas and prolific author of dozens of books, and translations from the old Vedic Scriptures has thought us unforgettable lessons.

However, the massive influence those lectures transmitted among his disciples and students, it is an invaluable wealth.

Even nowadays, science bows down before the Vedic Physics, Vedic Philosophy, and Vedic sciences in the broad approach.

One can go back and forth in time to realize that the basics of life are unchanged, unchangeable and the speculation can alter the terms temporarily, but at the end of any cycle, we go back to our roots, and the basics values remain the same, although some progress stay.

Life, among the species, it is spread and multiplied thru a male sperm and a female egg, except for some animal species and their uniqueness in their reproduction styles.

About humans, we still depend on female and male, as the joining forces to procreate other people and regardless of the multiple attempts to change it, we keep coming back to the original.

A Man having sex with a Woman, may open the opportunity for the sperm entering the egg and start the process of procreation, that after nine months in average, will bear another human being, unless some exterior incidents or organ malfunctions stop it.

As we all know, there are alternative forms to bring to life the conjunction of the sperm and the egg, but the origin remains the same. A female is a receptacle, and a male is an impregnator.

However, here we are, that after millions of years of the same, a group that calls themselves Liberals, a conjunction of different political sectors but with a common enemy, called Conservatism, have lately joined forces.

They are to deny the usual way we denominate things, as simple as a Woman and a Man, the principal actors that confirm the Gender definition.

Gender is a word that Liberals hate, and they are frantically trying to eliminate from the Language, any Language.

This Liberal movement, which we call the Postmodern Liberal Movement, has taken over the Democratic Party, with the consent of their leaders at the time, who because of their weakness showed in the last election, allowed and promoted a metamorphosis that ended with the essential values of their Party.

The main reason Hillary lost the election was the lack of a platform, the inexistence of real issues, the lack of communication to the people, desperately looking for a clue, a guide that could not be found in Clinton's speech. "Stronger together?" It did not work.

Let's face it: The Democratic Party is today without a leader. Being a Political Leader requires many features, the most important one is the credibility, but as in the case of the Entertainment of Sports stars, it is a condition that it is not only not visible but projecting a Karma, a sense of trust and an image impossible to describe accurately with words.

Whatever it is, the Democratic Party does not have that kind of person. That is the major problem but not the only one.

Since the 2016 election, after the defeat of Hillary Clinton, the Democratic politicians have spent 100% of their time deprecating Donald J. Trump, exclusively.

The Democrats never talk about the Party's platform ideas. Only throwing dirt against the President.

Long forgotten are the issues to benefit the Middle-Class, the economy, Job creation, the taxation and other relevant matters. Not even talking about the Islamic Terrorism, which Obama took out of the agenda, or any other important issue on Foreign Policy or National Security.

Only in July 2017, they decided to come up with a new slogan: "A Better Deal," which announces: Better Jobs, Better Wages, Better Future.

Will this slogan be effective? Nobody knows. As a motto is a little naive, washed out and lacked pizzazz.

However, Democrats realize they have mistaken the image chosen. Recently, Minority Speaker Nancy Pelosi has declared that the Democratic Party must stop deprecating President Trump because the voters do not see that approach as favorable.

The Lousy Obama's Political Legacy.

Under President Obama, Democrats have lost over 1.042 state legislature seats, 12 governorships, 69 House seats, 13 Senate seats and millions of voters refused to vote the Party again. Also, another Democratic Governor switched recently to the Republican Party.

After eight years of Barack Obama, the US political map is mostly red and the first attempts at recovering some of those lost seats, have failed.

Also, Obama added ten trillion dollars extra to our National Debt, doubling the prior debt left by the combining 43 prior Presidents.

Up to now, Republicans have won five special elections that Democrats were seeing as potential referendums on President Trump.

In 2016, Democrats got wounded in their feelings like never before. Now, they have a hard time trying to re-vamp their Party's values, mainly because their "regional leaders" are full time occupied trying to destroy President Trump. They are setting roadblocks, activating protests, rallies and other forms of animosity against our President like we have never seen before.

The Democrats are inventing charges that proved to be unsubstantiated, creating false suspicions, the elaborated famous "Russian Collusion" which after a year, there is no proof to show.

The MSM keeps helping to elaborate false stories and lies, lies, lies.

Meanwhile, the President has shown a strong mind and a firm determination to go ahead with his projects, substantially delayed by the Democrats obstruction in Congress and many "never Trump" Senators.

Trump wants to recover the country from several years of mismanagement and dilapidation of our wealth.

Obama doubled the US National Debt as never seen before.

He inherited less than ten trillion dollars of National Debt left by President G.W. Bush, and in eight years, he doubled it to more than twenty trillion dollars, without counting the future spending he committed.

As we can see, it seems easy to have good reviews on a government that spent our tax dollars by mortgaging the country's future, leaving outrageous excessive payments to the coming generations. That is the result Obama's Government has left us, and the core of the Postmodern Liberal Movement that he established as part of his Legacy.

Moreover, the former POTUS has left the country a depleted Armed Forces, diminished the soldiers in service and the number of Warplanes and Warships. Also, he allowed the North Korea Dictator Kim Jong Un to dangerously advance to achieve a nuclear program, now with an H-Bomb.

So the Democratic Party Leaders, unable to come up with a good candidate for the 2016 elections, chose Hillary Clinton, whose famous last name and her "woman's" status, they thought it was enough to win, also pressured by the traditional party's leadership, and trying to return favors.

When in the 2008 election Obama beat Clinton and to keep the Democratic Congress support, Obama was forced to name her Secretary of State, to keep her name as a sure continuation of his Legacy.

However, Obama made a great mistake choosing a weak candidate that also made gross mistakes that cost people's lives, while she was Secretary of State.

Trump, aware of those errors, put his fingers in the wound.

In an unseen before and different political strategy, Trump dug deeply into the Benghazi Embassy killings, the ill-famous illegal email account, who finally deleted over 33.000 emails, and the corrupt Clinton Foundation, that allowed Bill Clinton to pocket millions of dollars from foreign country's "donations."

An obvious example is the Hillary Clinton's selling off 20% of our Uranium reserves to Russia, and the suspicious immediate contribution to the Clinton's Foundation of 145 million dollars by Putin's associates.

Also, Bill Clinton was personally paid a half million dollars for a speech in Moscow.

Hillary Clinton, trying to get out of the email scandal, was not able to implement an effective strategy to defeat the Republican Candidate and the rest is history.

Trump was elected the 45th President of the United States, but his problems only started on January 20th, 2017.

The In-House Enemy.

The Never Trumpers.

Also, a completely disunited Republican Senate acts more as an enemy to the President than his supporters. They cannot recover from the fact that a "mildly" Republican new leader (I call him a 'Liberal-Conservative') is trying to implement real changes to the traditional GOP's ways of doing business and of course the Washington Establishment behavior.

Republican members of Congress and the House seem to ignore the extra votes that helped Republicans to regain the White House are non-traditional conservatives.

There is a true change in the country and not being able to recognize it, is unprofessional and dangerous.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement's growth also has a consequence in the traditional Conservative side. Many of the displaced middle-class that didn't align with the radicalism of the Postmodern Liberals went to the Trump's tent.

However, unfortunately, although they were the weight that tipped the scale to the right, the old Republican Party's conservative section is not welcoming their help because they are demanding new ways of doing politics that clash with their old GOP's stagnated standards.

So, the result is a series of internal roadblocks that are keeping the President from advancing his plans faster. Senators:

Moskowitz, Collins, McCain, and Flake, are the major obstacles to the President's agenda.

It is hard to believe that old seasoned politicians cannot see that if they continue to put barriers in the President's way, 2018 and 2020 elections are so near, that a mildly intelligent observer could smell many losses of congressional seats, now occupied by Republicans. They could be replaced by Democrats, new Republicans (Trump voters) or even Independents.

Also, the GOP must not forget the popularity of Bernie Sanders.

The disunity in the Republican Party is hard to understand.

The never Trumper's must end the child's game. They must grow up or face self-destruction!

They cannot see that votes do not just multiply like amoebas and that to expand the Conservative movement, they need to widen their way of thinking and admit some people from the center-left side, I call them: Liberal-Conservatives. I am one of them.

There is no other way.

As the Liberals annexed the Left, some Democrats, Socialists, Communists and lately the Islamists, the Republicans need to welcome the Democrats that cannot go further left and decided to stay in the center. So, unless the old conservatism understands the need for expansion in their philosophy and reaches to the center, and even center-left, they would have to try to enjoy what Trump's Legacy is so far.

A temporary tipping of the scale for the Republicans to enjoy four years as a majority, even though they are building their coffin from the inside out.

It is sad, seeing old seasoned politicians being so stubborn, especially when their political lives are in danger.

The Democratic Party In Denial.

Meanwhile, the Democrats continue to be in denial.

They took the loss of the 2016 elections so hard that they are unable to recover from it.

All they are doing is, agitating their base, encouraging the militants to go out and "resist," as their only hope. They expect a miracle.

Because the left is known for all their followers being hardcore militants, and active public supporters of its ideals, the chosen battle that was taken, is showing an incredible amount of people complaining, accusing, denouncing and otherwise being vocal about anything possible to demonstrate the discontent with the electoral result.

The Democratic Party, which in the past had a clear, unique progressive philosophy, today shows a big problem.

It is not clear what that platform is.

For many, the Democratic base includes African Americans, Latinos, LGBT, young voters, union members, and women.

This evaluation is of little value since not all members of those communities are Democrats.

However, it is not a big deal to attach percentages, since these numbers, constantly change. A good observer can notice that Democrats have been much better militants, louder and aggressive than Republicans, and they always appear to be in greater quantities than they are.

Recently, with the Social Media craze growing and expanding it is common to see the Democrats being matched by Republicans in the comments.

It seems the Conservatives are more inclined to appear in public when don't have to travel to be seen and don't need to make use of force to be publicly present.

In recent events, although the Democrats are more prominent in public acts, there is an increase of Republicans, coming mainly from the Center left, that have the courage and the time to show up at public events, although they are becoming more dangerous, because of the increasing aggressiveness of the Liberals at rallies.

The latest addition to a group named "Antifa," dressing all in black, masked and yielding clubs, studs and pepper spray, have been battering the Republicans and Trump supporters, before the Police passivity, which have orders from Democratic Mayor's to stand down.

One thing we must acknowledge. The face of the Republican Party is changing, and if the old thinkers, too extreme conservative for our times do not update their thoughts and learn we are living a very different World, they will soon be replaced with more intelligent and modern potential candidates, who understand the new deal.

On the Democratic side, the new militants, are composed of the unemployed, the new receivers of the SNAP program, the disability recipients and illegal immigrants, all them looking to dismantle the Conservative Movement.

The methods utilized are violence, arson, destruction of private and public property, and every single way to inspire fear and unrest to the Conservatives.

The Mainstream Media helps with lies and fake news.

The Mainstream Media Fake News.

The Mainstream Media has added lately the infamous "Fake news," based mainly on what they call "Undisclosed sources" or "Anonymous confidential sources." They claim that to preserve the flowing of tips and information that become news, they must maintain those sources anonymous, adding a great deal of "fake news" to try damaging the Conservative Government.

George Soros and Islamists groups are financially aiding the Liberals, to travel, getting weapons, propaganda material, and lately technological support to make websites and spreading hatred thru Social Media.

Also, a part of corporate America led by some Liberal executives has joined the fierce opposition to the Trump Government.

A clear view is telling us what the Obama Administration highest levels used to say about the Liberals in the past. Regarded as "f%*(" retarded, (Quoting former Chief of Staff Rahm Emmanuel, today they are the "desired militants" needed to build a "resists" Liberal movement within the Party.

The less educated Members of Congress, contribute to the aggression as the prominent examples of Maxine Waters and others less famous but equally stupid in their rants.

We must not forget the Democratic Party is yet the recipient of the votes. The Postmodern Liberals were able to come up with their crazy demands that in a moment of disarray, confusion, loss of direction and political chaos, are supplying new weapons to fight the Conservative Movement.

Although the issues could be as crazy as the demands, they are trying to push them through.

However, they will never tell or recognize that in the past, Democrats were for Slavery and defended it even with violence. They started the Civil War against the people that wanted to stop the slave trading. Democrats also founded the KKK Movement and opposed every civil rights act in US history. We must remember General Nathan Bedford Forrest co founded the KKK and was its first grand wizard.

No, they will never admit that. However, it does not change the facts.

The Mainstream Media keeps a dedicated animosity toward the President, denying his victories and occupying their time with hateful rants and fake stories. This shabby behavior has never been seen before in our country. However, it is working against the Media outlets whose popularity is continuously decreasing. The latest polls show them way under the President's numbers.

What The Postmodern Liberals Want.

The 2016 election was hard for Democrats and Liberals. The American People changed the way they think and thought them a hard lesson: The safety of our Land is critical and open borders, although it might sound humanistically attractive and very progressive, it is a danger to our established way of life.

However, the newcomers, especially the illegals, want to force what they believe are their rights, to jump into an already developed successful society without earning the access to it.

Also, oddly, many of them are carrying the totalitarian practices they escaped at home which they want to impose on us.

Except for the skilled laborers and professionals, they bring a much lower culture and poor education.

Most illegal immigrants, especially coming from the Middle East, refuse to learn English and insist on preserving their old habits, completely opposing our Constitution, our way of life and even have the determination to install their laws, as the Sharia Law, which is completely against our Democracy and our Constitution.

How they treat the women is despicable and opposite to our observance of Human Rights.

It is incomprehensible how women in the Democratic Party, could defend those practices that clash with years of efforts to conquer women's rights in a full battle against the male feudal system seen within the Islam.

It is evident that the Postmodern Liberal leaders have found a way to manipulate the values and change the issues to their advantage, by making the ones they favor, the most prominent and trying to hide or dismiss the ones they oppose.

We know psychology can do that and more. An ancient proverb says: "The enemies of my enemies are my friends."

However, in the Islamists case, they will never be satisfied with just the "others" victory. They will continue to seek their own until they get it. They have been doing it for thousands of years.

It is hard to know if the Postmodern Liberal Leadership is "naive" looking at the big tree but not seeing the forest, or they truly believe they could just "use" the Islam experience without consequences. Chances are, they are getting trapped in the Islamic "devouring machine," and their thousands of years of experience.

Meanwhile, the wise Islamic Leaders are jumping on the Postmodern Liberal wagon, expecting, at least, to be among the supposed winners.

It is difficult to understand how "equality" can be demanded when no one human is equal to other? We can think of equal opportunities, which we all enjoy in the USA and many other countries, but it cannot be free for all, especially in the Islamic minds.

The individuals have to earn the right to have access to education, at least showing that they are willing to learn and not simply occupying a seat in a University engaging in Liberal politics instead of studying.

It is evident that availability of the education facilities cannot be free to one hundred percent of the world's population. Not everyone is capable of studying, and besides, the World and Society need different skills that not necessary require College or University: construction, driving, farming, gardening, cleaning, cooking and so many others, are necessary for our lives.

So, it is irrelevant to build free Universities that to be useful; people would have to be forced to study.

However, in some Universities, Postmodern Liberals are trying to limit the amount of American Born students to an 18%, while uncapping the number of 'foreign illegal aliens' students. It sounds unbelievable in our Land, but that is what the Postmodern Liberals want to impose.

Freedom of choice is always to be preferred, in any form or shape, and the right to be uneducated is also a human right.

Just for a few examples: Steven Jobs, Bill Gates, Mark Zuckerberg, Jeff Bezos and many other successful entrepreneurs, were College dropouts, as they never finished any careers.

So, pretending to force high education to everyone, as Bernie Sanders proposes, is absurd and unrealistic, especially economically. Something like that will elevate taxes to a sky-high figure, impractical of course.

Those Postmodern Liberals, trying to make an artificial World are sick people.

They want to deprive us of freedom of expression; they want to eliminate from our vocabulary forms of expressing our rejection for many issues, just to protect others that might feel offended or want to be offended for political reasons.

The word "Man" is too much for some Princeton students.

The word "Wife" is offensive for Postmodern Liberals.

They want to remove the expression "The land of opportunity" from our Language.

The word "childless" is also offensive for women without children. (?)

The word "Lynch" which is also a common last name is considered racist.

Male, female, bossy, guns, sombreros, American Flag, racist, sexist, homophobic, are void and being a white heterosexual male, it is such a disadvantage.

The sports network ESPN just dismissed an Asian journalist because his name is Robert Lee, similar to the infamous Confederate General. Ridiculous.

Equality, multiculturalism, gender equality, however, is part of the mantra and Liberals intend to enforce it at any cost. Even if, how mentioned before, we are all different, and our talents and virtues are unique to each other, helping us individually to achieve success.

Maybe because I was born under the simple Law: "All individuals are equal before the Law, not recognizing other distinctions between them than their 'talents or virtues,'" a fundamental Constitutional article in my birth country, I grew up spoiled by it, but not in the Postmodern Liberal's World. They pretend to change all that it came with the creation and common sense. In their minds, what is in our DNA and makes humans unique and personal must be eliminated.

People should be equal by any means, killing any differences and imposing a flat forced established "equality."

Racism is real, hate towards homosexuals and transgender by some people are real and vice-versa.

However, Liberals cannot take it, so they do not want to hear about it, and the tool is to suppress the free speech from conservatives, although they used to champion the freedom of expression in 1968 at Berkeley University.

They overlook the fact that freedom is within each person and their private self cannot be trespassed or invaded. That is part of the Postmodern Liberalism nowadays: the elimination of the individuality. The Political Correctness is their tool.

People can issue an opinion without being rude, having a healthy balance of compassion and the ability to stop what is wrong without others getting offended by everything.

In San Diego, a community college has given LGBT students a special right to get scholarships ahead of everyone.

Some colleges are prioritizing the formation of Gay Clubs but denying permission to establish "Pro-life" clubs.

A Mental Disorder.

Postmodern Liberalism and Political Correctness are both mental disorders as well as Left Wing political orientation.

In the USSR, Communist China during the Culture Revolution, Nazi Germany, Cambodia under Pol Pot, people's words and thoughts have gotten tens of millions killed.

Apparently, for them, the aim is one World where right and wrong are not the choices.

Police in Seattle cannot use the word "suspect" anymore. The correct term is now "community member."

They were told to ask the other person how they like to be identified and not assuming anything.

Even to say sir, ma'am, Mister or Miss could be socially unacceptable and in fact rude. Sometimes even illegal.

Recently, a school principal sued a five-year old kid because she used a male name to call another student she met the year before, which became transgender. Unbelievably ridiculous.

Feelings are more important than facts!

Kids are picked on yet every time they stick up for themselves. They are the ones to get into trouble.

Homeschool is looking better and better every day.

Postmodern Liberals created this whole PC crap so they can be as bigoted as they like to our face.

Liberals need safe spaces, and they try to run conservatives out of their campuses, even thru violence, which is encouraged by some teachers as we have seen on recent TV videos.

Even safe spaces are granted for Muslim students who want to have their personal space, maybe to plot some terrorist attacks.

It is not PC to say the grades out loud. All grades should be confidential to protect a student's esteem and self-worth.

Remember in the old time's student days, when we were eager to know the other class fellows grades, to compare with ours and try to beat them the next time? Nobody was hurting; nobody felt damaged. All the opposite, it was a moment to tell yourself: Got to be better! What is the problem with that?

Whoever was raised under those terms must be thinking: What is wrong with these Postmodern Liberals?

Even the word father is being questioned as offensive to kids being raised in a single mother's home, but not only that. The Word mother is in question by Liberals who are trying to replace it by Parent # 1, as they have named it already.

It is a crazy scene that needs to be addressed by all conscious people. We must stop the Postmodern Liberal Movement at all costs.

Unfortunately, these awkward rogue individuals are lead by some "self-called intellectuals" mainly linked to the activists in the Gay community, the far-Left, and the DNC.

This brings us to assume the whole Liberal Movement has its core made of "sexually obsessed individuals, Left wing fanatics and sorrowful frustrated DNC members" who are determined to impose their devious intentions.

Let me be clear. I do not oppose homosexuality, neither I question it or judge it. A person is entitled to live its own life, as far as it does not affect other people's space. At the same time, I strongly defend my right to question, oppose, dislike or even combat ideas or people. That is part of freedom of expression, as far as I do not intend to hurt anyone.

Once again a favorite old-time proverb: "A person's right ends where the other people's rights begin," is golden.

POSTMODERN LIBERALISM

CHAPTER 6

Will Postmodern Liberalism Succeed?

What Is The strategy?

The panels on the TV pundits and commentator's shows are becoming a daily Source of entertainment, which has discouraged some professional TV series' producers from continuing films series of political or even terrorist contents. It seems viewers are busy watching the live news and gossips rather than an elaborated series based on fantasy, or at least that is what they might think, so many old interesting shoes have been terminated.

The speed of the news traveling across the airwaves has become a point of interest that overwhelms the TV shows, although the visual film details make them attractive to the eye and stimulate the imagination.

Also, some TV producers manage to emulate current live events, melting them with their fantasy stories on the screen.

Even the Sports events have also been affected by the political news (including the fake ones), having the spectators at the ballparks diminished and the TV transmission ratings declined. The busy airwaves with politics are withdrawing so much public attention.

In addition, the latest political demonstrations from some players have been the object of criticism, because they taint the sports contents on the TV transmissions with political opinions, not always welcomed by the audience.

Also, as we already mentioned, the Box office at the theaters are down in a 70%.

It is evident the World had changed radically since June 16th, 2015, when Donald J. Trump announced his candidacy for the Presidency of the United States.

No candidate before had made such an influence in the News. First, drawing a high attention to the Media, who found an endless amount of motivation for comments of all kinds, and after the election, the entire Mainstream Media turning against the new President personally, without even consider the proposed agenda.

Mr. Trump rapidly addressed the issue, using his entertainment skills, and managed to drive the journalists crazy practically. The News executives saw the increasing people's attention and therefore the advertising agencies interest in being part of the changes.

Politics once more was King of the airwaves, only now, with a colossal force as it was never before.

The MSM began focusing the daily work on Donald J. Trump. Some of the News Channels, in doubt of his real interest, becoming the President; others mocking him, and just a few, encouraging his platform and his new, unusual ideas on how to fix our country and "make America great again." Practically no one saw him as a winner.

As the Election Day approached, the doubts increased, and the polls showed different results, a few of them inclined toward Mr. Trump. For many of them, he was not a real candidate.

Mr. Trump, showed no signs of quitting or even slowing his interest in becoming the 45th President, and even the day before the election, the polls showed Hillary Clinton as a sure winner (?).

The Liberals and Democrats were so sure about Hillary's victory that they went to sleep counting on her as the inevitable 45th President, but by 2 am on November 9th, 2016, the World learned the announcement that Donald J. Trump was becoming the 45th President of the United States.

The news crushed on the heads of Hillary's supporters like a huge bucket of ice cubes.

The only world resounding in their domains was: "Resist!" while the crowd of Hillary's fans at the Javit's Center went home in tears with the biggest deception ever.

In the beginning, the Democrats expected all kinds of possible mistakes, so recounting the votes over and over seemed to be endless and boring at times. Then, the infamous Russian Collusion entered the scene and even today, as I am writing, seven months after the Presidential inauguration, they still trying to fit some of the uncountable possibilities to fit the actual truth.

So far there is no proof of any wrongdoing and investigation after the investigation is driving people crazy and Democrats and Liberals out of their minds.

The overwhelming weight of the Mainstream Media is a formidable force daily trying to undermine President Trump and his team. They despise him, and the heads of the Media companies, have granted unlimited freedom to the journalists, TV Anchors and commentators to elaborate whatever story would hurt the President, real or faked. Our Country has not seen anything like it before.

Meanwhile, our adversaries and enemies watch from outside the country in awe, of course, exhilarated.

The "Resist" Liberal Anthem.

The Materialistic Fantasy.

The Postmodern Liberal Machine was set to act and as soon as the election results were public, the word "resist" became the Postmodern Liberal's anthem.

Rapidly, the "social rejects," the illegal aliens, some of the LGBTQ people, all based on their materialistic beliefs, driven by sexual obsessions and the Illegals, just pushing for recognition in the land of opportunities without following the Federal Laws, adhered to the Postmodern Liberal Movement.

The Liberals, now becoming the Postmodern Liberals, are trying to stop any possible signs of conservatism; the former defenders of the human rights and free speech, are turned into the new zealots of a Godless Fascist movement.

Let's clarify that when we say "Illegal aliens" is because anyone that enters the USA without the proper documentation immediately becomes "Illegal Alien" under our Constitution and the Law of the Land.

Also, referring the homosexuality as a group who lives motivated by the sexual desires, instead of the traditional natural behavior, as inherited from all Scriptures and human practices in society, is not said as an offense but a simple fact. If sexual preferences decide your identity, and who you are, then sexual activity is the ruler of one's life.

Without pretending to question personal ways of life, the common sense and the majority of opinions, although not criticizing the individual practices, we have the right to attempt to prevent to spreading said customs to the candid youth.

Also re-directing a clear attempt to degenerate the human species, concentrating basically in sexual desires and confusion to determining their gender, is not the direction you want to go.

We can only accept two genders: Female and Male, as science does.

Everything else is just speculation. Illusion.

There is no chance for a Male to conceive a newborn, regardless of any surgical procedure attempt or any hormone treatment. The hormone's treatment can only grow bigger breasts among the male. That is it. However, hormonal treatment consequences might bring serious health side effects to the patient.

We are sorry Postmodern Liberals, but anything different is only a fantasy, a sad misconception.

I would like to be a few inches taller, but I must accept what God had for me, a mere five feet three inches.

However, as explained at the beginning of this book, the Left insists on trying to find new ways to maintain the illusion of a genderless society, based on feelings, which by the way, are part of the material life, but considered as the illusory energy.

The Old Vedic Scriptures define Material Life as the manifested energy and the Spiritual life as the unmanifested.

The manifested energy or material energy has a beginning, a lifetime and an end, while the unmanifested energy is eternal.

So, the definition of spiritual, often referring as nonmaterial, or eternal, it is a difficult concept to understand by humans.

The Liberals insist in a Godless society, mainly based on the material life and disregarding the Spiritual energy or reducing it as fantasy or children's bedtime story. They attach it to the religious views only, completely disregarding the Science of God's creation.

However, the Postmodern Liberals some times use the spiritual life as a game changer to their advantage. The pretended motion by some psychologists to assign transgenderism to the spiritual life is pure and absolute crap.

That is the Postmodern Liberal Movement's position.

So, Religions (except the Islam) who became the Liberal's partners are all condemned, vilified, rejected as poisonous.

Obviously, the new Postmodern Liberals motivation is the liberation from old prejudices, negative comments about traditional sexuality standards. They view them as an obstacle for their uncontrolled sexual obsession, their fantasies on how to become happy thru sexual practices (?) and in defense of their offensive sexual behavior to others. Sadly they include children.

The immediate followers, the Hollywood community, from top to bottom, defenders of a liberality that allowed them to toy with people's minds and remains open for the wildest fantasies, is mainly based on a psychotic disorder, common to the Left, the LGBTQ, and the illegal aliens.

It all took form and started a movement that is against all what the United States has been standing for over 240 years.

Definitively the Postmodern Liberals are ignorant of History and our Constitution.

The Transgender Illusion.

I do not oppose to fantasy, even the wildest one when making movies or TV Shows, even in the wildest dreams, but only if they are kept in the right dimension regarding the Universes.

It is evident the Postmodern Liberals, especially the Hollywood people, tend to try turning fantasies into real life. The separation of those two scenes is relevant to the sanity of the individual. Trying to make an illusion to become tangible could derail anyone's mind, a frustrating reality.

However, the Postmodern Liberal philosophy is selling the idea that a wish, desire or a will becoming a reality, is possible. That is the case of Transsexual people, who believe that just by desire, a bunch of artificially made synthetic hormones, and of course some makeup and suggestive attire, will turn their body into their desired opposite gender.

The only possible results will be an abnormal physical and psychological behavior, a confusion of feelings and the evident realization that their physical features will remain the same, while their psychological condition will become confused and upsetting at times when they see that their self-material body reality stayed the same.

Transsexuality or gender dysphoria is a mental disorder, while transgender is a fantasy, only happening in mind.

However, the greatest crime is being committed against children in their earliest stage, even three years old and up.

The Postmodern Liberal Leadership and the so-called "thinkers" are instructing teachers as well as parents, not to tell kids what is their gender.

The strategy seems to be postponing the revealing of the gender, they argue, until the child can understand the extent of their choice, although there is no such scientific option.

This is more than an absurd, a crime against the children. Looking to the past, I do not doubt that people were happier, healthier and lived a better life before the crappy Political Correctness was invented.

Children are children, with their worlds of fantasies, wildest imaginations and playful games of all kinds.

There is a period in early life, where the kid's mind flies high into a Universe of fantasies, which include genetic transformations, different identities, and other visions, all normal in the person developing stages. Eg. Transformers (the toys), for instance.

I remember myself when playing at home at a very early age, on a few occasions, dressing as a woman, wearing my mother's high heels and other feminine habits. There is not a bit of homosexuality in me, never experienced a homosexual activity or desired to have it.

My parents wisely disregarded those incidents, although they clarified the facts and the fantasies. So, I grew up normally to be a normal male, without any hang-ups.

However there are cases where things get complicated, but in my opinion, the person will unveil their identity, political, social and physiological. To think that a person needs help to define oneself sexually is to diminish his/her ability to be a free entity.

The War Against The Western Civilization, Our Highly Successful Way Of Life.

The one lifestyle which most people in the World would like to be a part; the one that so many millions of individuals have lost their lives trying to reach by improvised vessels, and all kinds of tricks or just risking their lives in unbelievable stunts, many of them failures, is now being vilified.

The Postmodern Liberalism rapidly demonized the splendorous past of America, based in the human rights, the good neighbor practices, and the observance of God's creation and the defense of our Nationality. They prefer an open borders country, which would jeopardize our identity and practically end our social conquests of some 300 years.

No doubts the Western Civilization is not perfect and full of errors, although as humans, mistakes are a normal course of life.

It is undeniable we have worked to learn from those, and trying to avoid repeating them.

Three hundred years plus of developments in the industry, science, arts, social advancement and all kinds of ways that allowed humans to grow, to evolve and to perfect new material and spiritual developments, are being dismissed by the Postmodern Liberals.

Liberals cry loud: Stop the White people's supremacy! They accuse Christianity of being racist and a hate speech, obviously forgetting that the initiator of it was a non-white person, rather brown: Jesus of Nazareth, whose skin color was not white but brown as most people from that region.

The widely known paintings depicting Jesus Christ as a white person are a misleading fact, surely painted by white artists, following the tradition of most painters with a tendency to apply their standards as a model to their works of art.

Although some artists have painted Jesus as a brown skin person, the widely known ones are showing him as a white man.

However, the skin color should not be an issue. Postmodern Liberals are to misguide people from the truth. They only understand the Universes as a material creation, ignoring that inside anybody, the engine is a Spirit Soul, regardless of which religion you look at it. It is a "God's" thing (a scientific fact), not a "religious" issue.

No other civilization, but the Western, has contributed to so many creative, positive ways to common life.

"We write symphonies," President Trump said in a recent Poland's speech. The Left answered: Yes but we have all kinds of music. That is correct, but nobody can deny that the old White masters largely contributed to the music education of the World and any Musician understand the rules, appreciate and thank the old Masters of Music for their teachings and contribution. Only music neophytes and insensitive people can deny it. At the same time, no one can deny the important contribution to popular music by Black and Hispanic Musicians. Life is all about collaboration.

Also, we cannot forget that Pythagoras, the amazing genius of all times created the sign language we still use nowadays to transmit and record music (on paper) and even the way we use the vibrations, the intervals, the chords and melody that allow music knowledge to pass from generation to generation.

How can the Liberals ignore that?

Well, they try to ignore it, but the power of music will survive even the "Rap" attempt to use the term "music" to justify their demeaning of beautiful art, only exploiting the youngster's lack of education and musical taste.

Of course is easier for an individual to "rap to music" than making music with the voice, although that practice encourages more ignorance on the upcoming youth.

In the near past, wonderful artists, of Black, White or Brown skin, have contributed with beautiful sung pieces, we still enjoy in masterful recordings.

However, today's airwaves show mostly garbage that started years ago with some clever rhymes; today they degenerated into just mumbling, with no musicality and no literary contents at all.

But, the Liberals celebrate it as a "free expression" by mostly the Black and Brown community of failed musicians to be. Meanwhile, the White Rock and Roll musicians, helped by some Black and Brown ones, still trying to compete with the Hip-Hop style, pushed by the Black Mafia, in partnership with White Lawyers and some Black and Brown Executives, that act as leeches, profiting from the loot collected from the neophyte youth.

The Postmodern Liberals, at present, also prevent any kinds of attempts to allow conservative speakers at the University's campuses, even thru violence as never seen before.

They stage rallies with premeditated chaos and engage in the destruction of public and private property as never imagined before in a civilized country.

The TV News has been a witness of such a destructive path and violence display.

Liberals do not want a Civilization, and even less, a Western Civilization; the same movement that in the past defended the freedom of speech is now being used as a tool to disrupt our lives.

Liberals do not want a Country. Their beliefs are libertine and poisonous to decency and traditional morals.

They want a different society, based on a highly material way of life, condemning any attempt of spirituality. They strive for a Godless society.

Postmodern Liberals even ignore God as science, the science of God that we witness every day and night, just by looking at the sky in wonder!

I remember in my younger days, when across the street from my parent's house, on an ample garden separating the building from the Ocean, I used to lay down and looking to the sky, thinking: What if I could reach the end of my sight. What would it be beyond all that?

I guess the Liberals never think of that or they simply do not care.

Postmodern Liberal ideology has no plans; no constructive future is on their minds. As the Democrats in the Democratic Party, have lost a perception of what life is, nor how to enjoy it and perfect it as God's legacy indicates.

It is quite evident that the Creator left us many tools to continue perfecting his creation. It is for us to use them in a right way for the benefit of all.

The Western Civilization and the Hindu tradition have taken account of that and have kept a trend of improvement based on past experiences and in the old advice from the Holy Scriptures.

The Vedas are the most prolific source of knowledge, followed by the Old Testament, the Bible, and the Torah.

The Koran tried to follow the trend, copying and many times distorting the texts, in a manifested attempt to impose their religious agenda. Fanaticism has tainted their religion.

We will analyze the subject on future chapters.

Jesus Christ Learning the Vedas?

There are serious indications that Jesus Christ's disappearance from the public for almost three years, before the crucifixion, was spent in the East (the Indian subcontinent), studying the old Vedas and learning the vast knowledge recorded in those scriptures.

Because of the vast material distances, the time frame, the differences in cultures, idioms and means of communication, it is evident, in the beginning, the Vedas were not a substantial part of the early Western Civilization.

The Roman Empire had limited information about what happened in the Indian region. The distances were too big for the communications available at the time to help.

The Greeks contributed with some information and theories, and with significant advancements in Medicine, Social Sciences (Democracy), and they contributed to building the Western Philosophy.

The use of rational argument was probably the nexus helping to connect the Vedic and the Greek philosophy and therefore begin an influence to Western Culture.

The Hellenistic city of Ay Khanum, situated on the borders of Russia and Afghanistan and not far from China, the city was mostly Greek, but its population shared philosophies and religions.

Alexander the Great was later a uniting factor, when he colonized several regions in between Greece and India, leaving entire cities connecting his empire.

Slowly, the Spiritual part of it made in rows into the Western culture, and people began to change their minds from the initial wild, and mythical approach to the reality and deep meaning of the information received.

Jesus Christ was not to be unaware of these facts.

The Great Western Civilization.

Until the Century advanced and the core of the Vedic knowledge began to be credible to the eyes of the elite and the scientific community, the Vedas commenced a definite trend that these days have satisfied in excess all kinds of challenges.

The scientific community has compared and certified many of the information written on the Vedas, utilizing them as an intrinsic part of current studies and experiments.

However, the Liberals decided to ignore any information concerned with the Spiritual World, God's science and only rely on the material life, although many of their intellectuals might give faith to the Old Scriptures.

However, the Postmodern Liberals insist in demonizing the Western Civilization, accusing it of being a tool of the White Supremacists.

The actual controversy is their ignorance about the composition of said Western Culture.

While in fact, there was in the past a strong influence of White race individuals, History does not always specify the people's different skin coloring depicted in the past.

Many ethnic sources mixed from time immemorial, contributed to developing a less than pure white race or ethnic groups.

Despite this fact, the White race, by different means, but especially economical and educational, maintained a grip on the tenancy of the land and the human-made law.

Besides, the somehow "purity" of the white race was kept among the royalty and the Nobility, while the lower caste tended to mix with other races easier for centuries.

However, for the Postmodern Liberalism, it is more convenient to apply the adjectives, racist, supremacist, bigot and other pejoratives to a White race in general, even if it is wrongly used, while they are the real bigots, which are completely intolerant of those who hold different opinions.

Of course, this approach was to benefit their survival as a group and principally to keep the privileged status acquired by various means; some of them not near humanistic or legal.

No civilization in our Planet is free of guilt. They are all tainted by ignorance, greed, insensibility and all kinds of human trash. Our Western Civilization has earned credits as no other in the World, except the Vedic Civilization.

We ended Slavery; we helped art developing, we sponsored Science, pushed technology, supported human rights, doctored health care, founded the industrial revolution, Introduced a better judicial system and other big World advancements as technology.

Western Civilization is not perfect, but it is an aim to perfection.

It is evolving, even considering the claims from the ones who oppose it.

Life in our Planet is not easy, nor the people, although we were created equally, in practice, not all can enjoy life in the same way. There are differences, of course accordingly with the Law of Karma.

However, the word equality cannot apply to all to the same extent.

Although we are all created equal, we need to earn anything material we want or desire. It is the Law of fairness. The Consciousness within.

Postmodern Liberals believe people have the right to grab anything they want without any effort to obtain it. It is their belief, which after the founders of our country and their descendants built an entire productive society and applied their collective knowledge and hard labor to maximize the use of our land, liberals think others from far away have the same rights to usurp our heritage.

Conservatives do not mind to share and enjoy the benefits, but not trying to change our laws, lifestyle, customs, and philosophy of life, especially if that means to retract to lower standards.

Moreover, that is the intention of the Postmodern Liberals, which despite being systematically attacked by the Islamists, they are promoting their fake religious philosophy, just because they share hatred against Conservatives. They obviously dismiss that Islamist goal is to confiscate our traditions and ignore our Constitution.

Our Country is in a troublesome situation, and the only ways to revert the dangerous path is by referring to history and educate all people to learn from it.

Democrats Need to Find an Identity.

A Better Deal?

The Postmodern Liberal Movement must be stopped and disbanded. An important part of the strategy is that the Democratic Party renews its leadership and cease to be an obstacle to the present Government. Democrats must help to govern until the natural course of life put them again in the position of leadership, by including in their platform, issues that are cherished by the American People.

So far, Conservatives are doing their job, with the annoying obstructionism from Democrat Congress persons and the ominous help from the MSM that keeps inventing fake news and opposing any initiative by the President, regardless if it is right or wrong for the country. That is got to stop, in the name of justice and patriotism.

The Hollywood elite also needs to do a Soul searching and review their values. Postmodern Liberalism might not be that good for business.

As of today, the polls indicate that Hollywood films are experiencing a decrease of up to 70% in revenues at the box office. Maybe the audience does not enjoy their political and social views.

Today, the Democratic Party big issues of the past are gone.

The DNC has lost the connection with the voters and the main reason, after having eight years of the worse government possible, by Muslim Obama, where they lost thousands of government officials, including the majority in the Senate, the House, and several Governorships.

Moreover, the greatest Democratic Party's mistake was to lean all the way to the Left in search of a political philosophy that obviously has been a failure all over the World.

The Leftist ideology has been spreading death, corruption, human degradation, including slavery, labor exploitation, absolute poverty and other known facts which past Leftist Governments have left around the Planet as a witness of their failure.

The DNC is trying to catch up with this disadvantage and lately has come up with a new slogan: "A better deal," which is seeking to bring up, the defense for good salaries, and moreover, other 'improvements for the working class.'

Already, the Democratic Senator Chuck Schumer criticized the slogan, saying in an op-ed: "is a far cry from "bold changes" to the agenda of the Democratic Party."

I would say: it is like a "Band-aid" to a terminal patient. A silly slogan, a third class advertising strategy.

The Democrats need to inspire and consult the American people to hear their needs, Change their "all the way leftist political philosophy," and then hiring a damn good publicist.

The Democrats must come with a smashing phrase capable of topping the "Make America Great Again," which catapulted a newcomer to politics, Donald J. Trump and made him the 45th President of the United States.

Meanwhile, although the Democrats seem to unite behind the "resist" idea to derail Trump's Government, there is no visible political leader at sight or in the making.

Eight years pushing one only leader that at the end failed to keep the Party's leadership, will not be easy to overcome, and the second choice they have been promoting, Hillary Clinton, just collapsed, leaving a bitter taste in the mouths of the Democrats. Let's remember that Bernie Sanders is not a Democrat.

A Fierce Battle Between Traditions And Postmodernism.

The Country is in a terrible spot. Its population is divided like never has been before, racially and politically. The clear division shows on one side, the Postmodern Liberals, formed by the Democratic Party, the Independent Party, Socialist Party, the Anarchists, the Communists, the Mainstream Media, helped by the Islamism wearing a ship's skin, under the wolf's identity.

Moreover, then, the addition of the Hollywood elite, which keeps screaming in favor of the Illegal Immigration, but don't allow them living in their posh neighborhoods.

On the other side, the Conservatives, the working people, the Middle Class, the Christians, Hindus, Asians, Hispanic and of European and Russian heritage related.

Two sides well defined by very different philosophies of life, where the Ancestry plays an important role, especially in keeping the traditions and old culture, opposing radical changes that will be demeaning not only for Western Culture but also for Spanish, Asians, Russians and Hindu customs.

It is a battle between the old traditions and the newly attempts to deny the safety standards of life, to try some crazy experiments, playing with feelings and new unexplored games that could end damaging society to irreparable results.

Our Creator, and unfortunately many Liberals deny Creation, knows by which kind of ideas on our Universes we must live, has delivered a conscious Legacy, perfectly coordinated and defined in its philosophy.

Our duty is to keep developing it safely, maintaining a common sense based on the past experiences. Balance is the key.

However, Postmodern Liberals, ignoring the examples of recent degradation caused by serious mistakes, insist on continuing to ignore the red lights and promoting a libertine lifestyle, which has failed in all its past experiences, causing great damage to our society. Maybe they aim to a re-edition of Sodom and Gomorrah.

The family Against A Genderless Society.

The family has been the main component of society, and keeping a traditional lifestyle does not obey only to religious practices, although all religions counsel to keeping decency and restraint regarding sex life and relationships.

However, the Liberals accuse religions of being an obstacle to free thinkers and people opposing traditionalism and welcoming new ways of relating to others, mainly on sexual practice.

Surely, they ignore that so far, nobody has encountered happiness or total satisfaction thru sexual intercourse only.

The truth is, regardless of superficial opinions, that sex is a tool for procreation, the most important part of the animal and human life: survival, no one can deny it.

That is why, the Creator made sex so appealing with the obvious meaning of having the intercourse between the two genders, as the only way to create newborns and an almost impossible way to avoid it, but people confused the objectives as well as the results.

Instead, Postmodern Liberals have instituted a new idea: a genderless society. A total fantasy based on the pretended choice of gender by individual selection after birth.

It is a fictional way to express their dark wishes of adopting an alternative identity, which would only satisfy their imagination and feelings.

The result, is only a temporary make believe that could meet their desires for some time until they realize that it is only an illusion, described in the Vedas with the word Maya, although the illusion may remain for their whole lives.

So, being in Maya means living an illusion. A temporary feeling that would not make anything unreal to become real. It is rather a mental disruption.

The embattled "Planned Parenthood," the ultra-liberal organization, accused of selling fetuses and baby parts for a profit, which also dedicates 80% of their activities to provide abortion services, has established new guidance to define the sex of a newborn.

Furthermore, they advise instructing the children to avoid having the sexual organs to define their sexual orientation.

In an open homosexual friendly leadership, the organization is stepping on the gas to push for a genderless society, in opposition to all religious groups and to the scientific community, which has not changed the definition of the sexual orientation, or the gender assigned at birth.

The truth is, anyone that wants to change their gender is only possible as a fantasy, and an unreal fact that would last only a moment maybe a lifetime, but it would not modify the facts. People are either a female or a male. There is no other option. Of course, they are allowed to "feel" the way they wish, but it will not affect the facts.

However, individuals who want to live that fantasy have the right to do it, but the controversial part in the Postmodern Liberal philosophy is that they want others to accept the fact as real while it is not real, only an illusion.

All, just to justify the feeling of the wishful person. Of course, the rest does not matter for their grave egotistic thought. Liberals need to accept that a society based on feelings is only a fantasy that they can live, although still not real.

The LGBTQ community is bustling working to widen the acceptance of some new denominations that lately they have been trying to validate by including them in dictionaries, social media, and other fields.

The LGBTQ is a dedicated community fighting for recognition in a Conservative Society, disgusted in part by some unexpected proposed changes, not acceptable though.

The terminology is broad and diversified although it is geared to satisfy their community, some times becomes controversial and confusing.

That is the case with the word "Gay" which in the twelve century meant "happy." In the seventeen century, the word gay was commonly used to mean "immoral," by the nineteen century meant a "female prostitute," (a gay man used to define a guy who had sex with female prostitutes a lot).

So, terminology mutates and accommodates the purposes of the trend.

However, their central objective is to keep pushing for the acceptance of the ultra-liberal way of life and have the Conservatives increasingly acknowledging their escalating way for Postmodern Liberalism to be accepted and respected.

Those attempts do not seem to be changing the bottom line: Regardless the different ways they are being described and named, our human race only has two genders, impossible to change after birth: female and male. The illusory way of life may have dozens of sub-denominations, but the reality is the same, Male or Female.

The bottom line is that Postmodern Liberals are determined to disrupt the traditions of life while conservatives are trying to defend the standards, based on past behavior, and helped by keeping in mind the Sacred Scriptures. These are all time true guidance regarded by the majority and the Scientists opinions which most of the times agree with the Scriptures.

The United States of America has been the leader of the Free World, by adhering to the conservative style, although accepting certain liberality within the consciousness.

That practice had its rewards, providing a long string of benefits that have made people happy and prosperous as possible, in this material World where we live.

Now, the battle continues to keep a center position, because the voters decided to restrain the path of liberal craziness and return to the more traditional lifestyle.

Our actual President is determined to help to stop the excesses, and it seems the people are responding little by little to his ideals, although the "resist" movement lead by the Democratic Congress people, relentlessly slows the Government actions by delaying and obstructing all its moves.

We hope they realize that if the President loses, we all lose. Nobody wins. However, personal desires, proper of the Liberal thinking are commanding the actions against the Conservatives.

If these measures are not corrected soon, the United States will be facing an undesired self-destruction, after being for two hundred and forty-one years, the model, almost everyone in our World, wants to follow.

The narrow path must end, and encounter a wide center position that could satisfy the extremes, without losing the path.

Spirituality, once again, must prevail over the material way.

We all must contribute to the re-alignment of the present path or face derailment and who knows what else?

Dangerous times are ahead. Beware!

The tools are in the box. However, we must learn how to use them wisely and equitably.

First of all, we must revise our Constitution and adjust some of the Amendments. Perhaps better defining its objects and subjects.

In the following chapter, we will see the options.

POSTMODERN LIBERALISM

CHAPTER 7

Postmodern Liberals And The Islam, The Constitution's Enemy.

Can We Stop Them?

It is doubtful the Founding Fathers were accurately informed about the Islam as an ideology rather than a mere religion and their intentions toward the US. It is a fact they never imagined how the Muslims would behave in the future, a horrible reality. The Constitution Framers purpose was to establish a non-religious government, wide open for all faiths. So, it seems their main desire was to leave engraved in the Charter, the freedom to worship God in any forms, separate from the Government and especially preventing the States from nominating one religion to be the absolute ruler of the land. It sounded good, fair and promising.

History tells us that by the end of the 17th century, many things began changing around us, opening some doubts about the generous offering in the First Amendment.

Two hundred and forty-one years passed by and we can clearly see the ambiguity in the concept of what is religion and what is something else. Ideology or Theology, for instance, political power, military force and those, pooled under a religion's umbrella, could be enemies to the fundamental law of the United States? No, they never expected something like that although at the time there were various indications thru the Muslim's behavior that brought some doubts about their real intentions.

Presidents Adams and Jefferson got a taste of the problem. The Islamists bullies gave way to the Barbary Wars.

However, it is still happening nowadays and the advances by these enemies we can see them clearly at present.

Revising the Constitution, we encounter a duality in the wording, which is causing severe problems as far as the Islam's behavior concerns.

Muhammad founded the Islam around 610 AC when he was forty years old.

A warlord, bandit, mass murderer, employer of torture, polygamist, slave trader and slave master, he commanded himself about thirty military campaigns, killing thousands, appropriating other men's wives, wealth, and homes.

Muhammad died in 632 AD, but before he passed, he left a legacy of precisely determined future conquests that his disciples should've continuing to pursue in what we call: the Islamic invasions and the World conquering to establish the Worldwide Caliphate.

The Goal: the conversion of the whole World to the Islam.

From the Eighth Century to Eighteen Century, at the end of the Ottoman Empire, the Muslims devastated the World with their continuous destruction and genocide. The reality indicates that those invasions only had periods of little activity but never ended. Even right now, with the War explosion that sent to Europe over ten million middle easterners from Syria and Lebanon, in what appears to be a pre-planned Islamic mega-invasion of Europe and the United States, is a confirmation of their long-term plans.

While the Europeans accepted the vast majority of the refugees, the USA resisted such a massive invasion, socially and politically, allowing only a few thousand at the end of the Obama Administration.

Still, the Democrats or the people who voted for Obama do not realize the damage caused by the pro-Muslim President.

The damage posed by the Islam over the 1,400 years since its creation is incalculable, 'Dantesque' and it seems history has not been able to convince people around the World, that the firm determination of the Islamic ideology must be stopped, or soon we all be slaves to the incumbent Muslim government or Caliphate. That is the prophecy the Islamists are determined to accomplish.

The Islamic Leaders are saying: In the end, we will prevail and dominate the World: By the pregnant wombs of our female, by invasions or by the sword.

Their women give birth at the highest rate possible. The militants are using the females as a relief for their sexual appetites with the obvious consequences: pregnancies and newborns, in my opinion, pre-meditated by the leadership.

The Islamic Laws Clashing With Our Constitution And Especially With Postmodern Liberal ideology.

Our Constitution says:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech, or the press, or the right of the people to peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

It is evident the Founding Fathers did not have complete knowledge of the Koran, or they misunderstood the wording in it. Although Thomas Jefferson, as well as John Adams, owned a copy of the book. They supposedly acquired it after the Ambassador of Tripoli in England told them the famous phrase that explains the reason the Islamists hate and persecute all nationals of Nations that refuse to accept the "Koran Holy Book" as the Universal Ruler.

"Jefferson and Adams, while in London, around 1801/02, spoke to the Tripoli Ambassador, Abd Al-Rahman, questioning him on why the Barbary Pirates thought they should declare war on a nation that had never done anything to harm them.

The Muslim ambassador responded: 'It is written in the Koran, that all nations who will not acknowledge the Islam's authority were sinners and that it was their duty to make war upon them, and to make slaves of all they could take as prisoners.'

The Koran-quoting is one of the reasons the Muslim consider us their enemies and our people condemned to die unless they surrender to the Islam. Something that is impossible to change, since the Koran cannot be altered, although, in my opinion, its interpretation should be updated to the modern World and our social evolution.

After hearing the outrageous statement, Adams and Jefferson were encouraged to seek their copies of the Koran," (although some historians affirm, at least Jefferson got a copy of the Koran in 1765.)

The important fact is that the concept maintained by Jefferson, as well as Washington and Adams, was hypothetical, wishful thinking.

Jefferson and others defended and insisted to including Mohammedan rights in the Constitution for the principle of "imagined Muslims," and the idea of promoting them to be theoretical citizens would reaffirm the truthful universality of American rights. Unfortunately, there are little chances that would happen. Muslims come to the USA with the firm conviction to lay low until the time comes when they could do something to hurt our country and our lifestyle. Some might enjoy the temporary perks offered to them in our free society, and some may even get used to them and enjoy our culture for a while, but at one point the Islamic ideals will prevail.

That is what the Postmodern Liberals are ignoring or carelessly dismissing.

Those parameters are engraved in Muslim's DNA, and they could be overridden but will remain as a tattoo to their souls, Admittedly, at the time the Constitution was written, the lack of a clear vision of the future, but mainly the absence of an in-depth scrutiny of the Islamic way of life was severely overlooked.

The history is showing us time and time again, that the mandates engraved in the Koran, to despise and hate people that don't surrender to their faith and harm them as revenge, are real and unchangeable. Any attempt to reverse the thought it would be considered as a rebellion against the Koran, and therefore punished by death. The rules are clear.

The non-Islamic World always had problems in evaluating the powerful link between the Muslims and the Koran, but especially, the fact that blind obedience to the book and its mandates is the only way.

No other Scripture affects their followers as the Koran does for the Muslims. The obedience to the "Holy book" is of life and death. The Koran indicates violent punishments and procedures for the violators. For Muslims, nothing is more important than the Koran and its mandates.

Maybe one day the Islamic leaders would understand that the confusion of philosophical and physical issues is a matter to be addressed and modified if they want to share the Word's space peacefully, although it seems the Islamic are not willing to share the World with other religions. They are absolutists. However, God is too big to be owned by the Islam.

The Hindus saw the ambiguities in the Vedic Scriptures and knew how to separate them, to live a peaceful and harmonious life in this world.

Also, God's names are as many as his devotees want to call upon him. God is unlimited, and also his names are, as far as they are pronounced and used with respect, love, and devotion, as written in the Vedas.

I also personally believe, the undeveloped scientific knowledge of the times was a reason for the grave mistakes on the Mohammedan's evaluation and the candid Framers expectancy of an eventual "American Citizen's" behavior of people that were strictly following the Koran's ideology.

Maybe the duality or better said the "quadrality" of the Islamic ideology could explain it better.

The Islam Ideology and its expansion, works in four parts: 1) The Traders penetrate a foreign land looking for business, 2) Then, the Military invade. 3) Politicians appropriate the conquest, dictating laws. 4) The three sectors oppress and force the locals to accept the Islamic religion and the Koran as their only ruling or face slavery and death.

There is no other option with the Islam. The "Holy Book" message says it, and it is hard to imagine how and why Adams, Jefferson and the rest of the Founding Fathers disregarded such a basic fact.

Was it a lack of vision or only the "desire" that the Mohammedans (Muslims) would change their philosophy and adopt the new Country's ideal of life.

Maybe some would do it, although the Islamic religion is not like other faiths that admit discrepancies and different philosophical streams.

The Koran is very strict and precise not allowing any differences or questioning about the rules. Also, the children born in a Muslim family, are trained since a very young age, that they are Islamic and they will be such forever.

"Mohammad stated, "Whoever changes his Islamic religion, kill him." (Hadith Sahih al-Bukhari, Vol. 9, Book 84, No. 57).

It seems Jefferson, Adams and the rest of the Constitutionals ignored that abandoning the Islam's religion was punished by death, as the Hadith says.

So it was only "wishful thinking."

Over and over again, Muslims living in America or other parts of the World, not only are passionate about the Islam, but their only purpose in life is the advancement of the Islam. It is their obsession.

Also, it is unthinkable to imagine why they disregarded the quoting from the Koran given by the Tripoli's Ambassador to Jefferson and Adams, and even the substantial evidence surfacing from the Barbary Pirates actions.

They would sink ships, sequester crews, kidnapping passengers, sell them as slaves, burning entire towns, and pilfer what they encountered on their path. History tells the story with clear details. We can also see nowadays, they still destroying all non-Islamic traces of history.

We should think of the Barbary Pirates as the today's ISIS, Al-Qaida, and the other terrorist groups. The similarity seems so close to the facts that we can only see one difference now.

Muslims have learned that it looks better to the World, to think of the Terrorists, like a dislodged sector, which acts independently, while the core of the Islam, attempts to look peaceful and friendly; a plain lie though.

However, the error shows at the mere sight. Both groups read, abide and are ruled by the same book: The Koran, whose mandates are the same; the punishments and rewards are also the same for all Muslims.

If the leadership could appear to be different at times when in private they meet or communicate, both parts unite in only one: The Koran. There is only one Islam, ruled by one book: The Koran, and with its law the Hadith, a record of the traditions or sayings from the Prophet Muhammad. Also, the Sharia Law added later, after the death of Muhammad, is what they use in daily life, to push for the replacement of the local laws or Constitution to the lands they invade.

They are doing it in the UK, in Europe and wherever they manage to establish communities. This nucleus ignores and disobeys the local authorities, and by violent behavior, they force their own "justice" in private Sharia Law courts in the communities they manage.

Now, we must understand from the above, that the Islam is not only a "religion," but also theology, an ideology and it uses a Trading activity, a Military power, and a Political force. Those are the weapons utilized to push the last stage: surrendering to the religion.

At the time the Constitution was written, there was a different understanding of strategies and systems to practice a religion.

The Islam's misinterpretation by such giant figures as the Founding Fathers remains a mystery.

Their wishful thinking seems to be the answer. They expected the Muslims were going to be happy to be freed from the oppression of their totalitarian way of life and quickly adopting our Democracy. The rest of religions did fit.

However, they overlooked the root of the problem that is a brainwash and the imprinting in their brains, that it is the Islam or death!

Moreover, that death is desired for the male to go to heaven to enjoy dozens of virgins waiting for them, as they expect. Of course, women's role is disregarded and only used for procreation and servitude.

Some historians picture Jefferson as a dedicated reader of the Koran. However no one knows how deep, Jefferson got into the "Holy Book's" spirit. Only him could have known.

It is easy praising the Fathers of the Constitution because they did a marvelous job structuring a new Country like ours.

For two hundred and forty-one years the USA has been the Free World Leader, admired by many, hated by some, but its society has managed an exemplary way of life in justice, equality, and development.

Naturally, when we are presented with the acceptance of the Islam, a totalitarian idea that contradicts all aspects of Democracy, it is doubtfully a match for our idiosyncrasy.

The Islam is the only "religion" that denies sharing spaces with other faiths. Their ideas are confiscatory, and World domination is their only goal, never sharing, always imposing and the worst, being violent when disobeyed.

Every other religion is tolerant of the others, and although they compete for followers, there is tolerance, and acceptance of other people's beliefs sharing the original thought of only one God, perhaps with different names.

The quality, power, and capacity of God are undeniable, and although there are many worshiping styles, the concept of the creation is shared at one point, although the discrepancies are mainly at the beginning.

However, the problem is that if Muslims cannot get their way, the order is killing the "infidels." Murder is their way, and there is abundant proof available thru history.

Postmodern Liberals should take note of this and be aware of the consequences of their alliance.

Some Additional Facts, Highly Controversial.

The Koran also states in Sura 4:89: "Those who reject Islam must be killed. If they turn back (from Islam), take hold of them and kill them wherever you find them."

On the other hand:

Our Constitution's First Amendment states: Congress cannot take away "the right of the people to peaceably assemble," yet Islamic law says: "non-Muslims cannot repair places of worship or build new ones. They must allow Muslims to participate in their private meetings; they cannot bring their dead near the graveyards of Muslims or mourn their dead loudly."

The above sounds bigot, discriminatory and exclusivist, clashing with the idea of equality and Democracy. It is well known the Islam's disdain for Democracy.

The First Amendment also states: 'Congress cannot take away the right of the people' "to petition the Government for a redress of grievances," yet Islamic law says non-Muslims are not to shelter any aversion towards the Islamic state or give help to those who disagree with the Islamic government. This is a precise clash with the Democratic principle of equality. One more proof that the Islam is not only a religion but also a radical political force.

The Second Amendment states: "the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed," yet Islamic law says non-Muslims cannot possess guns, swords or weapons of any kind. Also, in the Towns conquered by the Islam, the locals not converted to their faith are forced to pay taxes to the Islamic Government, while Muslims were spared from paying taxes.

The Eighth Amendment of our Constitution declares: there shall be no "cruel and unusual punishments inflicted," yet the Koran states: "Cut off the hands of thieves, whether they are male or female, as punishment for what they have done – a deterrent from Allah." (Sura 5:38)

A woman who has been raped is also punished "with a hundred stripes." (Sura 24:2)

Women can be beaten: "If you experience rebellion from the women, you shall first talk to them, then (you may use negative incentives like) deserting them in bed, then you may (as a last alternative) beat them" (Sura 4:34).

Honor killings of wives and daughters who have embarrassed their families have been reported by the United Nations in Muslim populations of Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon, Morocco, Pakistan, Syria, Turkey, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Yemen and increasingly in Western nations.

The 13th Amendment states there shall be no "slavery or involuntary servitude," yet the Koran accommodates slavery, as Mohammad owned slaves. In addition, Mohammedans were known to be slave owners and traders.

The Constitution's 14th Amendment guarantees citizens "equal protection of the laws," yet the Koran does not consider Jews, Christians, and other non-Muslims as equal to Muslims before the law. Referring to Jews as "the People of the Book," Mohammad said: "They are those whom Allah has cursed; who have been under his wrath; some of whom were turned into apes and swine" (Sura 5:60, 7:166, 2:65).

The 15th Amendment guarantees "the right of the citizens ... to vote shall not be denied ... on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude," yet strict interpretation of Islamic law does not allow voting, as Democracy is considered people are setting themselves in place of Allah by making the laws.

The 16th Amendment has some similarities with Islamic law, as “Congress shall have the power to lay and collect taxes on incomes from whatever source derived.” Mohammad said, “Fight those who believe not in Allah, until they pay the jizya [tax] with willing submission, and feel subdued.” (Sura 9:29)

The 18th Amendment has some similarities with Islamic law also, as “the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes is at this moment prohibited.”

The 19th Amendment allows women to vote yet in strict Islamic countries; women cannot vote.

The 21st Amendment permits the sale of liquor, yet Islamic law states non-Muslims are not to sell or drink wine and liquor openly.

One would assume that to swear upon a book implies believing what is in that book. As Mohammad was not just a religious leader, but also a political-military leader, Sharia Islam is not just a religious system, but also a political-military system.

Since no one has the authority to demand Muslims worldwide cease imitating the political-military example of Mohammad when Sharia-practicing Muslims bow in prayer they are also pledging political-military allegiance to Mecca.

Therefore, inviting the Islam to the United States is as inviting a Trojan horse loaded with warriors ready to take down our Constitution and replace it with the Koran, the Hadith, and Sharia Law.

The Use Of The Koran Is Incompatible With Our Constitution.

Swearing to defend the U.S. Constitution upon a Koran that promotes entirely different values presents a controversy. Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson, appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, wrote in the foreword of the book “Law in the Middle East” (1955): “Islamic Law offers the American lawyer a study in dramatic contrasts. Even casual acquaintance and superficial knowledge reveal that its striking features relative to our law are not likenesses but inconsistencies, not similarities but contrarities. In its source, its scope, and its sanctions, the law of the Middle East is the direct opposite of Western law."

The recent use of the Koran to swearing Rep. Ellis is not valid because the Koran's spirit is opposed to the Constitution. Therefore invalid as well as ignorant.

As we can see, the inconsistencies of the Islamic philosophy, the Laws and the goals are contrary to our Constitution, and especially the goal and ultimate accomplishment of the Islam are in fact, contrary to our Democracy emanated from the Constitution.

Not only that, but if the Koran, the Hadith, and the Sharia Law, at some point could be enforced to become the ruling Law in our Country, we will be violating the Constitution writing and spirit.

We will also be negating all the efforts throughout three hundred years, and rivers of blood spilled to establish our Democracy and the Bill of Rights.

So, to be clear, the Islam is not a viable option for our Country. The push to advance it from its devotees and the violence shown in their public demonstrations, as well as the adherence to the heinous terrorist acts, are a sample of its dreadful intentions.

The firm determination to impose their Sharia Law is an attempt to abolish our Constitution and replace it with their totalitarian theocratic laws and ideology.

Our political community and Supreme Court must revise these intentions and evaluate the possible outcome if they manage to be successful.

It seems ridiculous to help the development of such an enemy in our home. So, knowing that the Islamic followers are working into forcing such a poisonous theocracy, completely against our natural laws, our lifestyle and our Constitution, is frankly absurd.

It is like inviting the fox, to manage the chicken's house.

The growth of the Islam in our country must be stopped, by all means, especially allowing their closed communities, certain Mosques where they preach subversion, practices against our culture and cruel treatment to women, which clashes with our culture, as the female organ ablation, for instance.

Also, it is necessary to watch closer the marriages between grown male and underage girls.

In the Koran, the marriage of nine-year-old girls, and in some cases, six-year-old, to older men in their forties and fifties is recommended; something that our society plainly rejects as abnormal and despicable.

Mohammed himself in his 50's married a six-year-old Aisha.

The Unholy Tie: Postmodern Liberalism/Islam.

The Islam adherence to the Liberals, not only is scandalous being they are opposite philosophies because in the case the Postmodern Liberal Movement could get its way, the firm determination of the Islamist will wipe out any vestiges of the initial Liberal's intentions, just because they are incompatible.

This is another proof of the Islam's Military-Political nature and a menace to the United States existence.

We must prevent the Islam's intentions of appropriating our Nation thru their religious, military and political tricks.

The well-known Richard Dawkins is no friend to Conservatives. His raucous Atheism, for decades, has clashed with many, but now, his negative comments about Christianity and Judaism are famous and his statement: that even moderate religious people "make the world safe for extremists," has earned some enemies on the Liberal's side.

He has criticized the murdering of apostates for no crime other than their disbelief in the Koran, and also denounced the appalling misogyny and homophobia of Islam, Recently, Dawkins has been barred from Berkeley University and his scheduled speech canceled.

The Left is frankly disenchanted with him because his enmity to the Conservatives is no match for his "offenses" to the Islam, which the Liberals are enamored and count with them for their "resist" movement.

Liberals are suffering from a mental disease, but mainly, the alliance with the Islam is precisely the same as inviting a Trojan horse full of Radical Islamic Terrorists to their party.

Once inside the targeted land, the horse will open up, and the radical fighters will eat up the lefty snowflakes even before they fall to the ground.

The Liberal's greed is a politician's rooky dream. They do not have the slightest idea about the Islam's intentions. This means that the Liberals are poorly educated in history. They ignore the facts that the Muslims have been carrying and exercising for fourteen hundred years.

Identity Politics, A Failed Strategy.

Since the 1970's Movement for the Human Rights and the African-American Civil Rights era, at the time, some minority groups used the Identity Politics as an aid to forming coalitions with the majority.

The feelings of oppression lead to a consciousness-raising sense that in a way helped them to advance on the recognition of their demands for equality.

Certain groups took advantage of it in the wrong way, and slowly the movement dwindled down.

However, in the Postmodern Liberal Movement today, their leaders are trying to keep it present, to exploit the Illegal aliens and undocumented immigrants, who in need of any help they could get, are seeing the initiative as golden.

However, the American Citizens, already know the melodramatic tones of the old movement and don't pay attention to their demands, mainly because they are part of the strategy to help people that violated the immigration laws by entering the US without the proper documents.

Already, Minority Leader Senator Schumer has expressed his opinion by saying: "I would not mind for the Democratic Party to get away from Identity Politics."

Author James Schlesinger warned us that for the Liberal Movement to be successful, unity was fundamental.

Certainly, in the Democratic Party there is a kind of forced integration, generated by the 2016 election results, but in the wider Postmodern Liberal Movement, the feelings are quite different, since there is no personal Leadership or even the benefits of being a legal recipient of votes.

Also, because many of its members are illegal and therefore they cannot vote, the unity is fractioned by the personal needs and desires of each group, being Hispanic, Middle-Eastern, Europeans or other denominations.

This scenery complicates the strategy, which for the moment, as a "resist" group, if it fulfills the purpose of rallying against the severely dismembered Conservative Movement, the Donald J. Trump administration (including the "never Trumpers"), and the Swamp members.

A total mess, which the President is trying to overcome and keeping his Government running.

It is evident that Mr. Trump never imagined this scene, although, knowing him, it would not have mattered or changed his intentions. Donald Trump is a fighter, and the problem for the Postmodern Liberals, Democratic Party, the Left and the Islam is: The Donald is used to win. He is a winner and has proof of it, all his life.

The 45th Presidency is for Mr. Trump his last fight, the biggest one, the mother of all fights and there is no doubt in my mind as well as in most minds in the World, that he is a serious favorite in this odd war that the Postmodern Liberals started.

The Inevitable Talk Involving The Islam.

As I was writing about the problems with the Islamic religion, in my thoughts I was wondering if the subject belonged to the issue, to the title of this book.

Many readers may be unsure of the relevance, however, after reviewing my research's results, and the actual controversies with our Constitution exposed in it, I believe they make sense and add to the Postmodern Liberal Movement's evaluation. On the other hand, all these facts substantiate my idea of a "Postmodern Liberalism Epidemic."

On my Facebook page, I have the opportunity to intervene on many blogs, mainly run by Liberals. Far from insulting or spreading fake news, I try to unite and propose unity for our country. Is not easy but that is my purpose.

The Liberal Movement used to be a decent effort to advance the ideas, bringing up new concepts and to discussing their usefulness to improve our passage thru this complex World.

However, a balance is necessary to keep the route to success.

Balance is essential to achievement in any endeavor, and our Country has managed to preserve the direction that has led us to be the most successful nation on Earth.

That is not a small performance.

As I grew up, first my parents, then my teachers, thought me that anything in the material World works because of its balance. So, it is my goal to remain in the center, as far as I can help it.

Imagine the Universes without a perfect balance. The planets and stars would be crashing into each other, and the Multiverse would collapse to a complete destruction. The annihilation is assured for our Material existence, but the creator has established a precise chronology.

The Vedas have a name for the driver of the Multiverse destruction: Lord Shiva is in charge of the Material Energy collapse and the return to the Unmanifested form.

It is not easy to imagine the Spiritual World, but its grandiosity is so powerful that just to poke at it, is an incredible feeling. I do not know how the Postmodern Liberals manage to live in a fiction world, driven by sexual desires and false emotions, which we are aware are only fantasies; illusions that like snowflakes, disappear at the touch of the ground.

POSTMODERN LIBERALISM

CHAPTER 8

The World's Twenty-One Century New Reality.

Postmodern Liberalism Movement's Task: "Destroy Trump."

In the US, matters are immensely complicated and now more than ever before, following the development of the Postmodern Liberalism, which throughout the practice of the "Political Correctness" fad, is inflicting fear of almost anything.

Political Correctness menaces people and prevents them from acting freely and truthfully. There is no room for personality or tradition.

Only the laws that the Liberals decided as correct must apply.

The Liberals are determined to take President Trump down, by any means. Destroy him. It is an obsession that goes beyond belief.

They have taken the Democratic Party, once a moderate political organization, by the guts and made out of the Congress and Senate members, ordinary bullies.

The Democrats are spending their time fabricating stories about Russian collusion and inventing every day unsubstantiated claims of wrongdoing by the President and his family. However, so far, after almost a year of speculation, they have not provided any evidence of their accusations.

They insist in dismissing the perils of the Islamic Terrorism, deliberately ignoring the past of the Islamic ideology's actions throughout history.

The old Barbary Pirates, now under the name of Radical Islamic Terrorists continue at present, the attacks in Europe and other parts of the Globe, on different styles but with the same purpose: to install a Worldwide Caliphate.

The Liberals decided to ignore the fact, and politicians like the London's Mayor, Sadiq Khan, a Muslim who also acted as a Lawyer for the Terrorists who took down the Twin Towers in September eleven 2001. After three attacks in the last three months in the UK, Mayor Khan is telling people: "no reason to be alarmed." Of course, everything is underway for the Muslims. Looking at London today, it is impossible to remember the great city it was thirty years ago. Today, it looks like Morocco or any other Islamic City.

The Muslims continue to rob us inch by inch of our ancestry, culture, and education, replacing it with nescience, brutality, fanaticism, and hatred.

This fact is one more proof of a deliberated attempt to minimize the aggressive Muslim plans to bully and kill people reminding us their power and undeniable will, seeking to dominate the World thru Politics and Military to finally force installing their religion.

Judging by the patterns used lately, it is clear that the attackers are descendants of Muslim families that immigrated to those countries, now the victims of the terrorism.

These homegrown terrorists, raised in Islamic families who are maintaining their ideology patiently waited the precise moment to act are now called: "Homegrown Terrorists."

They have a mandate from the Koran, they are fanatics about it, and that is their goal: To inflict the greatest damage possible to the "infidels."

The Postmodern Liberalism Clearing The Way For The Islam.

The Koran Against The US Constitution.

The Islam is an evil ideology to combat because is hereditary and it transcends frontiers, toward an only goal: the advancement of the Islam, a constant obsession, and for a Muslim, the only reason to be in this World.

The Postmodern Liberals ignore the history and the Islam's agenda written in the Koran, but they think they can use their power and influence to help the Liberal ideology.

Postmodern Liberals are definitively a Fascist movement.

The big problem is that Muslims have a different idea about the goals and they are also using parts of the Liberal ideology to fight the Conservatism.

However, as soon as the cake would be ready to be shared, the Islamist will take the lion's portion, and why not the whole cake, as they are used to do.

They have been doing it for 1400 years, why would they proceed now in a different manner?

Meanwhile, the Islamic Terrorists continue to destroy any reminders of non-Islamic icons in Europe and around the World. Their destructive ignorance has driven them to obliterate many archeological sites, beautiful buildings, art masterpieces and anything they encounter on the way that is not Islamic and reminds old civilizations that Muslims despise.

In America, the Liberals have adopted the ISIS technique to try to delete our history, and they are now imitating the Islamic Terrorists by destroying the old monuments remembering our Civil War and the "Confederates." It is a clone of the ISIS destroying any vestiges of Christians, Jewish, and Hindus. The same ignorance.

But we all know history cannot be deleted. It is written in history's books and the people's memory.

However, the Postmodern Liberals are applying the same "snowflake" philosophy, by protecting the "feelings" over the truth, that history reminds us.

The American People is at present in a Constitutional crisis, as we said before.

The Circuit Courts are blocking the President's Executive Orders, based on Liberal politically oriented arguments instead of following the Constitution's wording.

The majorities of Justices were appointed by Obama and are definitive of Postmodern Liberal political orientation forgetting they should be apolitical and just applying the Constitution without legislating from the bench.

By banning the executive orders written by the President, they are depriving him of implementing the Law enabling the defense of our borders to prevent the Terrorists entering the US.

The way things looks, if the Courts do not change their partisan approach and understand the need of our country to face the war that the Islam has declared against the US in 1801 and for odd reasons, it continues right now in full force, we are proceeding into a Constitutional crisis.

It is necessary to propagat the history containing the Islam's past performance but overall, their apparent plans to destroy our way of life, our Constitution, the Human Rights and all that we cherish and treasure, the product of our three hundred years plus existence and sacrifices to obtain it.

Thomas Jefferson wrote in the Constitution the acceptance of all religions as equal.

However, the Islam sets itself apart from the other faiths by denying their right to exist and claiming the absolutism of the Islam and that all Nations must abide by their rules.

The Islamist are smart, treacherous, and they have placed themselves behind the protection of the First Amendment, insisting that they be a religion, when in reality, it is an ideology that includes four tiers, well defined. As we mentioned before: 1) Trading, 2) Military, 3) Political, 4) Religion.

They act synchronized and under a plan.

They do not have morals, and everything must be used if it is for the advancement of the Islamic religion. Even heinous crimes.

Meanwhile, our Courts are still considering the Islam only as a religion, ignoring the real motifs of their intentions.

That includes the repealing of our Constitution, establishing of the Sharia Law (completely against our Constitution), the consideration of women as a second-class people and other totalitarian measures.

They are contrary to our lifestyle and present a whole totalitarian set of ideas, which makes it a Theocracy, a way of life, not just a religion as the Christianity, Judaism, or Hinduism.

I hope by now, the readers understand why I bring the Islamist case so hard and up front on this book about the Postmodern Liberalism.

The Liberals are learning techniques from the Terrorist and applying their tricks to fight the Conservatism.

When we think about our Court Justices, we might think of them as highly educated people.

However, our education system is geared to teach the students a particular subject, although History is not a favorite one.

So, many Lawyers, even Justices, lack of such information and in my opinion that is a handicap, which prevents them from having a clear understanding of some issues, especially regarding history.

The anatomy of the Islam and the Koran's mandates, which are strict orders to be obeyed by all Muslims, is one of those issues; maybe the most dangerous ones, capable of inflicting severe damage to our society and our Country.

However, to change those proud minds, might be a monumental task.

Why is Liberalism Partnering With The Islamic Theocracy?

Liberals Trying to Establish A Reckless Political Correctness.

From the reasons priorly exposed, we see both Ideologies: Postmodern Liberalism and the Islam are like water and oil. Impossible to mix. Their bases are so far apart and colliding at every sentence that it is impossible to understand they could agree on anything but that both groups have a common enemy: Conservatism.

So, as I mentioned before, the Liberals are using the Islamic Terrorist power, and the Islamist are comfortable riding the Liberal horse, that they think is going to win.

If that is true, immediately after the trophy is awarded, they will initiate a war against the Liberals to force the Islam, the Koran, the Hadith, and the Sharia Law, obliterating the Postmodern Liberal Movement. For the Islamist, they were never so close to the Worldwide Caliphate.

We also must remind that the Postmodern Liberalism is adopting many Fascist ways, as the suppression of the Free Speech at Universities and the battering of protesters from different opposing ideologies.

Also, they are implementing some of the Nazi's ideology, trying to create a genderless society, similar to the Nazis' Pure Aryan race, only with the aggravation that the Postmodern "genderless society" is an Illusion, a fantasy; scientifically impossible that could only make people sick by ingesting controversial artificial hormones.

Moreover, we cannot forget the Democratic Party's pet project: The Planned Parenthood, with its abortion clinics, killing thousands of unborn babies daily.

The situation in our Country is a political chaos that has expanded into a social unrest and a profound popular division, where the left is pushing a Postmodern Liberalism ideology. That is what we are trying to define here.

Creation vs. Evolution

The Postmodern Liberal's Alliance.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement, in its deranged race, to impose "Personal feelings" over science and tradition, millions of years of the human kind development, but overall, the greatest amount of information left in the Vedic Literature, which includes Vedic Science and top philosophical knowledge, is out of credible initiatives.

So, they are trying to implant weird ideas based on feelings, sexuality, and sexual behavior that is already proven has no incidence on the achievement of happiness or an acceptable social advancement.

Although the LGBTQ group has an undeniable right to exist, to practice their lifestyle without society judgments, it is their actions, which question an evident aggressive behavior offending many people.

The earlier stages of the LGBT Movement were considered closely linked with identity politics.

For the Gay and Lesbian issues be part of the political agenda, they had to "come out of the closet," and make public their homosexuality. By the 1980's the politics of identity became central to the LGBT movement's survival.

But also, they added a feature: Transgendering.

This acknowledgment also opened up the critique. Although they tried to modify the old standards or understanding of Universal goals, only a small portion of the World population bought the idea; the gender options could be chosen after birth? Of course not.

We know there are exceptions, which turn the identification of the sex in earlier stages of life difficult to determine, but a deep DNA study will scientifically remove all doubts.

Besides that, all scriptures and scientific studies stick to the basic idea that there are only two genders: female and male. All speculations about sex change by option are wishful thinking from deranged or unstable individuals. Gender, once established in a person, cannot be changed, period.

Treatment with hormones has proved to be dangerous and harmful psychically and physically.

The Postmodern Liberals, however, insist on doing experiments with children, a practice that is undeniably despicable and unfair to the tender kids, who at an early age are in no possibility to make a "social selection" as the grown-ups are practicing these days.

The mentioned social choice has driven thousands of people to try to operate a gender change on both sides, although the results have shown a hybrid effect, which at best, turns those people into caricatures of what they would desire to be.

I apologize if some people feel offended by my words, but it is not my intention to use my statement as offenses or mockeries. A recent picture of the Canadian Prime Minister with two transgender individuals is a sample that I am sorry I cannot show here.

As an artist, and later trained in the old Philosophical school of Vedic knowledge, I believe that there are options in life that although people can try, others can object or show disliking feelings when they are shocking to our values.

We are all humans and fallible, with a sensibility that some times we must keep for ourselves, although they could show up, impossible to hide completely. It is part of our inner self. However, bringing those feelings publicly could present some problems, clashing with others.

The Postmodern Liberals have some difficulties with the word feelings. Although they try to defend some people to be hurting their feelings, they do not mind at all to hurt the Conservatives' feelings, by throwing to their faces known offensive behaviors or fashions.

A selfish understanding of the Basic Law: "My rights end where the other people's rights begin."

Until the craze of the Identity Politics began to show, there was an understanding of respect for other people's space and even demonstration of excessive affection involving sexual overtones among traditional couples was not prudent and that practice avoided in public.

Maybe it was an extreme understanding of human behavior, so, the changes went too far, in my opinion. I do not think people should act in a way that already knows it is going to be offensive to the neighbor, purposely or recklessly.

We are in this World to share it, to enjoy it and an old standard is reminding us that we must be kind and respectful to each other. I understand many of us do not care, although we should.

The Validity Of The Vedas.

The odd coalition of Postmodern Liberals with the Left is somehow understandable, although in the beginning, being a Liberal was far from Socialism or Communism. But the recent alliance with the Islam is a ridiculous and highly controversial as we can imagine.

While Liberals supposedly are for progress, new alternatives, sexual liberation, a genderless society, multiculturalism, and other known issues, the Islam is a totalitarian theocracy, an archaic ideology in its concept, stagnated on the seventh century, practicing women discrimination, and anti-gay policies, among other features. In sum, opposite to the Postmodern Liberal thinking.

However, as it was said before, they have found a common enemy: the Democratic Conservatism, and that unites them in the fight for power.

If the Postmodern Liberal Movement, now integrated by Liberals, Democratic Party, Socialism, Communism, Anarchism, Independents and recently the Islam, would succeed in their agenda, the Islam will immediately obliterate the coalition. Because their goals are opposite to the Islamic rulings in the Koran, the Hadith, and the Sharia Law's mandates. There are no doubts about it.

We must understand the nature of the Islamic Scriptures are drastic and do not admit questions or doubts.

Moreover, challenging the Scriptures will turn a person into an apostate and therefore, under their laws, being subject to the death penalty.

However, let's analyze the philosophies involved, especially the differences with the Vedic Scriptures (not often compared to the Koran,) and the Bible, although we must remember the Vedas are Fifty-five hundred years old, at least in its Sanskrit written form.

While the Sanskrit (the Language in which the Vedas were written) is much older than the rest of the idioms, (The oldest form of Sanskrit is Vedic Sanskrit that dates back to the 2nd Millennium BCE.)

The Sanskrit Language surprisingly shows both in the roots of verbs and in the forms of grammar, coherence, and perfection, as well as in the sound. Sanskrit is spoken as a song, and its tone is extraordinarily beautiful and harmonious. It is hard to alter a document written in the Sanskrit Language because they are rhyming phrases. If changed, thus the whole meaning of the sentence or verse would change.

That is one of the assurances that the Vedas have preserved their accuracy and its original values. Because besides being correctly written, they have passed from generation to generation without any alteration, in the form of songs or hymns.

All religious books, which were written in the Sanskrit Language, thus, are the most accurate and trusted. There are no records of prior written information, in any formal Language about neither the Universe's creation nor the life on the Planet or of philosophical contents.

The Sanskrit Language is believed to be the first of its kind in our World. The rest of the prior communication idioms were without an alphabet or verb conjugation, while the Sanskrit was the first Language to have both, in the roots of verbs and the forms of grammar.

The Vedas is a voluminous compound of several books, whose texts have been meticulously preserved since ancient times (They were written at least fifty-five hundred years ago, but they have been passing by word of mouth, in the form of rhyming verses, for hundreds of centuries before they were transcribed into the Sanskrit writing.

"There are four Vedas: the Rigveda, the Yajurveda, the Samaveda and the Atharvaveda.

Each Veda has been sub classified into four major text types. The Samhitas (mantras and benedictions), the Aranyakas (text on rituals, ceremonies, sacrifices, and symbolic sacrifices), the Brahmanas (commentaries on rituals, ceremonies, and sacrifices), and the Upanishads (texts discussing meditation, philosophy and spiritual knowledge)"

Various theories are going around about how the Vedic knowledge was transmitted thru the centuries without alterations. The most trusted one is that the Vedas writings were done in the forms of Hymns, Mantras, and songs, whose rhyming prevented any attempts to change the wording, since any alteration would have changed the meanings of the phrasing, turning the pieces into some meaningless, nonsensical texts.

Therefore, the Vedas are, without any doubts, the earlier documents about the beginnings of the Universes, Scientific and Philosophical information, and religious beliefs. The mixture of data makes the Vedic Scriptures, the deepest source of knowledge, which modern science is confirming as astoundingly valid, day-by-day.

So, it is not strange that every piece of other scriptures or religious books has been based on the Vedic Knowledge, the only written point of reference at the time.

The Islamist view of nature and the Universes have borrowed parts of the Vedas and some others from the Bible, which is also based on the Vedic knowledge.

If some of the Koran's statements are also similar to recent scientific acknowledgments, it is also because those facts were announced and abundantly discussed in the Srimad Bhagavatam, a book part of the Vedas, 5,500 years old, as well as in other books, part of the Vedic Literature.

We must remember a famous Muslim phrase saying: "If you do not find it in the Koran, search the Vedas."

The Big Bang.

The Koran, as Mohammed spoke it to his friends that later put the thoughts together writing the Koran, does not state many of the scientific facts which the Srimad Bhagavatam explains in detail. Also, the violence and blood spilled in the Koran leave us serious doubts about those words coming from God. The Creator is not a "Punisher, " nor he exerts vengeance onto his creation.

The Law of Karma is very explicit about it. Any reaction follows a precedent action. So, any individual is designing its future by his/her actions.

The Vedas, give a detailed account of measurements, timing and other scientific facts that make a big difference, as far as veracity and common sense, comparing it with the Koran.

Let's remember that God is not crazy, or like Einstein said, regarding the Quantum Mechanics' ripples: "God does not play dices."

God is Science, exact and accurate and the whole creation exists and functions because everything is in place and moving at the right speed at the right time.

Both the Koran and the Bible are written in a metaphoric style and simplified.

The Vedas, although it uses plenty of metaphorical stories, have a more scientific approach, in particular on the Srimad-Bhagavatam, Fifth Canto, where many scientific facts and considerations are stated in a way that has amazed many modern scientists of today's fame and recognition because of its accuracy about the Universes.

The Vedas can pass with flares many comparisons that some of those amazing minds, the sages who wrote the texts fifty-five centuries ago did it with exceptional accuracy and clarity.

It is my strongest belief, the particle that initiated the Big Bang had to come or being originated by Spiritual energy.

The Koran is rarely compared to the Vedas. I ignore the reason. Instead, it is challenged by the Bible. The Christian Scriptures are not written in a scientific format, per say.

However, it is not my intention to have a contest here of which book is better.

Moreover, certainly, it is always good to have some comparisons to keep an exact order with a scientific base.

The Expansion Of The Universes.

It is evident, the Postmodern Liberal Movement, with its actions modifying the University's Campuses and Colleges, is trying to dismiss all these scientific facts, but especially the religious practices.

In the Postmodern Liberal's mind, there is no room for spiritual life. Their mundane existence is geared to satisfy their feelings only, ignoring the deepest meaning of the Spirit Soul, that although linked to religions, it is an acknowledgment that the body is driven by a Spirit Soul, something that Liberals are trying to deny or at least dismiss.

The Vedas, of course, totally ignored by the Liberals, are reminding us of deep knowledge that we must keep in mind.

"The heavens, we have built them with power. Also, verily, we are expanding it" (51:47). There has been some historical debate among Muslim scholars about the precise meaning of this verse since knowledge of the universe's expansion only recently discovered by modern science.

Many Koran's Scholars have said: "If you do not find it in the Koran, search the Vedas and you will find it." Moreover, this is the case here.

In the Fifth Canto, Part two of the Srimad Bhagavatam, the expansion of the Universes is not only described but detailed, naming other Worlds, described as oceans of milk, oceans of yogurt, magnificent Islands, huge mountains and other wonders, of course in a metaphoric language.

However, if you do not know the meaning of the metaphorical set-up, the complexity of the Demi-Gods' names, the divinity of Lord Vishnu. Lord Krishna and other personalities, then you probably get lost in oceans of fantastic characters, forming part of the Vedic literature.

Evidently, the Indian writers had a particular style, with tendencies to metaphors and fantastic characters, without losing the scientific view.

However, if you manage to extract the information about the facts, then you come out with a vast knowledge, based on science, with measurements that today's scientists are comparing and noting as extraordinarily accurate.

Famous Personalities Comments On The Vedas.

The Vedas are complicated to read and understand. The philosophy is high as it can be and the metaphors are as intricate as you could not imagine.

Just read eight quotes about the Bhagavad Gita (Part of the Vedas) by major personalities:

Albert Einstein

“When I read the Bhagavad-Gita and reflect about how God created this universe everything else seems so superfluous.”

Henry David Thoreau

“In the morning I bathe my intellect in the stupendous and cosmogonical philosophy of the Bhagavad-gita, in comparison with which our modern world and its literature seem puny and trivial.”

Herman Hesse

Dr. Albert Schweitzer

“The Bhagavad-Gita has a profound influence on the spirit of mankind by its devotion to God which is manifested by actions.”

Carl Jung

"The idea that man is like unto an inverted tree seems to have been current in by gone ages. Plato provides the link with Vedic conceptions in his Timaeus in which it states..." behold we are not an earthly but a heavenly planet." This correlation can be discerned by what Krishna expresses in chapter 15 of Bhagavad-Gita."

From my pen:

These quotations empower me to climb on top of such giants' and standing on their shoulders, look into space, seeing the future in a much clear way. The Vedas expanded my life to another dimension. A Multiverse.

Some Scientific Facts About The Universes.

The Shrimad Bhagavatam, also written about Fifty-five hundred years ago, give and take, states: "The entire life of the Universes is of 100 universal days and 100 universal nights. Each Universal day/night lasts for 4,320,000,000 Earth years."

"After each day, a partial dissolution would take place which starts a Universal night.

After the night is over, another partial recreation occurs, starting a new Universal day, and so on.

The destruction of the Universe takes place after the 100 Universal days/nights in which, the planetary system will collapse."

We believe the Koran, written in the seventh/eighth centuries, borrowed many parts of the Vedic Knowledge, which is O.K., although there is no recognition of it and the figures are either cloudy and open to speculation or inexact.

It is evident; God well informed the Wise men who wrote the Vedic Cosmology notes.

The Koran's writers were based on the Mohammed accounts, his spoken stories, and possibly, at the time of writing the book, out of the passion for their Master, they "enhanced" the comments or the data left by the Prophet that were already exaggerated and cloudy.

Our fact-checking indicates that all the contemporary Science "discovering" are agreeing with the Vedic Science, and many of them, therefore, are also coinciding with some of the Koran's wording, except for the differences in the figures.

The exactitude found in the Vedic Scriptures is so amazingly accurate, that contemporary scientists are puzzled by the comparison of such data, in particular with the Srimad Bhagavatam.

Consider, for instance, that "Accordingly to the Vedic cosmology, there are fourteen planetary systems in the Universes. They all have names, but we do not want to jam your brains giving you names to remember."

"The Srimad Bhagavatam locates the Planet Earth in the number seven level: Burloka, in the Bhumandala planetary system, which is partitioned into seven subdivisions. Said system, from a vast distance, looks like a flat disk.

"Now, below the 14 planetary levels, a planet named Pitriloka is located, and on this planet, is the Narakloka planetary system, a hellish one or a lower standard of existence, with 27 subdivisions, containing hundreds of thousands of planets more."

Also, "The Bhagavatam allow us to calculate the exact age of the sun and even its life span.

"The sun's creation, goes back 155,521,960,853,118 years ago, taking 2010, as the present year, and it will be dissolute 155,518,039,146,922 Earth years from now. The dissolution is being partial, as well as the light emitted by the Sun. So the appreciation viewed from different points of observation along the Planet Earth, are raising concerns and they trigger several theories about 'climate changes,' which are variations accordingly with the life of the Sun just described and recent scientists' speculation."

"In the Bhagavatam 5.12.19, it is said the Sun, in its orbit thru Bhumandala, traverses a distance of 95.000 'yojanas' (ancient measurement unit) at the speed of 2.000 'yojanas' and two 'krosas' a moment."

"The traversing distance (760.800.000 miles) and the speed of one revolution completion, comes out to be 16.004 miles per second, which is very close to contemporary science calculations,"

Darwin Theories: Do They Fit?

"Let's call it the Biological Evolution. The Vedic evolutionary theory differs from the Darwinian in that the common ancestor is a super intelligent humanoid, not a single-celled bacterium (microorganisms), as Darwin asserts."

Although this Chapter appears to be not closely related to the Postmodern Liberal Movement, I find it necessary to bring it up, because all these philosophical knowledge is part of what the warped Liberal minds are trying to dismiss.

The actions taken by the Liberal teachers of today, at some major Universities and Colleges, are tainting the scientific knowledge, and even more when is related to religious scriptures or in the case of the Vedas, Spiritual knowledge.

Therefore, there is a statement confronting Darwin's Theory:

"All species evolve from a complex form to a simple structure and not vice-versa. The product, although refined and not simple, presents a modified version that eliminates roughness. In other words, a polished version of the erratic original." "The genes of complex, mixed species contain all the necessary genetic information to build other genes of simpler species.

Also, the Vedas describe another type of evolutionary process: Consciousness! It is an indestructible unit within the body. Consciousness was never born and will never die. It is eternal. Although they are equal in qualities between each other, they display a different range of powers and abilities, which keep an individuality that makes them unique." It is rather doubtful, what some scientists' support that we might have clones of ourselves in other Parallel Planets.

It is my theory, of course not proved but making sense, even scientifically, according to the ancient Vedas writings.

"During the evolutionary process, as the evolution of forms (Physical) descend from higher to lower, degenerating in its course, imperishable consciousness, transmigrates its units from lower to higher species. For example ape to man."

The Conditions Of Matter.

"The Bhagavatam states that matter exists in two conditions:

1) Manifested, (the material) and 2) Unmanifested (the absolute). The first one: Manifested, is after the Big Bang, when the expansion is created and when the Universes will be annihilated and transformed back to the Unmanifested condition." Also: "Accordingly to the second law of thermodynamics, the entropy of an isolated system always increases." The entropy is a physical quantity, which measures the degree of disorder of a system. By experience, the entropy of a system must always increase if a system is left alone.

That means that one can create order or disorder, although, a conscious being is required to initiate the process. So, for the material to be ordered requires a conscious being. Without a conscious being behind it, the laws of physics indicate that the matter's only tendency is to increase disorder! "The trend of the Universe to continuously expand comes from the conscious being who activates matter by injecting consciousness into it."

"Hence is my theory that, the first material particle before de Bang, had to come from a spiritual energy, nonmaterial, located in the Spiritual World; and the trigger called Consciousness." (A shared link between the Spiritual and the Material Worlds.)

In the following Chapter, we will resume the postmodern plans to destroy the Western Civilization and its culture.

POSTMODERN LIBERALISM

CHAPTER 9

A "Civil War" Against the President?

Russia, Russia, Russia.

Racism, Racism, Racism.

Unbalanced, Unbalanced, Unbalanced.

Really?

First, the rant was Russia. It did not work, then, Racism, and because they are not getting the results they wanted, now the President is unbalanced, crazy, deranged. What else?

However, the problem for them is that nothing seems to stick to "Teflon" Donald J. Trump.

The Postmodern Liberals have a big problem. Nothing works, time is running, and the Democrats do not have a Candidate for 2018/2020. Not even a likely prospect. People are not stupid.

Postmodern Liberals are now furiously taking it against our history and cultural heritage at the loud cry: Racism, Racism, Racism. They "forget," as said before, that the Democratic Party General Nathan Bedford Forrest was the first grand wizard and one of the creators of the KKK, who have been against the Bill of Rights. Racism has always been in the Democratic Party's blood.

They are destroying beautiful pieces of art that remember us our ancestry, the social evolution thru the Civil War and the reality, which will not disappear by removing, vandalizing or hiding the art that remembers our history.

With the complicity of the brutal group "Antifa," utilizing the coercive techniques of the Fascism, they are destroying State and Municipal property. Those monuments have remained public for decades but now have become a weapon against the President and his views of the present violence in our country, which presents "many sides" as he expressed after the sad events in Charlottesville. It seems the Liberals consider the brutal "Antifa" group is above the Law.

Although the President has disavowed those racist groups on many occasions, the Mainstream Media keep ignoring his words, concentrating on the parts, taking out of context, to describe Mr. Trump as racist.

Obviously, this Mainstream Media is guilty of bigotry, and they are showing a highly toxic unpatriotic attitude, very dangerous and undesirable.

However, the Media could be the only solution to unify the population, although it does not seem the Mainstream Media owners are conscious enough to understand what is at stakes.

Their personal hatred against President Trump is rather insane. It is unbelievable at this point and time that our two hundred and forty-one years of successful existence are on the brink of collapsing due to a political quarrel, exacerbated by a bunch of Left hard nuts.

The Postmodern Liberals are only interested in getting their material wishes accomplished, just to learn, in the end, that happiness is not there.

The desperation to win the next elections is driving the Democrats and their violent arm, the Postmodern Liberals, insane, unhinged and out of control.

The Democratic Governors and Mayors are also contributing to the creation of an atmosphere that is taking us closer to another Civil War.

The political chaos is unbelievable and the combatant nature of our President, it seems not being of much help to appease the public fervor.

It is impossible to predict the future and only watching the events and praying for a positive resolve, is all we can do at this time. Although, in my mind, there is an increasing feeling towards a political Left wing increasingly building toward the attempt of an impeachment or an enormous pressure to force the President to resign.

However, Mr. Trump is not a quitter and rather persistent on his ideas and methods. He is a fighter, a street fighter.

It does not seem the Postmodern Liberals will ease down their behavior, which is being followed by the less educated part of the population, that takes the emotions as a principal part of the political action but also supported by the elite profiting by the Liberal's agenda.

Evidently, the hatred for President Donald Trump has taken the minds of a portion of the population that seems to find no end.

Postmodern Liberals anger is preventing the President to do his job, which apparently is working positively, showing significant improvements in our economy, our international presence and prestige and the addition of over one million jobs to the market.

As I said, the crisis is a personal one between the Postmodern Liberals and the Conservatives led by President Trump, in my opinion, a Liberal-Conservative.

The sad part is a great misunderstanding between both parts, which it seems very difficult to get to an agreement. Unwillingness to compromise.

The Postmodern Liberalism Clearing The Way For The Islam.

So, besides the internal political disarray, there is a parallel problem that constitutes a great peril.

The Islam is a very hard ideology/theology to combat because is hereditary and transcends frontiers, toward an only goal: the advancement of the Islam, a constant obsession, and the only reason for their followers to exist.

The Islamic way of life is not only a religion, although the religious part is the core of their existence, their passion and they would die defending it.

The Postmodern Liberals ignore the history and the Islam's agenda written in the Koran, although they think they can use their power to help their Liberal ideology's agenda.

The big problem is that Muslims have different goals and they also are using the Postmodern Liberal's ideology to fight the Conservatism.

However, as soon as the cake would be ready to share, the Islamist will take the lion's portion, and why not the whole cake, as they are used to do. They have been doing it for 1400 years, why would they proceed now in a different manner?

The American People is at present in a Constitutional crisis.

The Circuit Courts are blocking the President's Executive Orders, based on Liberal politically oriented arguments instead of following the Constitution's words.

The majority of the Justices were appointed by Obama and are definitive of Liberal political orientation when they should be apolitical and just applying the Constitution without personal opinions.

It is hard to see the future. The way it looks, if the Courts do not change their partisan approach and understand the need of our country to face the war that the Islam has declared against the US in 1801 and for odd reasons, it continues right now in full force, we are proceeding into a Constitutional crisis.

The Islamists are smart, treacherous, and they have placed themselves under the protection of the First Amendment, insisting that they be a religion, when in reality, it is an ideology that includes four tiers, well defined.

As we mentioned before: 1) Trading, 2) Military, 3) Political, 4) Religion. They act synchronized and under a master plan.

They do not observe morals, and everything must be used if it is for the advancement of the Islamic religion, even through heinous crimes.

The Islamist often says that they will destroy our Constitution from inside the Constitution articles. They are smart, sneaky and treacherous.

Meanwhile, our Courts are still considering the Islam only as a religion, ignoring the real motifs of their intentions. That includes the repealing of our Charter, establishing the Sharia Law (completely against our Constitution), the consideration of women as a second class people and other totalitarian measures, contrary to our lifestyle and a whole theological set of ideas which makes the Islam, a totalitarian theocracy, a way of life. Not only a religion as the Christianity, Judaism, or Hinduism.

I hope by now, the readers understand why I bring the Islamism case so hard and up front on this book about the Postmodern Liberalism, mainly because of their unconscious and reckless alliance.

A Few Issues To Be Considered.

From Google:

"The 'Free Exercise Clause' of our Constitution states that Congress cannot "prohibit the free exercise" of religious practices. The Supreme Court of the United States has consistently held, however, that the right to free exercise of religion is not absolute.

For example, in the 19th century, some of the members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints traditionally practiced polygamy, yet in Reynolds v. United States (1879); the Supreme Court upheld the criminal conviction of one of these members under a federal law banning polygamy.

The Court reasoned that to do otherwise would set a precedent for a full range of religious beliefs including those as extreme as human sacrifice.

The Court stated that "Laws are made for the government of actions, and while they cannot interfere with mere religious belief and opinions, they may do it with practices." For example, if one were part of a religion that believed in vampirism, the First Amendment would protect one's belief in vampirism, but not the practice."

Our thought:

The Islam promotes violence when: "It is written in the Koran, that all nations who will not acknowledge the Islam's authority were sinners and that it was their duty to make war upon them, and to make slaves of all they could take as prisoners." The precedent is a memorable phrase told by the Tripoli Ambassador to England, answering Presidents Adams and Jefferson, on why the Islam wanted to hurt a Nation that had never harmed them.

Not being a lawyer it prevents me from stating an affirmation of the above, but in 1801, the Constitution and most amendments were in effect, so, it is hard to see what the differences on opinions could be at this time.

Probably the Justices political affiliation could be the answer. If that is the case, our Democracy is in serious trouble and our Justice system is tainted.

Three Quotes From the Koran: a Warning Sign.

Here are just three quotes from the "Holy Koran" that justify the killing of Christians and Jews:

1) "Fight those who do not believe in Allah or the Last Day and who do not consider unlawful what Allah and His Messenger have made unlawful and who do not adopt the religion of truth from those who were given the Scripture – [fight] until they give the jizyah (tax) willingly while they are humbled. – Sura: 9:29"

2) "When you meet the unbelievers in the battlefield strike off their heads and, when you have laid them low, bind your captives firmly. Then, grant them their freedom or take ransom from them, until War shall lay down her burdens. (Sura 47:1)."

3) "They would have you disbelief as they have disbelieved, so that you may be all alike. Do not befriend them until they have fled their homes for the cause of (Allah). If they desert you, seize them and put them to death wherever you find them. (Sura 4:87)."

(Another clear criminal intent ordered to the Islamic fanatics)

The Lincoln Assassination.

One of the most infamous assassinations in history was that of President Lincoln. Lincoln sought to end slavery in the U.S., and that put him on a collision course with the entire Muslim world. The Muslims were at the time, the largest slave drivers and providers in the World.

The Democratic Party leaders were their clients and supporters of Slavery.

The Islamist Never Keep A Promise.

The second and last Barbary War was fought in 1815. On June 20, Commodore Stephen Decatur left New York with a squadron of 10 ships.

The squadron arrived off Algiers on June 28. The threat of using force was enough to force the Barbary States of Algeria, Tunis, and Tripoli to sign a peace treaty and promise never again to attack U.S. ships.

So, history tells us that the only possible win against the Islam was an open War and the people's education about the real intentions of the "Holy Koran" or the destruction of the US and any other Nation that resist surrendering to the Islamic ideology. Nothing else seems to work. Not even the repeated promises to end the violence, which the Muslims break every single occasion.

At the time, in 1815, the Barbary piracy and extortion seemed to have ended for good.

However, we all know by experience that is a big lie, like many others in the "Holy Koran." One of the weapons in said book is "the utilization of lying if it is for the advancement of the Islam." Lying is encouraged, even recommended.

The U.S. was free from the payment of tribute to Islam from 1815 to 1933 when the Oil revenues began to voluntarily paying into the Arab's economy, the Petrodollars tribute.

John D. Rockefeller and Henry Ford were responsible for the air polluting gasoline engine and for the renaissance of the Islam ideology insisting on dominating the World to impose their religion.

They abandoned the electric car, and billions of dollars (a devil in every dollar) began to flow to Saudi Arabia for the spread of the false religion of Islam around the world and in the United States.

The Hatred in the Koran is not new. They wrote it fourteen hundred years ago. No amendments.

The Ford Motor Company was a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company. Rockefeller oil billions began to flow to the corrupt regime in Saudi Arabia. The immense wealth was used to corrupt the United States, the World and open the door to the Islamic invasion, once again.

The Standard Oil Company discovered oil in Saudi Arabia in 1933. Rockefeller ordered the oil wells close in the United States and Saudi oil begin flowing into this country.

John D. Rockefeller (1839-1937).

The Islam's Renaissance In The Twenties Century.

So, the Islam continued to grow under a major corruption in the Middle East, with several dictators complicating the scene thru a series of local disputes among the different tribes as well as various ramifications of the Koran interpretation and the leader's personal styles to apply and rule the ideology.

The geographical borders often moved, modifying the political, regional map and the incidence of the Western Countries, with interests in the Oil resources, also created changing situations that kept the region in a constant state of unrest.

The downing of the Twin Towers in September eleven, 2001 made The World aware that the old Barbary Pirates, now with renewed tactics, gave way to the Radical Islamic Terrorists, under the name of Al Qaida and then ISIS among others.

The West now had the Terrorists on their soil, either by penetration of bold individuals trained in the Middle East and later by dormant cells, composed of Islamic descendants from immigrant families that arrived in the Country years ago, but they never attempted to be part of our society, our traditions, and our philosophy.

Their only idea is to impose the Islam, the Hadith, and the Sharia Law, and they would do whatever is necessary to accomplish the task mandated by the Koran. Some will be active while others will applaud in the back, loudly or quietly, depending on the situation. They are smart and experienced.

No matter how many years these Middle Eastern Muslims remain in our Country or any other, taking advantage of our peaceful daily lives, these immigrants or born from immigrant parents are determined to bring to our nation the same lifestyle that they abandoned to come to the USA, pretending to like our culture.

This fact raises a question on the Islamist people. Are they looking for a new society or they are slaves to their religion, with the only goal of spreading the Islam throughout the World as their Scriptures state.

It is evident they are indeed slaves of the Koranic mandates, and they want to destroy us because we resist accepting their totalitarian rulings. It is an ignorant way to look at philosophy, but it is their way.

I must insist on the subject, which I consider a matter of life and death to our Democracy, which the Islamist despises.

Liberals Are Trying to Establish A Reckless Political Correctness.

The Postmodern Liberal's agenda is causing a dreadful consequence in our Country. They have created a political division that has expanded into a social chaos and a profound popular hostility in our citizens. That is what we are trying to make the readers understand here.

How To Approach The Future

A Constitutional Crisis?

The Changes, Which Occurred In The Obama Administration.

The Establishment Of The Postmodern Liberalism.

Obama started and promoted a deep division. He had the plans to change the USA, and he did.

The ex-President deepened the racial unrest, the religious differences, and he opened the borders to anyone who wanted to enter the country, including potential terrorists.

Not only that but he also dilapidated our tax money by including the undocumented people in the social benefits as the Medicaid. Food Stamps, Child support, free housing, and education, among others.

To achieve that horror, Obama doubled the US National Debt, adding ten trillion dollars. More than the combined debt left by all his predecessors, the 43 prior Presidents.

Moreover, he established the Postmodern Liberal Movement who took over the Democratic Party and gave way to the Political Correctness fashion.

Obama did not cause any more damage because his term as president got to an end. A few more months and we would have had one million Middle Eastern refugees as our neighbors, all them of the Islamic religion, ready to fight for the establishment of their faith in our soil. Once again, the primary reason for a Muslim to exist is to defend and apply the Koran's mandates. We must understand and accept the fact.

We must realize that all Muslims are militants. It is their nature, their obsession and their only duty in life. So there is a slight difference between Islamist and Radical Islamist.

Thru the already mentioned Political Correctness, the Liberals are now, seeking to inflict fear into the Conservative part of the population.

The only mentioning of the word "racism" is enough to stop anyone even to breathe freely.

For the Postmodern Liberals, everything is racist, homophobic, sexist, intolerant, and Liberals, who keep accusing them of hurting people's feelings, are constantly intimidating Conservatives. They have made sentiments the most important issue, even greater than maths, biology, and even the common sense.

However, curiously, those Postmodern Liberal Movement staunch supporters, the Hollywood community, who are favoring open borders, illegal immigration, Sanctuary States, adopting refugees and other measures against Government mandates, are refusing to have those illegal immigrants as their neighbors.

However, they use them to keep their lawns beautiful, to pick their fruits and harvest their veggies at a low price.

Besides, they expect them to become citizens and keep voting them to maintain a free flow of cheap labor in menial jobs.

Despite being owners of large pieces of land, mainly in Hollywood and surrounding areas in California, no housing for poor people, illegal aliens, undocumented immigrants or refugees is to be found in their domains.

Evidently, they do not put their actions where they put their words.

A hypocritical Hollywood society makes much noise criticizing the President and his Government, while they protect their lavish living and the perks that their economic status provide, without giving an inch to those people in need.

It is well known the white population in America, still, carries the "Guilty feeling" of the slavery times. Although the initial part of the slave trading was launched by the Islamist and embraced by Democrats.

The Mussulmen used to capture black people in Africa, Christians, in other lands and selling them to the Slave drivers in Morocco and other cities, who would be sold them to the Arabs and some European countries. Later, in the seventeen century, they found clients in America, so they sold them to uneducated people, ignorant of the basic human rights or compassion for others.

Unfortunately, that belongs to a sad part of the history, and we can only improve our actions by not repeating the error.

What was done belongs to the past.

We must learn the lesson from it and overall, remember that the Democratic Party was a precursor of the slave trading.

A Democratic Party General, Nathan Bedford Forrest was one of the KKK founders in 1869 and the first grand wizard.

However, this seems not to be enough for some sectors of the Black Community leaders, the radicals looking to profit from that shameful past, despite the advancements the Black race has achieved in the USA over two centuries.

Beginning with a Black Race President, many congressional members, heads of large corporations, sports stars, movies stars and all kind of respected, successful people of black skin, the progress of the Black Race has been quite remarkable.

That does not seem enough to some Black Race leaders, now on the Postmodern Liberal Movement that is still trying to exploit the sad past for some profit, thru the "Identity Politics" which we described in a prior chapter.

At the time of the slave's trading, we now know that some free Black persons were traveling as "Polizontes" or "Stowaway," just to have a chance to improve their miserable living conditions in their native Africa's towns.

It was a desperate move to open up an opportunity to survive and make a new life for their families.

Moreover, many victims of said deplorable illegal trade, by enduring despicable actions, inflicted by ignorant, mean people, opened the doors for their descendants to have an opportunity to a new and better life in a new Nation.

Little by little the American people were spiritually growing and learning about the human rights and Democracy values.

Today, the equality is established in the USA and while under the principle of the identity, although we preserve the individuality of thinking and feeling, by law, we must conduct a visible common civil attitude.

We should not confuse this identity with the "identity politics," an excuse trying to take advantage to advancing different causes, which inevitably would hurt others.

I consider all these attempts to box various groups, isolating them to achieving some gains, an imminent disobedience to the most basic human principles, valid since the first person appeared in our World.

The principle that "My rights end where the other people's rights begin." A straightforward and truthful basic law we must obey, if we are trying to live in peace and harmony, enjoying nature's creation.

The violation of said law, for sure started the first battle among the Planet's inhabitants.

So, I do not find anything wrong teaching children to follow the rules because, without rules, we could not even have the Universes functioning. Catastrophes would have ended our existence a long time ago.

The creator established a perfect mechanics of the Multiverse, with an ending, of course, because anything material is subject to decay and eventually, destroyed as a form of the material energy changing stages since the matter disappearance is not known as possible yet. Only a transformation is plausible.

The Vedas offer a rational approach to the mystery of the Multiverse creation, its development and an eventual ending.

The US Early Enemies.

Oh, the future! So many words have been written about it, only mental speculation!

When we see the present and what the facts are projecting ahead, we can only issue theoretical predictions.

Some historical events could help us navigating thru these uncharted waters that have its roots at the beginning of a new Republic in the seventeen century named the United States of America, and the determination of a bunch of brave, illuminated men, although not near perfect that made it possible.

So, in 1786, after a brutal Civil War, the US Constitution was drafted.

Since the beginning, after the liberation from the British, the first enemy was the Islam and the Mussulmen, who thru the Barbary States and its Barbarian Pirates, impeded the attempts to establish a fair trading business thru the Mediterranean Sea, an important gate to Europe and the North of Africa.

The Muslim rulers demanded the payment of tributes to navigate the Mediterranean waters to all non-Muslims.

At a time when piracy was not a necessarily dirty word, nor a pirate was automatically a criminal, we should remind ourselves that some pirates managed to call themselves "Admirals to the Emperor" or "Admiral to the King" of France or England,

The famous King of Pirates, Alamannus Da Costa, took the title of "by the Grace of God, the King, and the community of Genoa, Count of Syracuse, and 'familiaris' of Lord King," after thrown out of Sicily by Fredrick II, he received the support of the Pope.

This example tells us that the harboring of pirates and utilization of these rogue individuals by the rulers of the World was a common practice to get some "dirty jobs" done, including some conquering or acts which would initiate a bigger scale invasion.

Usually, jailed men accused of robbing and murderers at sea would go free if enlisted under the King's name.

There were times of rampant ignorance and the few lucky individuals that by birth or simply Karma enjoyed fundamental knowledge, not always were in the political position to exercise their culture and pass it to others.

Maybe Mohammed was one of them, but his Karma was dangerous, violent, vengeful and authoritarian. So, history indicates that his Legacy, although perfect for his disciples and followers, for the rest of the World, the outcome was not a great one.

However, Mohammed managed to accomplish a monumental task, commencing a new religion, mostly an ideology, that include a religion and his choice of devotees was the lowest available at the time.

So, since the beginning, the Islam was set among derelicts, uneducated, illiterate, beggars, tribe people, nomads and some ambitious men with some education, who became the leaders.

The result of those elements put together, created a questionable religion, based on hatred, punishments for disbelief, dead to the infidels and slavery as a business.

However, the Islamic thirst for conquering the World and spreading its ideology had an incredible following, of dedicated, faithful and aggressive men.

These initial Islamic devotees were reflecting their nomadic instincts, and went out to an unexplored planet, conquering inch by inch at land or sea, slaving millions to their ideology, killing the ones who refuse to convert.

So, their clash with the United States of America was inevitable.

The Role Of Islam In The Barbary Wars.

The United States never officially "declared war" against any of the Barbary powers. Historians of the period also say that religion was not a significant factor in the Barbary Wars. Since those times, and even way before in the seventh century, there was a subdivision among the Islam, where four perfectly identifiable sectors created a murky separation that acted indistinctively for the advancement of the Islam (the religion).

The religious side was always keeping an appearance of peaceful behavior, while the combative, military side, acted recklessly disregarding Universal laws and other nations' rights to conduct business across the globe.

The Military always forced the establishment of Politics, after the traders opened the way, coming and going carrying and transferring their merchandises between the regions.

The Terrorism was born at those times, under the name: Pirates. The Barbary Pirates that bullied every ship navigating the Mediterranean Sea waters, seeking money to support the Islamic regime, the ideology.

We could be fooled if we think of the pirates as just rogue bandits. Underneath, there was a solid purpose manipulated by either the Rulers that provided housing or protection to the pirates, in retribution for their dirty jobs they ordered or allowed in partnership.

However, at the end of the thirteen-century lawyers, ambassadors, and scholar theorists made a necessary distinction, something that even nowadays in the twenty-one century it preserves its vigor. "It is not the act, nor the actor that renders itself legitimate, but the authorization."

That became part of Royal Justice: Only Lords, Nobles and the leaders of society could wage war. A questionable thought.

However, that paved the way to have two types of Pirates. The ones who were carrying the Koran's mandates, the Islam and the ones adhering to the Royalty.

To be sure, the Barbary powers were Musselman, and mentions of Islam and Christianity appear at times in the historical record. But, what historians say it is like rather than a religious war it was more like fighting the commercially motivated pirates or terrorists than religious zealots.

In depth, the concealed goal was the advancement of the religion of Islam to dominate the whole Planet and establishing a Worldwide Caliphate.

That was the ultimate achievement, disguised by the duality of the religious and the warriors (the regular Armies) and the rogues, called Pirates.

On the other hand, the Pirates adhering to the Royalty were either supporting conquerors or personal enrichment of the rulers they defended.

Maybe the historians were fooled by the background events but today, looking back, a bright picture shows the link between the Pirates and the present Islamic Terrorists. Their goals are the same: the World domination by the Islamic religion thru the sword or today's weaponry.

As indicated in the Koran, the Muslims must use whatever they find at hand to kill the infidels.

Anything Is Valid For The Advancement Of The Islam.

The latest events confirm that Muslims are encouraged to use whatever weapons are at their disposal. Bombs, knives, hatchets, even vehicles, as seen in Europe lately.

The Koran states that whoever resist surrendering to the Islam must be taken a hostage, sold as a slave, or be killed.

That is the indoctrination that every Muslim gets from reading the Koran.

All Muslims read the same books, the Koran, The Hadith and act by the same Sharia Law.

The latest terrorist attack in the UK, France and other parts of Europe corroborates it.

No need for guns, elaborated bombs (although they use them) or complicated artifacts. A truck, some kitchen knives, and a faked bomb vest to inflict fear, was enough to kill seven innocent people and wound fifty more. A homemade backpack bomb killed twenty-two young girls and other people and police officers in Manchester.

An automatic rifle in the hands of a single terrorist killed fifty innocents in Orlando, Fla. and thus goes on.

However, the Postmodern Liberal Movement tries to hide or diminish the magnitude of said attacks and other criminal acts by the Muslims.

They continuously suppress information to the press about heinous behavior by the Islamic invaders all over Europe and deflect the guilt to the actions of rogue criminals, without adding Islamist.

History Reminds Us. 1860. Abraham Lincoln.

February 27, 1860: Abraham Lincoln, a lawyer from Springfield, Illinois, gave a speech at the Cooper Union in New York City. Lincoln delivered a forceful and well-reasoned argument against the spread of slavery and became an overnight star and a leading candidate for the upcoming presidential election.

On August 27, 1859: The first oil well was drilled in Pennsylvania to a depth of 69 feet. They went to sleep with a failure, but the following morning, they discovered to be a success.

The Civil War took center stage, and in New York, the construction of the Brooklyn Bridge made a big mark into the future.

In the East, the decadence of the Ottoman Empire, lead to the temporary deterioration of the Islam, at the same time that helped to start the First World War.

The following decades were highly creative and propelled the developing of the industrial era and housed multiple political changes as the appearance of the Communist philosophy by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, that revolutionized the World like no other.

Also, the industrial revolution opened an ambitious search for new energy sources.

The Left Makes Some Deep Inroads. The Oil Craze.

The Bolshevik revolution of October 1917, which took Russia out of the war, might have ensured needed oxygen for the Ottomans, by freeing up troops from the east to go south.

However, the facts show that the Oil was a substantial part of the Islam's new life, as the supporter of an ideology, a theocracy.

The World War inarguably caused the festering sore that the Middle East is today. Unmistakably, the whole region was not prepared to handle such an enormous wealth. The uneducated population surrendered under the spell of the reckless dictators that corrupted the Middle Eastern zone and allowed other nations to deprecate the land and spread a massive genocide.

The Islam once again was on the path of destruction, now under the oil power, to undermine and submit the whole World to their rule or face death if they did not surrender.

The Islamist claim that the Islam is the religion of peace and love; but they believe that violence is needed to enforce the conversion of the whole World population to achieve the final peace (?), an aberration we need to stop and correct.

Then in 1933, the Standard Oil Engineers arrived in Saudi Arabia, beginning a journey into the desert searching for oil.

The successful venture opened an unimaginable wealth for the Arabs that nobody thought was going to be the resurging of the temporary dormant Islam, which the end of the Turkish-Ottoman Empire had left wounded but not dead.

Meanwhile, in the USA, Henry Ford, in alliance with J. D. Rockefeller helped to create a craving and a need of energy for his inventions, lead by the Ford T model.

The Standard Oil Engineers provided the Oil, in massive quantities that besides making John D. the wealthiest man on Earth, provided an enormous amount of cash to the Arabs. They invested it in the development of their major dream: The advancement of the Islamic religion and the final establishment of the dreamed Caliphate, which at the time meant very little for the greedy US Capitalists lead by John D. Rockefeller, only focused on the petrodollars.

POSTMODERN LIBERALISM

CHAPTER 10

Before We Get To The End.

A Word From The Author.

Once more, I would like to establish a few issues about the way I think and feel, and my opinions.

First of all, I am not a racist. I have been married to a part black woman. I loved her and family until she died. Also, my two closest friends in my life, which I shared a home with them at different times, are also black, musicians and we continue to be friends to present time.

I am also not a homophobic. I consider that everyone has the right to live their lives the way they choose, although I prefer not to have gay male friends. Nothing to talk about; sex appears every step of the way. I understand women much better.

However, I do consider that all sexual relationships should be kept private, including intersex ones. I do not see why we should publicly advertise our sexual preferences. I do not walk around with a sign saying "I am heterosexual" or "I like oral sex" or a similar subject.

So, I hope you understand there is no bias in me. I respect all people as far as they respect my favorite Law: "My rights end where the other people's rights begin." Simple.

I hope the readers have enjoyed my opinions or at least consider to fact check them. In which case, they will realize I do not like lying. I love the truth.

I also wish, they would understand now why the comparisons between the Post Modern Liberalism, the Islam, and the Vedas. I hope they caught the liaison.

The Postmodern Liberals opened a giant can of worms, by inviting the Islamist to aid them in the task to destroy President Donald J. Trump.

As expressed before in many ways, the Islamic ideology is completely against the Postmodern Liberal's agenda.

The Koran is against Democracy, the LGBTQ, the gay marriage, the reckless immigration, Transgenderism and other passions supported by the Liberal ideology, including the use of drugs, although, as written in the Koran, they produce them and trade them to the advance of the Islam.

Also, the Islamist will not settle for anything contravening the mandates in the Koran. They will defend their standings with their lives, as they have shown along fourteen centuries of violence and obsession to impose their way of life.

What I just said is no other than the truth, backed by history.

So, the outcome is clear for the people who love our Nation, The United States of America and its glorious past.

I cannot imagine the faces of our Founding Fathers, knowing the goals proposed by the Postmodern Liberals, and sadly, that the Democratic Party is a part of this craziness.

So, my last attempt to raise an awareness of the problem we are facing is an invitation to investigate my writing.

Fact-check my assertions, but overall, to educate yourselves by studying history: read the Koran, the United States history of the seventeen century until at least the end of nineteen century. Find out about the horrors of the Barbary States and their Pirates.

Learn about the malicious intentions of the Muslims and the specific instructions left by Mohammed, to conquer the World, install the Caliphate and force everybody to abide the Islamic Religion. That is the legacy left by the Prophet in the Hadith and what his pupils wrote in the Sharia Law after Mohammed's death, to be followed without question, under the death penalty.

Moreover, if you want to know the truth about the Universes, get into the Vedic knowledge, although you are required some experts help to understanding it.

I offer my help to understand my book, as far as I can physically provide it, thru my email: <mayavadi@aol.com>

Meanwhile, I would like to leave a sort of resume of the prior chapters so, to refresh your memories, please allow me to be repetitious.

Since primary school, I was fortunate enough to have excellent teachers. Among them, my beloved mother, Lola, always repeated to me an old Spanish Language phrase: "La letra con sangre entra", de Francisco de Goya. Whose English translation is known as: 'children should be seen and not heard' and flow in part from the biblical notion 'to spare the rod is to spoil the child.' However, my translation would be: "Knowledge must be forced into the brain, sometimes spilling a little blood." Repetition always helps to learn.

So, please, allow me to remind you and even add some words. Regarding the money and resources, the Obama Administration dilapidated courting the illegal immigrants to become citizens and vote Democratic Party are in sight eventually.

As of now, we learned the following:

From the Center for Immigration Studies

ILLEGAL IMMIGRANT HOUSEHOLD

School lunch	47.9%
WIC	22.7%
SNAP	22.4%
Medicaid	51.0%
Housing	3.8%

These numbers speak for themselves about the serious intentions by Democrats to fabricate future votes to their Party. Illegal voting as has been proved in many cases. A simple Drivers License has allowed many illegal aliens to vote. Moreover, the desperation after the 2016 election results, has increased the anxiety toward the next elections, so the creation of several Sanctuary States is being implemented at this time. They aim to protect, defying the Federal Laws on immigration, the call from the DOJ to deliver the illegals to the Federal authorities. A lack of patriotism and obedience to the Constitution is the trademark for Democratic Party's executives.

The persistence of Hillary Clinton to keep a foot in politics is a negative outcome, which the Conservatives are welcoming as a negative feature for the Democrats.

Postmodern Liberals And The Drug Culture.

We must remember that Vladimir Lenin, in his 1913 Decalogue, in the first item says: "Corrupt the youth and give them absolute sexual freedom." This is the first step to the corruption of society and a libertine behavior dear to the Left.

We might hate Lenin, but we must acknowledge his expertise in the manipulation of people.

I must also add a subject I did not bring on prior chapters.

The Postmodern Liberals, including the Democratic Party, are staunch supporters of the liberal use of drugs and that might be the reason for insisting with the open borders, especially with Mexico.

We all know the Mexican border is an open call for illegal immigration (now lowered 79%, since Donald Trump is in office.) Also, for the entrance of all kinds of drugs which Mexico produces and also allows entering the country from all over the world as a bridge to the USA.

In addition, the Southern border is an easy pass to Terrorist, which we do not even have a clue how many are already in the country. They might be dormant cells just waiting for an opportunity to act. Mosques around the country and Muslim neighborhoods might be hiding many of them as they have done in the past.

The Postmodern Liberals are in fact, active promoters of the recreational drug use. In places like Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Detroit, Florida and many other big cities, a Straight person cannot even go to a Club or Party anymore, because unless they use drugs, they could not "interact" with the rest of the crowd.

The City of Los Angeles, the second most-populous city in the United States, has more people in poverty than any other big city in the US. However is the strongest Liberal's bastion and insisting in allowing millions more illegal immigrants.

The ONG's theory is that the influx of immigrants has many of them working for less money than the legal citizens. The "Limousine Liberals" are enjoying the scene, having servants for much less money.

The drugs are a combination of boredom and loneliness.

Drug users tend to isolate people who do not use the multiple drugs they do. They call them Straight Edges and even discriminate the weed users, whom they identify as "Pot Heads." Evidently, the weed use is not as damaging as hard drugs. Although they can have their own private party within the Party concentrating in the music, I was told.

Conservatives also use drugs; it seems, in a lesser amount and frequency. It is also known as Weekend users. They dedicate the weekdays to work hard and they "decompress" using drugs on the weekends. Some affirm that in that way they control the addiction. (?)

The list of drugs youngsters use at concerts or night parties, after hours or day Parties, is so long that I will not even consider publishing it here.

They use them to get high, to get low, to have sex, and even to pass out, among other goals. Some of them, especially the synthetic ones are extremely dangerous and capable of killing the user. It is a self-deprecating culture, unfortunately, not decreasing.

Drug use is intensely more popular among the lower income or non-income neighborhoods, as well as the crime rate that it is extremely high in cities like Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore and Washington DC.

Not only the drug use is a consistent problem, but the killings to own the territories among the drug dealers, has reached unusual peaks hard to believe.

However the most worrying is the Opiates epidemic because it is based on prescriptions by certified doctors. The professional healthcare individuals are prescribing opiates like it was aspirin.

Some doctors are abusing their power for a mere income improvement, disregarding the damage occasioned to their patients. And I guess others just because they ignore other means to manage pain without addicting drugs.

In my personal experience, suffering from Spinal Scoliosis, after trying pain killers, a smart Doctor offered me a treatment with "Radio Frequency," an electrical impulse transmitted thru a needle right to the spine which numbs the nerve being oppressed in a way that for at least six months there is no pain. In my case, the last therapy was done a year ago and still, I do not feel pain at all. Said therapy, I discovered it works better when in the morning one takes a shower and holds the very hot water to the region affected for 15 minutes. That will "tune-up" the body for the whole day. It is a wonderful feeling without taking any drugs.

I believe Doctors need to continue their education searching for new ways to alleviate the patient's pain without hooking them to dangerous, addicting prescriptions.

President Trump is determined to revert the issue and has even offered Federal help to improve the situation, but the Democratic Mayors and Democrats in Congress are setting roadblocks that slow down the President's intentions.

Postmodern Liberalism is, without a doubt dispensing a culture, contrary to our traditional understanding of Democracy.

The Democratic Party Congress People, do not seem to have a clue on how to leave the rabbit hole. For the sake of our Democracy, I hope they will take the red pill.

It would be very negative, if the Democratic Party insists on going deeper into the Left, disregarding all the experience of so many countries in the World that had suffered adverse experiences from going that way.

The Democrats are in desperation, and the Liberals are not helping. They are the ones dragging the Democratic Party to the point of no return. The insertion of Communist, Nazi, and Fascist techniques, although of contradicting philosophies, are proved not to be a solution for anything. Besides, Marx and Engels were never that wrong and outdated at this time.

The US path to Democracy and a strong Republic, following our Constitution is the way to keep going thru a successful future.

It is imperative for US Patriots, supporters of our Constitution, to stand up and fight these crazy attempts to follow the example of European countries by the Postmodern Liberalism, when we can see the abundant TV videos, collapsing and entering a social, religious and institutional chaos, right before our eyes.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement In Action:

Their Plans To Destroy Western Civilization.

Here Is Where The Liberals Are Pushing To Do The Most Damage.

The Postmodern Liberal Movement's Alliance:

The Liberals have weaved a net against the Conservatives who defend Western Civilization, the most beneficial influence in our World to this date.

Of course, like anything in this material World, it is not perfect. The balance left by the Western Civilization is highly positive, and among the benefits to our culture, are the greatest advancements in Human Rights, the end of slavery, the progress of sciences and technology, the education efforts, and the positive improvements in human relations.

Liberals, on their part, are ignorant and irresponsible accepting the Islam as an ally, to help in the fight against the conservative movement. I have shown many details on prior chapters.

They are also siding with Communism, Socialism, Anarchism, and the LGBTQ movement, in an evident attempt to disrupt the Conservatists.

Conservative people, not used to such a bully crowd, is slowly reacting to the onslaughts from the Left, although their peaceful nature, is moderately reacting to the attacks, especially after the monumental failure of the Democratic Party to hold the White House, the House of Representatives, the Senate and many Governorships.

The losses have been significant, and they continue to lose election after election in 2017, despite millions of dollars spent in the effort to win.

The political strategy the Democrats have chosen, always attacking the President personally, has been preventing them from focusing on the real important issues the people want to hear and learn.

In the beginning, right after the 2016 Election, the embattled Democratic Party's members, saw the Liberals as an attractive aid to their "resist" attitude, welcoming the aggressively disrupting groups "Black Lives Matter," as a valuable aid to fight the Republicans and obstruct all their attempts to govern. Then came the "Antifa," a Fascist group, masked and armed to war.

The Postmodern Liberals, which include the "Black Lives Matter" and the "Antifa," in a raging fashion, immediately took over the leadership, which by the way did not show a clear individual at the head, and at present remain headless and masked. They are believed to follow George Soros and domestic terrorist Bill Ayers, of Weather Underground.

The Democratic Party, manipulated by the Postmodern Liberal Movement is displaying a total lack of leadership, an obsessive dedication to destroying President Trump, showing a complete absence of ideas to regain the people's favor, thru big issues and especially, an active leadership. Only the lamenting, sorrowful Hillary remains crying on her books. I am glad she is not our President.

Violence is their only way.

The Mainstream Media: lead by CNN, MSNBC, Washington Post, New York Times, CBS and many others are also siding with the Liberals, by leading a negative propaganda against the Conservatives, especially on the President's figure, his family and team.

The Colleges Directors, the Faculty, and Administrators are disrupting the Campuses and their practices in favor of the anti-Conservatives.

We must remember the Democrats, in the past, have supported or even helped to create movements like the KKK.

The Party has been over the years a staunch champion of the Slave ownership, and the Civil War was evidently fought between the Lincoln supporters to abolish Slavery and the Democratic wanting to maintain the Slave trading, among other issues.

The Republican Party was known in the past as the "Black People's Party" while the Democratic Party was labeled as the White People's Party. Then in the sixties, J.F. Kennedy managed to shift the balance, influenced by Martin L. King, as explained in Chapter 2.

Here We Are Now:

With the Postmodern Liberals taking hostage the Democratic politicians, exacerbated by an independent Socialist Bernie Sanders, without an apparent Party leadership at sight.

Liberals are demanding that race, gender, ethnicity, and other sensitive social issues be revised and weirdly updated to please an elite of University teachers, mainly LGBTQ, Communist, Socialist, Anarchist, pro-illegal aliens and non-white folks.

They have established an all out war against white-male people, which they accuse of being poisonous and oppressive or "white supremacist" as they like to label them.

In a total craziness, the Postmodern Liberals have assumed the political leadership in the Democratic Party, embraced by weak Democratic individuals, lacking an attractive political platform to push forward, and are counting on the grassroots activists from the Left, to campaign against President Trump.

Meanwhile, the President continues to try governing under an incredible negative pressure, even from some members of his own Party, the Washington Establishment, and the so called "never-trumpers."

The Mainstream Media completes the vilification of the President, by hiding his accomplishments, magnifying his questionable acts and lying, inventing fake news every day.

Lying has become the favorite word, and the act of lying is no longer to be taken as a strong word, at least in the Postmodern Liberal or Democratic Party's mouth.

They have adopted the Nazi Joseph Goebbels' propaganda style, which repeating a lie hundreds of times, will become true, and that is what they try to do throwing lies at the President.

In their insanity, the Postmodern Liberals have allowed the group named "Antifa," a paramilitary militia of masked individuals, brutally aggressive, rampaging thru the cities, hurting peaceful Conservative protesters.

They wrongly label their victims as "White supremacists" although the latest examples show they are beating groups of peaceful demonstrators claiming "Love and Peace" led by Republican African-American descendants.

Black Lives Matter.

Who Are The Bullies?

The group "Black Lives Matter," is by any means, the most racist organization assisting the Democrats.

Appearing to fight racism, they are showing a racist reversal attitude as never seen before. The group's violent standing against the Police Departments, with the infamous rant: "Pigs in a blanket, fry'em like bacon," only shows hatred and ignorance to people, Police Officers of mixed races, putting their lives in danger to defend mainly the poor neighborhoods' folks.

In their violent riots are demanding to kill cops, they are destroying public and private property, and have been a menace to peaceful citizens, intimidating, and preventing them from assisting the Republican rallies.

Although the leaders affirm they are not racist, they have been organizing rallies where they publicly advertise that only people of color are welcome, discouraging any other races to join them. This is precisely, what makes a group racist.

Obama has invited them to the White House, Hillary praised them, and the Democratic leaders consider them an ally.

There is plenty of data available confirming what was just said. A racist organization.

The Real Fascists: "Antifa."

This group, who appears masked, with an unknown background, is showing a total Fascist attitude.

They are using the same tactics Benito Mussolini's original "brown shirts" utilized in the forties; they prevent citizens from exercising the free speech, they are violent, using shields and other deadly weapons to intimidate people and engage in destructive behaviors.

Although they are voicing an anti-Fascist rant, they are the ones who violently prevent Conservatives from speaking in public. They are the Fascists.

The recently canceled free-speech events by Conservatives at Berkeley University Campus are proof that also the University's faculty has the same Fascist approach.

The movement is a clear anti-intellectual, bigot and anti-democratic branch, now a part of the Democratic strategy to combat Conservativists.

It reminds the old Mao Tse Tung philosophy, building the Chinese Communist Totalitarian Party, which as we might remember, Mao, deprived the Chinese people of the most fundamental liberties.

So the "Antifa" is a mixture of Communism, Anarchism, Fascism and Nazi ideologies, working tightly with the Postmodern Liberals and the Democratic Party, but in addition, they are a racist band against non-black citizens.

The masking appearance shows the dark intentions in their minds.

"Berkeley Mayor Jesse Arreguin (registered as an "Antifa" fan on Facebook) said: It is time to classify Antifa as a gang because of the brutal attacks against peaceful supporters of President Donald Trump Sunday."

Democratic speaker Nancy Pelosi is beginning to realize the "Antifa" is not doing any favors to her Party and declared them "criminals."

However, the "Antifa" group continues to crash in the Conservative rallies, while the Municipal Police is ordered to "stand down," in a blatant favoritism with the Postmodern Liberals. The former Vice-Presidential candidate Tim Kaine has endorsed the "Antifa," because he has not enough data of them.

The Mainstream Media Help To The Cause.

The Mainstream Media has ruined the opportunity to unify the American Citizens big time. Instead of doing a patriotic service supporting the new Government to improve our lives, has engaged in a partisan agenda, full of lies and fake news. A shame but unfortunately true.

When we think the Social Media has ruined all kinds of printed publications and reduced the market in a way that many old big outlets went chapter eleven, we realize there is a crisis in the industry.

So, in the numbers, we can see an ever-declining clientele, but the leading publications' negative attitude toward the Conservatism shows a declining popularity. We do not know how long these practices will stand.

A wise investor at this time probably won't put its money into any ventures supporting the Democratic Party, or the Mainstream Media.

Their negativity is being so blatant that only fools or fanatics will not see it.

The polls are showing the Mainstream Media only holds a merely 17% of popularity, except Fox News, which shows a higher figure and has been at the top for 16 months in a row.

Meanwhile, they continue to issue fake news, trying to destroy President Trump and his Government.

Moreover, now, even some Sports channels have engaged in such a negative propaganda against President Trump. We have learned those channels are also losing audience rapidly.

Hollywood Revenues were losing 70% In The Last Year.

Hollywood production companies, staunch supporters of the Postmodern Liberal Movement and the Democratic Party, are also in a predicament. The Theater's revenues are showing a decreasing interest to see the Hollywood product, of evidently Liberal contents or perhaps the audience, decided not to support the Hollywood elite, who engage in hateful attitude against the President.

The Hollywood "Limousine Postmodern Liberals" are in trouble.

It is a common belief that Republicans are discouraged to pay their hard earned dollars to see films made by individuals that are helping the Democrats continuing a campaign to discredit the President and promoting Postmodern Liberal values featuring LGBTQ issues especially the transgender practices.

They might not do it on the screen, but people know their side attitudes.

However, the loyal Mainstream Media is ignoring the facts and keep publishing fake news, although people are slowly finding out the truth.

It may be difficult to see the reality, by only watching the actual situation.

However, I do believe the deteriorating trend will show in the results of the 2020 election, or maybe we might also have a hint in 2018. It is all a matter of time.

Abraham Lincoln was saying: "You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time," It is still valid.

It seems anyone linked to the Postmodern Liberals and the Democratic Party is going bankrupt, although it may not show in the polls, yet the majority of pollsters are allied to the Liberal movement.

However, if you take a look at the Democrats finances, they show a deficit and worse, an inability to raise money, as they used to do, contrasting with the GOP, which shows a much better performance. Individual Republican donations are made of fewer than one hundred dollars.

Moreover, the evident lack of likable and exciting leadership is showing, in particular with the persistence to keep exalting Obama as a model, when he is unable to perform any Government administration jobs. A terrible mistake which prevents the development of other future leaders. It is a trap; the Democratic Party built for itself.

The lackluster showing by the DNC is pretty bad. The party has $10.2 million in cash-on-hand, compared with $39.2 million in GOP coffers.

The Influence Of The Social Media Changed Our Lives.

Many of us can still remember when without Social Media, there was a more friendly relationship among the US citizens.

Because the news traveled much slower, and the availability of opinions was just a fraction, compared with today's, the motivation for discrepancies and quarrels were not as prominent as nowadays.

Today, enmity is, unfortunately, a familiar feeling, friends "unfriend" old pals because of political differences and the insults are more common than a salutation.

However, it is encouraging seeing an improvement in Texas Louisiana and Florida, where the reduced Internet Services due to the storm and flooding, has brought people together in an old fashion style, welcomed as a significant hope for the future. Also, the President's approval rating has experienced a bump from, 36% to 46%, due to the Government's effective action helping the storm's victims.

We should learn from the disaster, and adjust our hatred into tolerance, maybe putting together the Country, family, friendship, and neighbors before the partisan disagreements turning into hate.

We have some homework to do, and we better do it fast.

Unfortunately the Postmodern Liberal Movement together with its ramifications, it is creating troubles, which we must scrutinize and find out the core of it.

To solve a problem, we must identify it first and then work to fix it. I hope I have explained the many aspects of said toxic ideology and we might be able to evaluate a solution to it, which includes the improvement of our Conservative ideology, to show the differences, if we can find a powerful outlet to get it out.

Meanwhile, the Democratic Party needs a soul searching, a frank discussion about their ideas and stop being only an obstruction machine.

What Lies Ahead.

Although the Economy is at best, Unemployment is the lowest in fourteen years. The Trump Administration has created over one million new jobs, and the median income is the highest ever.

Wall Street has broken 36 records in 2017, reaching the mark of 22.108, and the Illegal immigration has decreased 79%, the furious charges against the Trump White House by the Postmodern Liberals, continue to pound harder and harder, in the worst witch-hunt against a President, in history.

Also, the Postmodern Liberal Movement continues a deranged campaign, which includes the collection of 600.000 signatures in the State of California, to attempt leaving the United States and becoming a separate country within our land.

In New York City's Time Square, the Mayor Bill De Blasio has instructed the NYPD, not to ban or detain dozens of women, illegal aliens, who completely naked solicit money to tourists to have their pictures taken, making a "bordello like" scene.

Also, some other illegal aliens, dressing as fake famous cartoon characters, are a scammers plague which prey on tourists, giving NYC main point of reference appearing as a third World market place.

There are no doubts, the Liberals want the destruction of the Western Civilization, and our Nation converted in a Third World country, without borders, laws and a paradise to the Illegal aliens, Islamic Terrorists, and Leftist ideology.

The MSNBC commentator Joy Reid, recently appear on cameras instigating racism against white people, while asking Democrats to declare Whites, their enemies.

If this does not look like a pre-Civil War, I do not know what would it be.

The seriousness of the United States situation is to be considered grave, if not worse.

While a portion of the population, mainly the Trump voters, keep their allegiance to the President, there is another part of it, the Postmodern Liberals, instigated by the Mainstream Media and the Democratic politicians, who became foes. The Hollywood elite and the hardcore LGBTQ leadership, who are stepping on the gas, trying to accomplish their major goals, are seconding them. The destruction of our Nation, as we know it, the desecration of the Western Civilization and the attempt to have a complete sexual freedom, to pollute the minds of children and youngsters.

This is the number one item in the 1913 Lenin's Decalogue, as described in Chapter three.

I might sound like an ultra-Conservative, although I consider myself a Liberal-Conservative who believes in new ideas and exploration, with a measure, preserving the Conservatist bases. We should not forget, the roots planted by the Creator are the foundation, and we must have them, wisely present at all times. The Framers worked around those bases and did a wonderful job, which we must emphatically preserve.

Let's make clear that the original Liberalism has been the predecessor of Fascism and Nazism. The issues are amazingly similar; equal in many cases.

An intellectual progressivism was the inspiration for the Italian dictator Benito Mussolini and his Fascist Party, but the word Liberal or Liberalism is nowadays in the USA a prostituted expression to symbolize something corrupt, mean and undesired, socially and politically.

The Postmodern Liberalism is pushing a complete uncontrolled sexual behavior which is part of the Illusory energy; the fantasy generated by a dependence on the sexual practice and the frustration of not being able to achieve full happiness practicing it, not even a steady satisfaction.

In addition, they promote the transgenderism as a valid option. It is scientifically known to be only an illusion, a fantasy life which people can assume if they want it, but that will not alter the fact: Gender change is only a fantasy since genders are not exchangeable after birth.

But the outrageous addition to the insanity already in practice is the latest attempt in some schools for young children, even kindergarten, is the forced education about transgenderism, to children younger than five-year-old, which has most parents being scandalized by such abnormal and hideous behavior.

Transgenderism, of course, is the paroxysm in it! An illusory handling of the genders is attempting to disrupt our society by forcing to accept a "genderless World," an abhorrent understanding of God's Creation, and against the scientific knowledge.

As I said before, I do not mind that Transgender might desire to live in an illusion, as far as they accept the fact that it may be real only in their minds, but not for the rest of us.

The Islamic Devastating Menace.

At last but most important, is the Postmodern Liberals invitation to the Islamist intervention in our politics, being that their philosophy is totally against our Constitution, lifestyle, and Democracy. Islamists hate Democracy.

Besides, the Islamist dream is the annihilation of our Constitution and Democratic-Republican values, already written in the Koran.

By the Postmodern Liberals inclusion of the Islamist in their policies, they are practically giving out our hard earned Liberties and Human Rights to the Muslims.

The Islam's experience of 1400 years plus, conquering parts of the World, is a sample to be taken seriously if the Postmodern Liberals would achieve success.

The Islamist will immediately take over, even exercising violent tactics as we have already seen by the Islamic Terrorists.

Also, it is an incomprehensible attitude of several Judges, who keep insisting in defending the Islamic people, based on a wrong understanding of the Constitution's First Amendments on Religious rights. As expressed before, the Islam is not only a religion, but a way of life who happens to include a religion, but they are also a Trading Nation, a Military Power, a Political force, working tightly together to impose a religion: The Islam. Also the main supporters of Islamic Terrorist activities.

So, the leadership acts accordingly with the situation and taking advantage of our Constitution. They affirm and say it out loud that they will destroy our Nation acting from inside our Constitution articles.

The Islamist already have learned how to take advantage of our Charter, our Democracy and Bill of Rights, which they openly mock and criticize, while at the same time use it against us. A clear sample is their consistent pounding on our citizens. The Muslims come into our Country, have children, they get educated in our Government school system and wait the precise moment when they can hurt us with rifles, guns, knives, domestic bombs and even vehicles they use to ram people down. They take advantage of our food programs, healthcare, social services; they build Mosques to utilize them to gather terrorists who plan attacks against our people, while they deprecate our lifestyle.

Our Justices, acting politically, instead of impartially applying the Constitution are siding with the Postmodern Liberals trying to convert our Nation in a Third World country, with open borders, planning a massive import of illegal aliens who would vote for their crazy ideas against Conservatism and push a pro-Socialist/Communist ideology.

I only hope God protects us from something like that to happen. However, we have to be active and vigilant to defend our Nation from our enemies.

We need to have present at all times the Islam is the only lifestyle, which is against the rest of all civilizations. Besides, by being a four-part system: Trading, Military, Political, and Religion, whose only goal is the World domination, the slaving of people who will not accept their religion and a complete oppression of women, paradoxically against the LGBTQ group, which they keep killing.

If the Islam gets to be a part of the Postmodern Liberalism, be sure, in the end, they would institute a Worldwide Caliphate, and that will be only a step away from the World's domination. It will be in an even worse result we would have had, if Hitler, Stalin or Mussolini had gotten their way.

I cannot imagine our weaponry system and Military under the Islamist power.

Liberalism definition varies among the different countries or regions in the World like probably no other term in politics does.

However, the Postmodern Liberalism, as we described it here, is the worst possible.

The American people have today, an incredible opportunity to come together, over politics, races, religions, and cultures, to preserve our Western Civilization, improve it and renew it for the benefit of all the World population.

If we take a look at the Ronald Reagan and Bush's era and compare the smooth racial relationship, even the LGBTQ's attitude, we realize that we have lost quite a bit thru the Obama's years.

But, enough is enough. If we do not observe certain common sense rules and adopt a wise behavior, we might fall into the abyss and spoil what God has given us to enjoy.

The Planet Earth. Mother Earth, and the Spirit within.

However, especially, a healthy leading Nation, who for 241 years has led the Free World thru the brave Ocean of Life.

Although “the only permanent in life are changes,” equilibrium must be kept to continue the victorious path.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

J. Pelegrin creative history goes back to the beginning of the group “LOS 4 BRILLANTES”, formed in Uruguay in the 60’s: Yvonne <Lead Singer> Roberto <bass>, Ricardo <guitar> and me, Jorge <keyboards>. Then, a little later we added Hector (drums), who accompanied the Group and later was an integral part of it until the end, by 1970’s.

They began playing and singing in Uruguay, their homeland, traveling to Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Venezuela, Perú and landing in Mexico, in 1964, where they remained until 1970 when decided to go separate ways.

Jorge got employed by CBS Columbia Records Mexico as a Producer-Artistic Director. After two years, working for the label, having produced several successful projects, encouraged by his Boss, he decided to move to New York, where he founded a successful future. Jorge’s relationship with New York City was “love at first sight.” Since 1974 to the present has been his home, except for eight years, between 1989 and 1998, were he had to take some time off to attend to family matters, back in Uruguay.

New York City, has been a great deal Jorge’s life. It brought him the opportunity to develop himself into a better musician, a writer, and a better person, giving him the recognition and success in the English Language market, that to these days had helped him to complete many of his dreams, including writing Newspaper articles, books, and making movies. He is very grateful to New York City and its people.

In New York, he had the fortune to have produced five hit records for the American Market and some others in the hit parade top 40's: "WALKING DOWNTOWN," featuring "Black Ivory," "IF YOU WANT ME," by "Ecstasy, Passion & Pain." "FEEL GOOD, PARTY TIME", by J.R.Funk & the love machine." "ROCK YOUR WORLD", by "Weeks & Co" and "I DON'T WANNA LOSE IT", featuring "Wayne Cooper", former late "CAMEO" lead singer.

In 1998, returning to his beloved City of New York, destiny took him thru various ways until he came back to his heart and soul: the music. In 2005, with best friend Sue Samuels, a dancer, choreographer and multi-talented NYC icon, they approached something new. They began to write a; Broadway-bound Musical Play, (THE DREAM FACTORY).

By 2008, they finished the writing and composing the music and lyrics. Some Broadway producers, read the script and listen to the music of the play and immediately showed interest in producing the show. They offered to assign an expert budget director and Executive Producer, thinking on a production budget of 5 million dollars and the request to do it fast since they needed to replace their fading Broadway play: "SPRING AWAKENING," after seven years on stage.

Unfortunately, 14 days later, the Real Estate "Market Crash" surfaced. Jorge and Sue received a notice saying that due to the World's economic situation, the project had been postponed indefinitely (All the investors were people affected by the Wall Street collapse). The market crash shattered their dreams.

Dented by this disappointing fact, Jorge began a life reorganization, which besides the Musical Play setback, that leads Jorge to his personal life collapse, ended in a bankruptcy and three consecutive brain strokes.

Changes in the entertainment market took him to other new ways, were taking advantage of the Electronic Music escalation, he began to produce Music Videos, Film production and, combining his music creativity, the writing and the new visual aspect of it.

He released his first Music-Video production on Youtube, by April of 2012. Being that the Music business is in frank decadence, the music production has fallen to an unrecognizable mediocrity. A few productions in today's market have a decent quality and the rappers, managed by obscure characters who own most record labels or managed to merge with unscrupulous big Media Corporations CEO's, have monopolized the pop music market, it became irrelevant to keep producing music for the American Market as a way of living. Instead, the book industry has begun to pick-up, and Jorge now dedicates his time to the book writing. He has written a Musical Film Script, with 23 original songs, titled: DREAM FACTORY, selected by the 2015 Beverly Hills Film Festival, as the best Musical. Then, he wrote a political/Religious book: "SAVING AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL, and a Fiction Novel: DEATH IS ONLY AN ILLUSION, on Amazon Books.

Other Books by J. Pelegrin:

“URUGUAY PUERTO LIBRE” in Spanish Language. an essay on local Uruguayan economy.

“DREAM FACTORY”, a Musical Film Script, Selected as the best Musical at the 2015 BEVERLY HILLS FILM FESTIVAL. Include 23 original songs.

“SAVING AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL”, a “current affairs” narrative about my arrival to New York City, the process of integrating to the community, my progressive interest in politics, and the Donald Trump stomping the grounds in the political arena. The problem with the Islam insisting in replacing the Constitution with the Sharia Law and the issue with the open borders. I predicted the election’s result on the July 4th, 2016.

“DEATH IS ONLY AN ILLUSION”, my latest Fiction Novel.
